TSAMTABAS

Requested effective date: 2015-16

Select the catalog year for which students can begin applying into this program with the new name.

Note:

1. Name changes can only be implemented so as to be effective for a fall semester.
2. All existing and continuing students will be moved to the new name.
3. Students who complete the degree requirements prior to the fall effective date graduate under the old name.

Briefly describe the proposed change and rationale for the change:

The name Aviation Management Technology is very dated and will not make sense to new students. Aviation is the term used today. Therefore it will be important for our students to have the more appropriate and widely accepted name on their degree.

Discuss the impact of this change on current students and/or enrollment:

There are currently 2 students in this program and they will not be negatively impacted, as the newly established concentration in Aviation will consist of the same courses as the current BAS in Aviation Management Technology program. The plan is to move current students to the new BAS in Applied science with a concentration in Aviation immediately as this designation on their diploma will enable them to secure more appropriate professional employment opportunities. We would like to have newly admitted students moved to the new concentration in Aviation. Students will be notified via asu.edu email regarding the change. Also, all faculty teaching in the BAS Aviation program will discuss the change in their courses. In addition, a town hall meeting will be held with the students before the end of the spring semester. Incoming students will be emailed, and sent a letter via USPS regarding the changes.
