Implementation information: Degree Search is our official record of the academic catalog. Therefore, all academic programs which are active and have students enrolled are required to be listed on Degree Search. Upon request by the Dean's Office, an academic program can be removed from the undergraduate or graduate application; however, the program will remain in degree search with the notation “This program is no longer accepting applications,” until the approved effective date of the disestablishment.

Requested effective date: 2017-18

Briefly describe the rationale for disestablishment:

We would like to disestablish this concentration due to low enrollment. A student that would like to seek a teaching certification in this subject will still be able to do so but they will do so under the bachelor’s degree in the content and adding on the undergraduate certificate in secondary education.

Impact on other existing programs:

May include availability of course content for students in other majors who may need it; other.
Course content is available in other majors and other secondary education concentrations.

Impact on current students:

Estimate number of students still enrolled; anticipated date of last graduates; arrangements for continuing students and students in articulated transfer pathways (e.g., MAPP, TAG).

We will close applications for the 2017-18 application cycle. Current students will be able either to complete their program as designed or be advised into the content bachelor's degree program with an undergraduate certificate in secondary education. Upon all students graduating from this program, we will disestablish the degree.

Applications:

What term should applications close? If this change should be made immediately upon approval, please indicate this. Please note that the program will remain on Degree Search until such a time that no students remain enrolled in the program.

Immediately.

Current applicants:

Describe actions that will be taken regarding admitted students or students who have applied to this program? If current applicants should be moved to a new program, please indicate the plan code of that program.

There are currently no applications for this program.

Additional information:

Provide any relevant information not required above that will assist in evaluating the proposal.

Good afternoon-

As a follow up to our conversation regarding disestablishment of secondary program starting Fall 2017.

I am requesting an email affirming that we met and that there is no impact regarding your degree programs of the following:

The Teachers College disestablished the following Secondary Education programs starting Fall 17.

- French
- Japanese
- German
- Geography
- Economics

Students who want to become Secondary Education teachers in the above content areas would need to major in the content area through the college offering the content degree and would add on the Secondary Education certificate or pursue a Masters with Certification option post-graduation.

Sorry for the quick turnaround we need this by April 5 to submit to the senate.

If you have additional questions, please feel free to contact me.

Thank you for your consideration,

Ida
