

Impact on current students:

Estimate number of students still enrolled; anticipated date of last graduates; arrangements for continuing students and students in articulated transfer pathways (e.g., MAPP, TAG).

There are no active students in the program. The school has sent many communications to anyone that was in the certificate but didn't complete it. There have been no results.

There are not any active students currently in the program. Prior to retiring the courses for the certificate program, the school sent a number of communications to students that were active in the program, letting them know that the courses were being offered for the last time. Students who wanted to finish the certificate did. These communications and the retiring of coursework happened a number of years ago.

Applications:

What term should applications close? If this change should be made immediately upon approval, please indicate this. Please note that the program will remain on Degree Search until such a time that no students remain enrolled in the program.

The program has been closed for applications since 2012.

A decision to stop applications to the program was made just prior to 2012, when the original military partners were no longer interested in the program so this is the term the School of Sustainability stopped accepting applications. The School of Sustainability has purposefully not sought applications for this program since this point in time.

Current applicants:

Describe actions that will be taken regarding admitted students or students who have applied to this program? If current applicants should be moved to a new program, please indicate the plan code of that program.

There are no active students in the program. We have sent many communications to anyone that was in the certificate but didn't complete it about finishing the coursework over the last several years with no results.

There are not any active students currently in the program.
