PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW UNDERGRADUATE CERTIFICATE

1. Overview

Provide a brief description of the new certificate.
The Leadership in Business Certificate is designed to help students understand the concept of leadership, to cultivate their leadership identity, and to understand how the development of their leadership skills will impact their professional development. Through completion of this certificate program, students will develop a strong set of skills necessary for success in a dynamic workplace, such as communication, teamwork and collaboration, and problem solving skills. The certificate requires 6-credits of identified leadership coursework, 9-credits of elective leadership and cultural competencies coursework, and completion of 4 required experiences that offer the development of skills that are essential to being a strong business leader. Required experiences include professional development, leadership development, and community awareness. The program capitalizes on the expertise of award-winning faculty and strong, leading edge research in the fields of leadership and collaboration within the W. P. Carey School's Department of Management.

This proposed certificate (check one):
☐ Is cross disciplinary; or
☐ Is certified by a professional or accredited organization/governmental agency; or,
☐ Clearly leads to advanced specialization in a field; or,
☐ Is granted to a program that does not currently have a major.

Why should this be a certificate rather than a concentration or a minor?
The Leadership in Business Certificate is being proposed as a certificate because it enhances the undergraduate experience and is meant to develop the student professionally through academic requirements and additional co-curricular requirements. It is open to all business majors and does not have a focus of study in a single discipline; therefore, it is not suitable as a concentration or a minor.

Affiliation
If the certificate program is affiliated with a degree program, include a brief statement of how it will complement the program. If it is not affiliated with a degree program, incorporate a statement as to how it will provide an opportunity for a student to gain knowledge or skills not already available at ASU.
The Leadership in Business Certificate is not affiliated with a degree program. The certificate offers undergraduate business students the opportunity to enhance skills that will help them succeed as leaders in the workplace, while also having a positive impact on their community. A unique feature of this certificate is that it requires students to put into practice through various outlets the soft skills and competencies they are learning in the certificate's required courses and electives. Through academic requirements, students will develop team, communication, and leadership skills, as well as gain a deep understanding of how to use them. Through experiential requirements, students will put into practice many of these skills while serving as community leaders, further developing those skills. This opportunity for a long-term academic leadership program does not currently exist for business students.

Demand
Explain the need for the new certificate (e.g., market demand, interdisciplinary considerations).
The Leadership in Business Certificate will provide business students an opportunity to formally articulate the skills they have acquired through curricular and co-curricular experiences. By fulfilling both sets of requirements for the certificate, students will gain and enhance skills employers demand. According to the National Association of Colleges and Employers, the most sought after attribute of a potential employee is leadership. This is followed by attributes such as problem-solving skills, ability to work in a team, initiative, and strong work ethic, all of which can be demonstrated by completion of the certificate's requirements – coursework, internship, student organization executive board position, college or university student leadership role, and additional awareness activity such as study abroad or community service. The demand for this certificate program stems from the need for students to understand the transferability of their skills to the workplace and their ability to communicate them to potential employers.

. Support and Impact

. Faculty governance
   Provide a supporting letter from the chair of the academic unit verifying that the proposed certificate has received faculty approval through appropriate governance procedures in the unit and that the unit has the resources to support the certificate as presented in the proposal, without impacting core program resources.

. Other related programs
   Identify other related ASU programs and outline how the new certificate will complement these existing ASU programs. (If applicable, statements of support from potentially-affected academic unit administrators need to be included with this proposal submission.)

   The College of Public Programs offers the Leadership, Ethics and Service certificate program, which is focused on servant leadership. This program is highly selective, with a cohort of 20 students per year. The Leadership in Business Certificate is an opportunity available to all undergraduate W. P. Carey students, and offers flexibility in which courses they take and when they are taken.

   The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences offers the Certificate in Political Thought and Leadership, aimed at developing strong state and national leaders. The Leadership in Business Certificate is a fine complement to this as it is geared toward developing leadership skills to be used in business practices.

. Letter(s) of support
   Provide a supporting letter from each college/school dean from which individual courses are taken.

   All required courses for the Leadership in Business Certificate are from the W. P. Carey School. Approval of the Dean of the W. P. Carey School of Business is on the cover page of this proposal.
3. Academic Curriculum and Requirements

A. Knowledge, competencies, and skills
List the knowledge, competencies, and skills (learning outcomes) students should have when they complete this proposed certificate. Examples of program learning outcomes can be found at (http://www.asu.edu/oue/assessment.html).
