PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAM

This template is to be used only by programs that have received specific written approval from the Provost’s office to proceed with internal proposal development and review. The proposal template should be completed in full and submitted to the University Provost’s Office [mailto: curriculumplanning@asu.edu]. It must undergo all internal university review and approval steps including those at the unit, college, and university levels. A program may not be implemented until the Provost’s Office notifies the academic unit that the program may be offered.

College/School/Institute: New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences
Department/Division/School: School of Social and Behavioral Sciences
Proposing Faculty Group (if applicable): MA Program in Social Justice & Human Rights
If this is an official joint degree program? Yes, this is a joint degree program

If “Yes” List all the additional college(s)/school(s)/institute(s) that will be involved in offering the degree program and providing the necessary resources. Note: All units offering this program must have collaborated in the proposal development and completed the appropriate unit and college/school approvals.

1. Purpose and Nature of Program

   Provide a brief program description. Include the distinctive features of the program that make it unique.

   This program spans the social sciences and the humanities to prepare students to meet the challenges of twenty-first century issues of social justice and protection of human rights in local, national, international and global contexts. The degree introduces students to principles and practices of everyday humanitarianism, multimedia advocacy, and theories and practices of social justice and human rights. The areas of focus are theoretical as well as applied, including: (1) materialism, intersectionality & inequality; (2) advocacy and social change; and (3) critical trauma studies and the study and practice of everyday humanitarianism.

2. Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment Methods

   A. Knowledge, competencies, and skills

   List the knowledge, competencies, and skills students should have when they graduate from the proposed degree program. (You can find examples of program Learning Outcomes at http://www.asu.edu/oue/assessment.html)

   Students graduating from the BA program will demonstrate the practical application of social sciences methods of data collection and analysis.

   Students graduating from the BA program will apply theories of social justice and human rights to the analysis of socio-economic and cultural disadvantage; to practices of advocacy of social change and defense of human rights; and to practices of humanitarian assistance to survivors of trauma and abuse of human rights.

   Students graduating from the BA program will be prepared to enter graduate programs in related disciplinary and interdisciplinary fields.

   B. Assessment

   Describe the plan and methods to assess whether students have achieved the knowledge, competencies and skills identified in the Learning Outcomes. (You can find examples of assessment methods at http://www.asu.edu/oue/assessment.html)

   Measure 1.1: Review of final grades for one of the following methods courses: SBS 302 Qualitative Methods, SOC 389 Ethnographic Field Lab, HRC 310 Social & Cultural Studies: Method & Theory, SBS 303 Quantitative Methods –or-- SBS 304 Social Statistics I.

   Performance Criterion: 80% of the students will exhibit mastery with a grade of B or higher.

   Measure 2.1: Review of final exam or research papers for JHR 305.

   Performance Criterion: 80% of the students will exhibit mastery through a grade of B or higher.

   Measure 3.1: Review of the Internship supervisors’ evaluation of students' volunteer work as effective with the humanitarian, nonprofit, and/or other organizations sponsoring the internship on social justice, human rights, or humanitarianism.

   Performance Criterion: 80% of the students will be evaluated positively by on-site and faculty supervisors.

3. Academic Curriculum and Requirements

   A. Major Map.

   Attach a copy of the “proposed” major map for this degree program and each concentration(s) to be offered. Instructions on how to create a “proposed major map” in BAMM can be found in the Build a Major Map Training Guide.
B. Summary of credit hours required for this program
Total credit hours must be 120 and include first year composition, general studies, core/required courses, program specific electives, and any additional requirements (e.g., concentration credits).

C. Core/Required Courses.

i. Total required and/or core course credit hours:
15

ii. List the name, prefix, and credit hours for each required/core course for this program
- JHR 100 Introduction to Social Justice and Human Rights (3)
- JHR 305 Theory and Practice of Social Justice and Human Rights (3)
- JHR 484 Internship (3)
- SBS 302 Qualitative Methods (3) or SOC 389 Ethnographic Field Lab (3) or HRC 310 Social and Cultural Studies: Method and Theory (3) (Choose 3 credit hours)
- SBS 303 Quantitative Methods (3) or SBS 304 Social Statistics I (3) (Choose 3 credit hours)

D. Program Specific Electives.

i. Total required program elective credit hours:
18

ii. List the name, prefix, and credit hours for any program specific electives for this program:
There are three focus areas, and a student must select 18 credit hours from any one area. The areas are Materialism, Intersectionality and Inequality; Advocacy and Social Change; Critical Trauma Studies and Everyday Humanitarianism. Course lists will be available for each focus area.

E. Additional Program Requirements, if any:
List and describe any capstone experiences, milestone, and/or additional requirements.
NA

F. Concentrations

I. Are any concentrations to be established under this degree program? No, concentrations will not be established.

II. If yes, are concentrations required? (Select One)

III. List courses & additional requirements for the proposed concentration(s):
4. New Course Development

A. Will a new course prefix (es) be required for this degree program? No
   Note: A request for a New Prefix form must be completed for each new prefix required and submitted with this proposal:
   http://provost.asu.edu/files/shared/curriculum/Prefix_Request.doc.

