5. PROGRAM NEED. Explain why the university needs to offer this program (include target audience and market).

   The degree will meet the needs of several populations of students. First, it will be available face-to-face at the ASU Colleges at Lake Havasu City. It will also be offered as an ASU Online managed degree, staffed by faculty in the School of Letters and Sciences. The ASU Online version will meet the needs of students who want to develop leadership skills that will serve them well in a wide range of organizations. There is a growing demand for courses and degrees in organizational leadership because organizations suffer when they have underprepared leaders, and they thrive when their leaders have appropriate skills and knowledge. Twenty-first century organizations are looking for adaptive leaders who proactively seek opportunities and who are equipped with the broad knowledge, organizational perspective, and critical and strategic thinking required to shape the future and to lead people and organizations. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics predicts that growth in this area could be as high as 22% by 2018.
6. IMPACT ON OTHER PROGRAMS. List other academic units that might be impacted by the proposed program and describe the potential impact (e.g., how the implementation of this program might affect student headcount/enrollment, student recruitment, faculty participation, course content, etc. in other programs). c. Administration of the program. Explain how the program will be administered for the purposes of admissions, advising, course offerings, etc. Discuss the available staff support.

The current administrative team in the School of Letters and Sciences will administer the degree in Organizational Leadership. At the Lake Havasu City site, Raymond Van Der Riet will administer the degree. Duane Roen, faculty head of Interdisciplinary and Liberal Studies will administer the online version of the degree. Existing advisors at Lake Havasu City and in the School of Letters and Sciences can handle the advising needs of students during the first few years. Fred and Duane,

David and I have reworked the leadership degree as suggested--given the WP Carey feedback, etc. I am attaching the reworked spreadsheet--all changes in red font.

A summary of the significant changes follows:

- OGL 260 Managing Resources in Organizations is renamed Resource Allocation in Organizations
- OGL 300 Organizational Theory and Application is renamed Theories and Practice of Leadership
- COM 316 Gender and Communication is eliminated
- OGL 355 Strategic Leadership is renamed Leading Organizational Innovation and Change
- OGL 475 Human Resources in Organizations is eliminated
- OGL 335 Labor Relations in Organizations is eliminated
- OGL 345 Training and Development is eliminated
- OGL 455 Staffing and Compensation is eliminated
- OGL 465 Human Resources Law is eliminated
- Each Concentration now allows a number of electives
- Project Management remains as a Concentration
- Human Resources is eliminated as a Concentration
- Organizational Behavior is added as a new Concentration--replacing Human Resources
- A general Organizational Leadership Concentration is added

Let's move forward, unless you have additional questions/suggestions. I am working on revising the sequencing document--and will forward that once completed.

Subject: FW: Organizational Leadership degree

Duane and Fred

My colleagues Afsaneh Nahavandi and Arnold Danzig, both of whom are scholars and teachers in the area of organizational leadership, have looked over the proposal carefully and identified many areas of collaboration such that PAF offerings can be integrated in the proposed ASU Online degree. I'm not sure how that interacts with the Lake Havasu program so that will have to be clarified. We would have greater concerns if this degree were being offered face-to-face on one of the local campuses but I don't think that is the case.

Here are several possible areas of cooperation, specifically in sharing courses, identified by Afsaneh and Arnie.

The implementation depends on the structure of program. Specifically,

1. Our PAF 410 - Leadership Skills course can easily be added to either their required or elective list of courses. We offer the course in online (both 16 and 7 week-Pearson platform), hybrid and in person formats. The topics are relevant to their degree and appear similar to several of their courses including the OGL 300 - Theories and practice of leadership

2. Our PAF 311 - Leadership and change would be another course of interest for them and is similar to their OGL 355 - Leading Organizational Innovation and Change

3. Our PAF 420 – Public leadership may be another course of interest to them as an elective

4. Our PAF 300 – Public management and administration may be another course of interest to them as an elective.

5. There may be possibilities for their students to take our concentrations in PSPP or for our students to take their courses. That would depend on the structure of their program and whether students are allowed to take courses outside of the BA and whether their courses are open to other ASU students.

6. If they are interested in our courses, we could offer specific sections for them either in person or online.

It seems highly efficient to have ASU Online invest in creating Pearson versions of these courses – some of them already exist as icourses – that could be used for this new program as well as existing undergraduate majors and minors in PAF.

We know the Leadership Studies program is quite far along in the approval process but we do hope there are any opportunities for change. However, we do have a few concerns regarding the name of the program and possible duplication. First, we are not sure how the name of the program came about. The UC has an Organizational Studies degree, but the Leadership Studies name certainly overlaps with many of our interests in SPA. Second, as you can see from the list of courses, we offer at least two courses, 311 and 410 that appear to be very similar to theirs.

I'm going to ask Afsaneh and Arnie to be the leaders on this process (ha!) because this really is there area of expertise but I would appreciate keeping me and Assoc Dean Nancy Rodriguez in the loop so we know how this process is working out.

Thanks,

Jonathan
