PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAM

This template is to be used only by programs that have received specific written approval from the Provost’s office to proceed with internal proposal development and review. The proposal template should be completed in full and submitted to the University Provost’s Office [mailto: curriculumplanning@asu.edu]. It must undergo all internal university review and approval steps including those at the unit, college, and university levels. A program may not be implemented until the Provost’s Office notifies the academic unit that the program may be offered.

College/School/Institute: Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts
Department/Division/School: School of Art
Proposing Faculty Group (if applicable):
If this is an official joint degree program? No, this is not a joint degree program

If “Yes” List all the additional college(s)/school(s)/institution(s) that will be involved in offering the degree program and providing the necessary resources. Note: All units offering this program must have collaborated in the proposal development and completed the appropriate unit and college/school approvals.

Degree type: BA-Bachelor of Arts
If other; provide degree type title and proposed abbreviation:
Name of degree program (major): Fashion
Are any concentrations to be established under this degree program? No
Is a program fee required? Yes, a program fee is required.
What is the first catalog year available for students to select on the undergraduate application for this this program? 2017-18
Delivery method: On-campus only (ground courses and/or iCourses)

Note: Once students elect a campus or On-line option, students will not be able to move back and forth between the on-campus and the ASU Online options. Approval from the Office of the University Provost and Philip Regier (Executive Vice Provost and Dean) is required to offer programs through ASU Online.

Campus/Locations: indicate all locations where this program will be offered.

1. Purpose and Nature of Program

Provide a brief program description. Include the distinctive features of the program that make it unique. The fashion BA at Arizona State University is a trans-disciplinary program that provides a foundation for working across many segments of the industry. Students learn illustration skills; design methodology, traditional techniques and digital technologies, and prepare for interdisciplinary collaborations through focus tracks. Drawing on the wealth of resources available at this leading research university, the program fosters the opportunity to gain skills that distinguish our students in the fashion industry. The faculty is a team of professionals with experience in the fashion industry. A unique liaison with Phoenix Art Museum's fashion design department provides unparalleled experiences with professional practitioners and the museum's rich fashion archive. The program offers a strong fundamental grounding in the theory and practice of fashion through core required classes at the 100 and 200 levels. At the 300 and 400 levels, the program draws on the wider resources of ASU. Through multiple university electives as well as advanced Fashion electives students have the opportunity to pursue tracks in Marketing and Merchandising, Costuming, Wearable Technology, Sustainability, Management and Leadership, International Experience and Fashion and Culture. In the Capstone experience students develop a substantial project within their focus track. Opportunities for internships and study abroad further advance students' professional goals. Through the leadership of well-known fashion curator, Dennita Sewell, the BA in Fashion at ASU is connected globally to leaders in the industry.

2. Student Learning Outcomes and Assessment Methods

A. Knowledge, competencies, and skills

List the knowledge, competencies, and skills students should have when they graduate from the proposed degree program. (You can find examples of program Learning Outcomes at http://www.asu.edu/oue/assessment.html)

I. Students graduating from the BA in fashion will demonstrate the ability to research and analyze global fashion market phenomena, with attention to a range of factors including fashion industry and social influences, supply chains, manufacturing processes and marketing practice.

II. Students will demonstrate the ability to develop, design, create patterns for and construct original contemporary clothing.

III. Students graduating from the BA in fashion will be prepared for a variety of roles in the global fashion industry including marketing, merchandising, design, illustration, patterning and construction, or launching a new fashion brand.

B. Assessment

Describe the plan and methods to assess whether students have achieved the knowledge, competencies and skills identified in the Learning Outcomes. (You can find examples of assessment methods at http://www.asu.edu/oue/assessment.html)

I. a. Final Papers in FSH 204: Social Aspects of Fashion will integrate recent social theory with articulate analysis of current fashion trends and demonstrate awareness of historical and recent developments in Fashion Theory.

I. b. Final papers in FSH 301 Global Fashion Industry will demonstrate an understanding of the global fashion industry through well-cited research into transnational economics of particular fashion developments.

II. a. Final Portfolios in FSH 206: Fashion Design will demonstrate an understanding of current methods and trends, through original and excellent apparel designs.

II b. 20% of capstone projects will be at a professional level, meeting current industry standards and will help establish students in their chosen specialty within the field of fashion. 60% of capstone projects will represent original research of a high standard at an undergraduate level.