B. New Courses Required for Proposed Degree Program.
   List all new courses required for this program, including course prefix, number and course description.

   JHR 100 Introduction to Social Justice and Human Rights. This course introduces students to the study of social justice and human rights through three lenses: materialism, intersectionality, and inequality; advocacy and social change; and critical trauma studies and everyday humanitarianism.

   JHR 484 Internship. Structured practical experience following a contract or plan, supervised by faculty and practitioners.

   Note: New course requests must be submitted electronically via Curriculum ChangeMaker and undergo all internal university review and approval steps including those at the unit, college, and university levels.

5. Program Need
   Explain why the university needs to offer this program (include target audience and market).

   This program fills a gap in ASU's undergraduate curriculum in the area of applied humanitarian studies and practice with a local and global scope. Drawing upon critical theory, analysis and methodologies of social sciences and philosophy, ethics, and critical theory in the humanities, the undergraduate Social Justice and Human Rights degree prepares and enables students to actively practice social justice and human rights advocacy and everyday humanitarianism, especially for the world's most vulnerable peoples.

6. Impact on Other Programs
   List other academic units that might be impacted by the proposed program and describe the potential impact (e.g., how the implementation of this program might affect student headcount/enrollment, student recruitment, faculty participation, course content, etc. in other programs). Attach letters of collaboration/support from impacted programs.

   Potential Impact on the School of Social Transformation, BA in Justice Studies: The proposed undergraduate BA in Social Justice and Human Rights promises to complement the existing BA degree in Justice Studies. First, the West social sciences program already collaborates with the Justice Studies undergraduate program by contributing courses, including one undergraduate core course, to the Human Rights certificate administered by the Tempe Justice Studies program. With this current proposal, we wish to further cultivate that collaboration by proposing to encourage our undergraduate Social Justice and Human Rights majors to add the Tempe certificate in Human Rights to their undergraduate Social Justice and Human Rights credentials. Secondly, and related to existing collaboration, we anticipate no significant negative impact on Justice Studies degree programs, given the following distinctions between the Justice Studies BA degree and the Social Justice and Human Rights BA degree: (1) core and elective courses in Social Justice and Human Rights tend to emphasize global awareness whereas Justice Studies undergraduate courses mostly focus on the U.S. system of justice; (2) the Social Justice and Human Rights degree has a transnational rather than national emphasis on the interface of international human rights law and justice issues in interaction with regional and domestic systems of social justice and human rights; (3) the Social Justice and Human Rights bachelor's degree draws upon the social sciences and the humanities to prepare students to engage in applied work in required internships where preparation in theory and ethics prepares students for active practice of everyday humanitarianism and advocacy for social justice and human rights. Third, we anticipate and already encourage our best Social Justice and Human Rights graduate students and, if approved, will encourage our program undergraduates to pursue doctoral degrees from the Tempe PhD program in Justice Studies. In short, we anticipate that the PhD program in Justice Studies on the Tempe campus will likely benefit from an increase in PhD program applications from our best students in this program.
7. Projected Enrollment

B. New Faculty:
Describe the new faculty hiring needed during the next three years to sustain the program. List the anticipated hiring schedule and financial sources for supporting the addition of these faculty members.

1. One Required Faculty Member: One Replacement Faculty member is required to sustain the program over the next three years as follows: The program will require the already Provost-approved replacement hire for departing faculty member Dr. David Forrest, a political scientist specializing in social science methodology and socio-economic inequality. This permanent replacement hire is approved for search/recruitment beginning fall semester 2016. The new tenure/tenure track hire is scheduled to commence work for the 2017-18 academic year. NOTE: In the interim, for the 2016-17 academic year, a one-year clinical assistant professor is currently being hired to cover the 2016-17 academic year. The financial resources to support the one-year clinical hire and the permanent tenure-tt hire are already allocated by the Dean of New College.

2. One Desired Faculty Member: One tenure/tenure-track faculty member is desired (not required) to enrich the program over the next three years as follows: The program will be enriched by a permanent hire in "Law & Society with a focus on human rights within a globalizing world." This desired faculty member would have a research/teaching focus on one or more of the following areas: human rights law, law & the political order, race and incarceration, inequality and disenfranchisement. The financial resources for this desired hire are currently being requested for consideration in the 2016-17 hiring plan for the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences. In any case, the program can be sustained without this desired hire.

C. Administration of the program.
Explain how the program will be administered for the purposes of admissions, advising, course offerings, etc. Discuss the available staff support.

The degree program is proposed by the social sciences degree program in the School of Social & Behavioral Sciences with cooperative management and faculty staffing across the School of Social & Behavioral Sciences and the School of Humanities, Arts, & Cultural Studies. Admissions, advising, and course offerings will be administered by School of Social & Behavioral Sciences in collaboration with School of Humanities, Arts, & Cultural Studies. Staff from both schools are already in place to assist in scheduling courses and advising.

