

PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW GRADUATE CONCENTRATION

This form should be used for academic units wishing to propose a new concentration for existing graduate degrees.

A concentration is a subspecialty within a degree and major. It indicates the fulfillment of a designated, specialized course of study, which qualifies the student with skills and training in one highly concentrated area of the major. Concentrations are formally-recognized educational designations (including the assignment of a university plan code for reporting/record-keeping purposes and appearance on the ASU transcript). Concentrations are distinguished from more informal academic distinctions such as “emphases,” “tracks,” “foci,” “options,” etc.

This proposal template should be completed in full and submitted to the University Provost’s Office [mail to: curriculumplanning@asu.edu]. It must undergo all internal university review and approval steps including those at the unit, college, and university levels. A program may not be implemented until the Provost’s Office notifies the academic unit that the program may be offered.

1. OVERVIEW

Provide a brief description (no more than 150 words) of the new concentration (including the focus of the new concentration, relationship to other concentrations within this degree program, etc.).

The Master of Global Management (MGM) in Global Management, concentration in Public Administration allows Thunderbird MGM students to take courses from the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions for this program. Students will use this concentration to find jobs in the public sector that have significant overlap with the private sector or vice versa. In short, students will be prepared in both global management and public policy in order to meet the demands of an economy that increasingly needs skilled employees who can work cross-sector.

2. IMPACT ASSESSMENT

- A. Explain the unit's need for the new concentration (e.g., market demand, research base, direction of the discipline, and interdisciplinary considerations). How will the new concentration complement the existing degree program, including enrollment, national ranking, etc.?

New research is emphasizing that the millennial generation is increasingly social-minded and are looking for public and nonprofit jobs (Chamberlain, 2018). However, positions in the area of Public Administration grew just 1.6 percent from 2016-2017 (EMSI, 2018). Similarly, only seven percent of federal employees are under the age of 30 (Curry, 2017). This mismatch between millennials' desire for meaningful work and their decreased interest in the public-sector highlights that public administration programs need to work with other schools to attract additional students. New programs that combine public administration with global management will help attract a different student population. Therefore, Thunderbird has designed the Public Administration concentration under the Master of Global Management degree program.

The target audience for the concentration are students who would like to work in roles within public institutions, but who do not want to limit their options to only public service. Using this concentration, students can work in additional roles that encompass both business facing and public facing responsibilities. An example would be a Public Relations Manager who helps a specific company with US Government relations. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, this role is expected to grow 10% between 2016 and 2026.

PROPOSAL TO ESTABLISH A NEW GRADUATE CONCENTRATION

- B. Please identify other related ASU programs and describe how the new concentration will complement these existing ASU programs? If applicable, statements of support from affected academic unit administrators should be included with this proposal submission.

Thunderbird has worked closely with the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solution to develop this concentration. A copy of some of our correspondence has been attached in Appendix III.

In the development of this concentration, Thunderbird also reached out to the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions, School for the Future of Innovation in Society, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, College of Health Solutions, School of Politics and Global Studies, School of Sustainability, New College of Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences, College of Integrative Sciences and Arts, College of Nursing and Health Innovation, Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College, Herberger Institute for Design and the Arts, Fulton Schools of Engineering, Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communication, and the W. P. Carey School of Business and all have expressed their support for this concentration. As ASU as a whole continues to work toward the design aspiration to "Engage Globally," every college will need to find its own niche in that space while being collaborative and supportive. The MGM in Global Management, concentration in Public Administration complements the other globally focused degree and certificate programs by adding additional specialized cross-training in public administration and the fundamentals of global management. This program is unique in the ASU family of schools and will be attractive to our millennial undergraduate populations who want to make money and do good at the same time.

(Impact Statements can be found in Appendix III.)

- C. Is this an interdisciplinary concentration? If yes, please address the relationship of the proposed concentration to other existing degree programs and any parallel or similar concentrations in those degree programs. (Please include relevant Memoranda of Understanding regarding this interdisciplinary concentration from all applicable academic units.)

This concentration is interdisciplinary. Students will take classes with Thunderbird and through the Watts College of Public Service and Community Solutions. The global management courses will be taught at Thunderbird School of Global Management and the concentration courses in public administration will be taught at the Watts College.

3. STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ASSESSMENT

Attach a PDF copy of the assessment plan printed from the University Office of Evaluation and Educational Effectiveness assessment portal demonstrating UOEEE's approval of your assessment plan for this program. Visit the assessment portal at <https://uoeee.asu.edu/assessment-portal> or contact uoeee@asu.edu with any questions.

(See Appendix II).

4. CURRICULAR STRUCTURE

Please ensure that all new core course proposals have been submitted to the Provost's office through the Curriculum ChangeMaker online course proposal submission system before this initiative is put on the University Graduate Council and CAPC agendas.