III. a. Students will successfully complete an internship in a professional setting of their choosing and will receive strong letters of endorsement from their intern supervisors.

III b. 70% of students will indicate on exit surveys that are well prepared to pursue a career in their degree area.

3. Academic Curriculum and Requirements

A. Major Map.

Attach a copy of the “proposed” major map for this degree program and each concentration(s) to be offered. Instructions on how to create a “proposed major map” in BAMM can be found in the Build a Major Map Training Guide.
B. Summary of credit hours required for this program

Total credit hours must be 120 and include first year composition, general studies, core/required courses, program specific electives, and any additional requirements (e.g., concentration credits).

4. New Course Development

A. Will a new course prefix (es) be required for this degree program? Yes
If yes, list prefix name(s) (i.e. ENG- English) FSH

Note: A request for a New Prefix form must be completed for each new prefix required and submitted with this proposal:
http://provost.asu.edu/files/shared/curriculum/Prefix_Request.doc.

B. New Courses Required for Proposed Degree Program.
List all new courses required for this program, including course prefix, number and course description.

FSH 125 Survey of the Fashion Industry (3 credits)
This course prepares the student to know how the fashion industry operates and what to expect when working in it.
From design to manufacturing to retail, it is important for all members of the fashion industry to understand how the processes interrelate.
FSH 201 Textiles Survey (3 credits)
This course offers a broad survey of textiles as they relate to art, fashion and their place in human culture. Topics will explore material content, weaves and textile properties; the artistic and social history of textiles; modern textile manufacturing and consumption; and innovations in textile invention for science and industry. The goal of this semester is for students to more fully understand the underlying content and structure of textiles in order to better appreciate the overwhelming variety of textiles that have been created over time, place, gender, ethnicity, purpose, and methodology.

FSH 202 Fashion Construction (3 credits)
This class prepares students for a career in the apparel industry or for continued study in graduate school. Students will be introduced to core concepts of fashion materials and construction: cutting, sewing, and finishing techniques for creating garment prototypes. This studio course’s focus is on the fashion industry as well as apparel construction and production.

FSH 203 Fashion Illustration (3 credits)
In a studio setting, students practice drawing the fashion figure from a live model, both in leotard and in clothing. This facilitates understanding of drape, shape, shadow, silhouette and how it relates to fashion design. Fundamental skills of visual communication and problem solving are demonstrated and practiced, including fabric rendering and proportion and how it relates to the fashion designer’s sketch. Brief lectures, demos and critiques are an integral component of each class. Materials used in class include, yet are not limited to, charcoal and gouache.

FSH 204 Social Aspects of Fashion (3 credits)
This course is an introduction to ways of examining clothing and fashion in context. How do we read images and representations of clothing and how do they manipulate the meaning of the garment and its wearer? In what ways is this visual language used to select and produce fashion? What influences how we dress on a daily basis and over time? These are just some of the questions about appearance, clothing and culture that will be used to embark on a participatory research project and as a point of departure for class discussions and related readings.

FSH 206 Fashion Design (3 credits)
This class provides a foundation for the design process through drafting, flat pattern, construction and draping. In this hands-on setting, students will be able to apply principles of art to clothing design. Students will develop an understanding of the design concept based on the relationship of the two-dimensional pattern shape to the three-dimensional body.

FSH 280/MKT280 Fashion Merchandising (3 credits)
Covers the fundamentals of fashion merchandising. Considers the business side of fashion including strategic fashion management, fashion marketing and consumer behavior, the principles of retailing, visual merchandising, and the role of technology within fashion retailing.

FSH 300 Global Fashion Industry (3 credits)
The primary goal of this class is to consider the textile and apparel industries in a global context. Issues are examined from several viewpoints providing the facts and data needed to consider the ramifications of events with unbiased perspectives.

THE 431 History of Fashion II: 20th Century Fashion (3 credits)
The History of Fashion II will introduce the student to a century of fashion history, drawing parallels between the fashion and the period in which it existed.

Note: New course requests must be submitted electronically via Curriculum ChangeMaker and undergo all internal university review and approval steps including those at the unit, college, and university levels.