10. Resources (necessary to launch and sustain the program)

A. Required resources:
Describe any new resources required for this program’s success, such as new support staff, new facilities, new library resources, new technology resources, etc.

None

B. Resource acquisition:
Explain how the resources to support this program will be obtained.

None
APPENDIX
OPERATIONAL INFORMATION FOR UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS
(This information is used to populate the Degree Search/catalog website.)

1. Program Name (Major): Social Justice and Human Rights

2. Program Description (150 words maximum)
The School of Social and Behavioral Sciences offers a BA in social justice and human rights through the New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences at ASU’s West campus. This program spans the social sciences and the humanities to prepare students to meet the challenges of twenty-first century issues of social justice and protection of human rights in local, national, international and global contexts. The degree introduces students to principles and practices of everyday humanitarianism, multimedia advocacy, and theories and practices of social justice and human rights.

Students in the program have the opportunity to select from three uniquely theoretical and applied areas of focus including:
• advocacy and social change
• critical trauma studies and everyday humanitarianism
• materialism, intersectionality and inequality

4. Delivery/Campus Information Delivery: On-campus only (ground courses and/or iCourses)

Note: Once students elect a campus or On-line option, students will not be able to move back and forth between the on-campus and the ASU Online options. Approval from the Office of the University Provost and Philip Regier (Executive Vice Provost and Dean) is required to offer programs through ASU Online.

5. Campus/Locations: indicate all locations where this program will be offered.

☐ Downtown Phoenix ☐ Polytechnic ☐ Tempe ☐ Thunderbird ☒ West ☐ Other:

6. Additional Program Description Information

A. Additional program fee required for this program? Yes
B. Does this program have a second language requirement? No

7. Career Opportunities & Concentrations
Provide a brief description of career opportunities available for this degree program. If program will have concentrations, provide a brief description for each concentration. (150 words maximum)

Students with this degree are employable in a variety of settings, including refugee resettlement agencies; agencies and shelters supporting survivors of domestic abuse; shelters for migrants, especially for unaccompanied minors; disaster relief agencies; organizations assisting survivors of sex trafficking and human labor trafficking; agencies assisting Veterans and others suffering from post-traumatic stress.

8. Additional Admission Requirements
If applicable list any admission requirements (freshman and/or transfer) that are higher than and/or in addition to the university minimum undergraduate admission requirements.

None

9. Keywords
List all keywords used to search for this program. Keywords should be specific to the proposed program.

RE: Proposal to Establish a New Undergraduate Degree in Social Justice & Human Rights

This is a memo in support of our request to establish a new undergraduate degree in Social Justice and Human Rights for the Fall 2017 semester. This request was approved in the 2016-2017 Academic Plan.

The proposal has received faculty approval through appropriate governance procedures in the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences and the School of Humanities, Arts, and Cultural Studies. A New Program Impact Statement was also sent on April 21, 2016 to Director Mary Fonow of the School of Social Transformation.

I have reviewed the proposal and verified that the proposal is complete and all supplemental materials are included.

Stacey,

I checked with faculty heads (Ian Moulton, Nick Alozie, and Kevin Ellsworth). They and I enthusiastically support your proposal for a BA in Social Justice and Human Rights.

I hope that your degree will make a difference in the world. This is important work.

Best,
Duane

Subject: Impact Statement for New Degree Program

Dear Dean Roen,

I am writing on behalf of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences and the School of Humanities, Arts, and Cultural Studies in the New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences. The schools have proposed a new bachelor of arts in social justice and human rights. The Provost’s Curriculum Development office has asked us to get an impact statement from CISA for this proposal.

BA Social Justice and Human Rights: This program spans the social sciences and the humanities to prepare students to meet the challenges of twenty-first century issues of social justice and protection of human rights in local, national, international and global contexts. The degree introduces students to principles and practices of everyday humanitarianism, multimedia advocacy, and theories and practices of social justice and human rights. The areas of focus are theoretical as well as applied, including: (1) materialism, intersectionality and inequality; (2) advocacy and social change; and (3) critical trauma studies and the study and practice of everyday humanitarianism.
After reviewing the attached information, please let me know whether this program will have an impact on your college, and if so, please provide a detailed description (by reply to this email) that we can attach to our submission.

If you have any difficulty with this file, please let me know at your earliest convenience.

Thank you in advance for your assistance in this matter.

Jeff,

I append below an impact statement from Libby Wentz, Dean of Social Sciences in CLAS, for the SJHR degree SSBS is proposing.

I’ve forwarded this to Tosha, too.

Do let me know if I can help further.

Best,
Todd

Dear Marlene and Todd,

On behalf of CLAS, I’m happy to support the development of this BA degree. I agree with you that there is overlap with degrees in CLAS. There is of course potential for conflict and competition. However, in the interest of students at New College, this is a positive and important direction. Let’s pay attention to enrollment patterns moving forward.

Thanks for including me in the conversation.
