

PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW GRADUATE CONCENTRATION

This form should be used for academic units wishing to propose a new concentration for existing graduate degrees. A concentration is a subspecialty within a degree and major. It indicates the fulfillment of a designated, specialized course of study, which qualifies the student with skills and training in one highly concentrated area of the major. Concentrations are formally-recognized educational designations (including the assignment of a university plan code for reporting/record-keeping purposes and appearance on the ASU transcript). Concentrations are distinguished from more informal academic distinctions such as "emphases," "tracks," "foci," "options," etc.

This proposal template should be completed in full and submitted to the University Provost's Office mail to: [curriculumplanning@asu.edu]. It must undergo all internal university review and approval steps including those at the unit, college, and university levels. A program may not be implemented until the Provost's Office notifies the academic unit that the program may be offered.

1. OVERVIEW

Provide a brief description (no more than 150 words) of the new concentration (including the focus of the new concentration, relationship to other concentrations within this degree program, etc.).

The Master of Global Management (MGM) in Global Management, concentration in Nonprofit Leadership and Management allows students to take courses from Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions and the School of Community Resources and Development. This will provide students an understanding of the nonprofit sector's role in the global economy and with knowledge applicable to those who wish to lead and manage these organizations.

2. IMPACT ASSESSMENT

A. Explain the unit's need for the new concentration (e.g., market demand, research base, direction of the discipline, and interdisciplinary considerations). How will the new concentration complement the existing degree program, including enrollment, national ranking, etc.?

In 2014 nonprofit organizations contributed $977 billion to the U.S. economy (Gaddy, 2016). Similarly, nonprofit leadership and management jobs grew 6.4 percent from 2016-2017 (EMSI, 2018). Not surprisingly, a new generation of workers is demanding jobs that both pay well and are purpose-driven (Field, 2017). Nonprofit organizations are poised to meet the desire of millennials to work for organizations that are financially successful and use that prosperity to enhance the communities it serves. Thus, Thunderbird has created the Nonprofit Leadership and Management concentration under the Master of Global Management degree program. Because the lines between what types of functions a nonprofit or for-profit organization may play is increasingly blurry, we have designed a curriculum that is cross-sector in nature. For-profit companies are increasingly operating like non-profit companies and vice versa. It will be important for students to have skills that cover both areas.

The target audience for the concentration are students who would like to work in roles within nonprofit institutions but want to bring business and global management lenses to their work. One particular example would be the role of a Fundraising Manager. According to the US Bureau of Labor Statistics, this role is expected to grow 10% between 2016 and 2026.

PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW GRADUATE CONCENTRATION

B. Please identify other related ASU programs and describe how the new concentration will complement these existing ASU programs? If applicable, statements of support from affected academic unit administrators should be included with this proposal submission.

Thunderbird has worked closely with the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions to develop this concentration. A copy of some of our correspondence has been attached in Appendix III.

In the development of this concentration, Thunderbird also reached out to the School for the Future of Innovation in Society, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, College of Health Solutions, School of Politics and Global Studies, School of Sustainability, Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication, New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences, College of Integrative Sciences and Arts, College of Nursing and Health Innovation, May Lou Fulton Teachers College, Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, Fulton Schools of Engineering, and W. P. Carey School of Business and all have expressed their support for this concentration. As ASU as a whole continues to work toward the design aspiration to "Engage Globally," every college will need to find its own niche in that space while being collaborative and supportive. The MGM in Global Management, concentration in Nonprofit Leadership and Management complements the other globally focused degree and certificate programs by adding additional specialized cross-training in nonprofit leadership and the fundamentals of global management. This unique offering in the ASU family of schools will attract a new student population that was previously untapped.

(Impact Statements can be found in Appendix III.)

C. Is this an interdisciplinary concentration? If yes, please address the relationship of the proposed concentration to other existing degree programs and any parallel or similar concentrations in those degree programs. (Please include relevant Memoranda of Understanding regarding this interdisciplinary concentration from all applicable academic units.)

This concentration is interdisciplinary. Students will take classes with Thunderbird and through the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions. The global management courses will be taught at Thunderbird School of Global Management and the concentration courses in Nonprofit Leadership and Management will be taught at the Watts College.

3. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ASSESSMENT

Dear Pat,

I know we wanted to get us all together to discuss joint programs : I would still very much like to get this scheduled.

In the meantime however, I would be so grateful if you could send me a letter with your support of our concentrations below. Just a simple few sentences would suffice.

We see these concentrations as just the beginning of joint programming, along with the 4+1s we are setting up with several of the departments in CLAS. There is so much I hope and know we can do together.

With Gratitude, Sanjeev

Hi Sian:

Hope this email finds you well. Now that we have submitted the Master of Global Management (MGM) in the following concentrations, we should explore the next steps. If you don't find, could you please identify courses from your college that should be in these 4 concentrations? A concentration usually is 12 credits, but it can go to 15 credits if needed (though not encourage to allow students some flexibility). If you prefer to chat, please feel free to call me at my cell: 480-399-1803.

1. Public Policy (SPA)
2. Public Administration (SPA)
3. Nonprofit leadership and Management (CRD)
4. Sustainable Tourism (CRD)

Dear Sanjeev,

We have reviewed the proposed new concentrations within the Master of Global Management program. The Cronkite School supports the proposal, and we look forward to collaborating on the Digital Audience Strategy concentration in particular. We do not anticipate any negative impact from the other proposed concentrations. Congratulations on a very impressive array of new offerings.

CISA supports all of the proposed MGM concentrations because we are confident that there is sufficient market demand for these MGM degrees as well as CISA's MS in Organizational Leadership degree—and ASU's other graduate programs in leadership.

- Global Nursing & Healthcare Leadership (would love for this to be part of a dual degree MGM-to our DNP (Doctor of Nursing Practice in Executive Healthcare Leadership))

And we have a new MS in Aging – might be way cool to connect on that one as well....

I would also note that as these move forward there are a few concentrations where there might be possibilities for us to include some FSE courses (if appropriate). - MGM in Global Entrepreneurship (Thunderbird)

(NEW GRADUATE INITIATIVES)

PROPOSAL PROCEDURES CHECKLIST

Academic units should adhere to the following procedures when requesting new curricular initiatives (degrees, concentrations or certificates).

Obtain the required approval from the Office of the Provost to move the initiative forward for internal ASU governance reviews/approvals. Please see the academic strategic plan website at: <https://provost.asu.edu/curriculum-development>.

Submit any new courses that will be required for the new curricular program to the Curriculum ChangeMaker online course approval system for review and approval.

- Additional information can be found at the Provost's Office Curriculum Development website: Courses link
- For questions regarding proposing new courses, send an email to: courses@asu.edu

Prepare the applicable proposal template and operational appendix for the proposed initiative.

Obtain letters or memos of support or collaboration (if applicable).

- When resources (faculty or courses) from another academic unit will be utilized
- When other academic units may be impacted by the proposed program request
- if the program will have an online delivery option support will be required from the Provost's office and ASU Online. (Please complete the ASU Online Offering form in Curriculum ChangeMaker to begin this request.)

Obtain the internal reviews/approvals of the academic unit.

- Internal faculty governance review committee(s)
- academic unit head (e.g. Department Chair or School Director)
- academic unit Dean (will submit approved proposal to the curriculumplanning@asu.edu email account for further ASU internal governance reviews (as applicable, University Graduate Council, CAPC and Senate)

Additional Recommendations

All new graduate programs require specific processes and procedures to maintain a successful degree program. Below are items that the Graduate College strongly recommends that academic units establish after the program is approved for implementation.

Establish satisfactory academic progress policies, processes and guidelines – Check within the proposing academic unit and/or college to see if there are existing academic progress policies and processes in place. If none have been established, please go to http://graduate.asu.edu/faculty\_staff/policies and scroll down to the academic progress review and remediation processes (for faculty and staff) section to locate the reference tool and samples for establishing these procedures.

Establish a Graduate Student Handbook for the new degree program – Students need to know the specific requirements and milestones they must meet throughout their degree program. A Graduate Student Handbook provided to students when they are admitted to the degree program and published on the website for the new degree gives students this information. Include in the handbook the unit/college satisfactory academic progress policies, current degree program requirements (outlined in the approved proposal) and provide a link to the Graduate Policies and Procedures website. Please go to http://graduate.asu.edu/faculty\_staff/policies to access Graduate Policies and Procedures.