5. Program Need
Explain why the university needs to offer this program (include target audience and market).

According to the US Congress Joint Economic Committee, fashion is a multi-trillion dollar global industry, with more than $370 billion spent annually on fashion in the United States. The number of fashion professionals has grown more than 50 percent in the past 10 years. However, the state of Arizona currently offers no four year degree in the subject. Students are eager to study fashion and to enter the industry as evidenced by the popularity of current courses which will be part of the degree. Beyond the state of Arizona, students seeking a broad introduction to the industry will be attracted to ASU’s program because it takes advantage of the broad resources of the university by integrating other disciplines through the elective tracks. The fashion industry is inextricably influenced by new technologies, new business models, new questions around sustainability, with which only a research one institution can truly keep pace. The BA in fashion at ASU offers a broad foundation with the opportunity to specialize at the upper levels through a diversity of tracks. Thus we expect to serve both in-state and out of state students. The fashion industry is increasingly visible in popular media and existing community college programs in Arizona and beyond have seen increased enrollment in the last five years. As we have developed the new BA in fashion, we have kept a close eye on community college transfer equivalencies and we expect to serve a significant number of transfer students as well.

6. Impact on Other Programs
List other academic units that might be impacted by the proposed program and describe the potential impact (e.g., how the implementation of this program might affect student headcount/enrollment, student recruitment, faculty participation, course content, etc. in other programs). Attach letters of collaboration/support from impacted programs.

Costume and fashion history classes in the School of Film, Dance and Theater can expect increased enrollments as they open certain classes to fashion students. Marketing and merchandising classes in the W.P. Carey School of Business can also expect additional enrollment from fashion BA students. W. P. Carey is developing a fashion merchandising class specifically to serve fashion students.

7. Projected Enrollment
How many new students do you anticipate enrolling in this program each year for the next five years?

8. Accreditation or Licensing Requirements
If applicable, provide the names of the external agencies for accreditation, professional licensing, etc. that guide your curriculum for this program, if any. Describe any requirements for accreditation or licensing.

There are no licensing requirements in the field, nor is there a accrediting agency.

9. Faculty & Staff

A. Current faculty
List the name, rank, highest degree, area of specialization/expertise and estimate of the level of involvement of all current faculties who will teach in the program.

School of Art Professor of Practice, Dennita Sewell, MFA in Costume Design; program director and professor of classes in Fashion Theory, Global Fashion Industry, Social Aspects of Fashion
School of Art Assistant Professor, Erika Hanson, MFA in Fibers; professor of textiles and weaving studio classes
School of Art Assistant Professor, Margarita Cabrera, MFA in Art; professor of 3D textiles
School of Art Faculty Associate, Loretta Tedeschi Cuoco; BS in Fashion Design; instructor of fashion illustration classes
School of Art Faculty Associate, Ann Morton, MFA in Art; instructor of Textiles Survey and Professional Practices classes
School of Art Faculty Associate Galena Mihaleva, MA in Fashion Textiles; professor of apparel construction classes
School of Film, Dance and Theater Professor, Connie Furr Solomon, MFA in Costume Design; professor of Fashion History and Costuming
School of Film, Dance and Theater Clinical Assistant Professor, Ashley Gamba, MFA in Costume Design; professor of Costuming
School of Film, Dance and Theater Assistant Professor Jessica Rajko, MFA in Dance and Interdisciplinary Digital media; professor of wearable electronics
B. New Faculty:
Describe the new faculty hiring needed during the next three years to sustain the program. List the anticipated hiring schedule and financial sources for supporting the addition of these faculty members.

AY 18: Conversion of Faculty Associate to .5 lecturer (existing funds)
AY 19: 1 new full-time Fashion faculty (funds from FTE increase)
AY 20: 1 new full-time Fashion Faculty & 1 new Full-time Instructor in Fashion (funds from FTE increase)

C. Administration of the program.
Explain how the program will be administered for the purposes of admissions, advising, course offerings, etc. Discuss the available staff support.

The BA in fashion will be housed in the School of Art, where the fibers program offers existing classes relevant to the new major. Initially, fashion students will receive primary academic advising support from Matthew Ransom, one of the current Herberger Institute Academic Success Coordinators. As the program grows, additional advising will be needed and will be handled centrally in the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts.

10. Resources (necessary to launch and sustain the program)

A. Required resources:
Describe any new resources required for this program’s success, such as new support staff, new facilities, new library resources, new technology resources, etc.

New labs which support fashion design and construction are immediately necessary and in progress. These will include computers and specialized software, sewing machines, dressmaker forms, tables and other equipment. Additional space to support fashion illustration and elective classes are also needed and in progress. Ongoing technology needs for the program will be supported through a program fee.

B. Resource acquisition:
Explain how the resources to support this program will be obtained.

An initial investment from the ASU Provost’s Office will cover expenses related to the renovation of space in Tempe Center for two studios and one classroom. An additional $250,000 from the Herberger Institute will establish basic equipment. As the program grows, further expansions will be supplied by increased enrollment revenues. Additionally, support from outside donors will be sought through the extensive industry connections of faculty.
APPENDIX
OPERATIONAL INFORMATION FOR UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS
(This information is used to populate the Degree Search/catalog website.)

1. Program Name (Major): Fashion, BA

2. Program Description (150 words maximum)
The BA degree program in fashion at ASU combines history, business practices and hands-on studio experience to prepare students for a variety of roles in this important industry. This program is distinguished from other fashion programs in the U.S. through its integration with other research disciplines in the university. Students have the opportunity to pursue tracks in marketing and merchandising, costuming, wearable technology, sustainability, management and leadership, international experience, and fashion and culture. In the capstone experience, students develop a substantial project within their focus track. Opportunities for internships and study abroad further advance students’ professional goals. Through the leadership of well-known industry professionals, the bachelor’s degree in fashion is connected globally to leaders in the industry.

Subject: RE: letter of support for BA in Fashion proposal

Dear Hilary,

The School of Sustainability is happy to support the establishment of the BA and the minor in Fashion as ASU. It’s great that you’ve created a track in Sustainability, since there is certainly overlap there, and plenty of room for work in sustainable fashion. We welcome having your students in our classes. The School of Art might consider including SOS 110 Sustainable World and SOS 111 Sustainable Cities in the list of electives, because students who wish to take 320, 322, 325, 328, 385, 456 and 485 will be required to have taken 110 and 111 as prerequisites, and that way these could also count toward their track courses. SOS 100 and SOS 300 are the required courses for the Sustainability Minor. Hope this helps, and let me know if you need a more formal letter.

Best,
Candice

Hilary,

This message should suffice for an impact statement.

The degree and the minor look great! I hope that lots of students feel the same way about it.

CISA is delighted to support the establishment of a BA in Fashion and a Minor in Fashion in the School of Art.

We are also happy to offer classes that your students take as electives.

Please let me know what else we can do to help.

If you have a shortage of models, I could be persuaded to wear your students’ designs on the runway.

Best,
Duane

Subject: Support for BA in Fashion and Fashion Minor

September 10th, 2016

Dear CAPC chair and members,

Please accept this letter as a strong statement of support for this proposal to establish a Bachelor of Arts degree in Fashion and a Minor in Fashion.

These program proposals, were developed in close collaboration with the Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts Associate Dean Jennifer Setlow, myself and Dennita Sewell, ASU Professor of Practice and Curator of Fashion at the Phoenix Art Museum; and in consultation with Fibers faculty Assistant Professors Erika Hanson and Margarita Cabrera. We have also been in consultation with the Maricopa County Community Colleges, which currently offer popular related programs at the associate level. The BA in Fashion and the minor in Fashion have been carefully reviewed and received approval from the School of Art Undergraduate Curriculum Committee (Professor Bernard Young, Art Education; Associate Professor, Mary Hood, Printmaking; Associate Director, Hilary Harp; Associate Professor, Associate Prof. Nancy Serwint, Art History; and Assistant Professor, Meredith Drum, Intermedia). The faculty of the School of Art strongly supports the establishment of this program.

As you will see upon review of the BA in Fashion and the Fashion minor, these programs offer new and important opportunities for the students in Arizona and beyond.

Thank you for your consideration.
Sincerely,

Adriene Jenik

Dear Hilary,
I am very excited to receive the proposal from the School of Art for a new BA in Fashion. I have reviewed the Proposal for the Minor, the Major Map and the Minor Course Sequence. The School of Film, Dance and Theatre supports the proposal and is enthusiastic about the opportunities this might create for our students.
Best,
Tiffany