APPENDIX II
Assessment Plan

Outcome 1:	Students will demonstrate enhanced Social Capital.
Concepts:	The World Economic Forum reports that empathy and collaboration are two critical abilities for global manager success. These abilities rely on the development of Social Capital. This program is designed to develop a student's Social Capital through field-based action learning, team-based projects, and stretch assignments.
Competencies:	Students will have the ability to build sustainable trusting relationships—the basis of Social Capital—with others from diverse parts of the world through development of intercultural empathy, the ability to have interpersonal impact, and to act with diplomacy.
Measure/Method 1.1:	The Global Mindset Inventory will be used to assess development in Social Capital. A pre- and post-test will be used to assess change over time and program effect.
Performance Criterion 1.1:	At least 75% of the participants will achieve a 0.2 increase (on a five point scale) from pre- to post-test in the area of Social Capital.
Measure/Method 1.2:	Graduating students who are surveyed at graduation will evaluate the quality of their program's ability to enhance their Social Capital.
Performance Criterion 1.2:	75% of surveyed students will rate the extent to which their program enhanced their Social Capital as "Agree" or "Strongly Agree."
Add Measure 3
Outcome 2:	Students will demonstrate the ability to articulate and apply a public service perspective to administration.
Concepts:	MGM in Public Administration prepares students for work at all levels in governmental and nonprofit organizations around the world, with skills in public administration, management and policy.
Competencies:	Students will acquire the ability to analyze the proceedings of public meetings in relation to key themes of the course: managerialism, political representation, procedural due process, citizen participation, etc.
Measure/Method 2.1:	Capability will be assessed through performance in PAF 503, Public Affairs.
Performance Criterion 2.1:	At least 85% of students will receive a grade of B or better on their final course examination.
Measure/Method 2.2:	Capability will be assessed through performance in PAF 503, Public Affairs.
Performance Criterion 2.2:	At least 85% of students will receive a grade of B or better on their final course paper.

Based on the research done through the Global Mindset Institute, a 0.2 increase for Social Capital and the 1 point increase for Global Citizenship was determined to be practically significant.

Dear Pat,

I know we wanted to get us all together to discuss joint programs : I would still very much like to get this scheduled.

In the meantime however, I would be so grateful if you could send me a letter with your support of our concentrations below. Just a simple few sentences would suffice.

We see these concentrations as just the beginning of joint programming, along with the 4+1s we are setting up with several of the departments in CLAS. There is so much I hope and know we can do together.

With Gratitude, Sanjeev

How are you, Fabio? Hope you had a great weekend!

As you know, our Master of Global Management (MGM) has gone through a major curriculum transformation to integrate Thunderbird into the larger ASU family. We have worked with various colleges at ASU to offer concentrations for our degree. The following 15 concentrations for our MGM Program have been approved by the Provost Office. We are in the next steps of submitting the Proposal to Establish New Graduate Concentration forms to the Graduate College, then bringing them to the Senate and CAPC. To do that, we are asked to obtain a letter of support from your school. Could you please kindly provide us a letter of support saying you support all of the concentrations that may be of relevance to your school such as Global Affairs, Global Health Care Delivery, Sustainability Solutions, or others? The attached document outlines our MGM curriculum requirements and all the concentration course work for the 15 concentrations. Please kindly send us the letter of support by Monday, Jan 28, 2019 if you may. Please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions and concerns. Thanks very much!

Yes, I heard from Mark Hager on courses in Nonprofit Leadership Management and Rebekka Goodman on Sustainable Tourism. I got the syllabi from Mark, will ask Rebekka for the same.

Sanjeev,

The MGM looks exciting.

CISA supports all of the proposed MGM concentrations because we are confident that there is sufficient market demand for these MGM degrees as well as CISA's MS in Organizational Leadership degree—and ASU's other graduate programs in leadership.

Best wishes for much success with the MGM,
Duane

Hi Sanjeev,

Happy to do this – would love however to have a joint program with you ...

- Health Innovation (we have a great Master of Health Innovation degree option)
- Global Nursing & Healthcare Leadership (would love for this to be part of a dual degree MGM-to our DNP (Doctor of Nursing Practice in Executive Healthcare Leadership))

And we have a new MS in Aging – might be way cool to connect on that one as well....

Best
Judy

I'm including Craig in this email as he is our globalization champion for the college....

Looping in my amazing Associate Dean Lena Booth on this. We are not 100% sure why, but this is one of the requests we got from the Grad College. Given the transdisciplinary breadth of our new curriculum, they may also ask for an impact statement from you at the Teachers College for our concentrations. We'd love to see a concentration in intl educational leadership and management.

Dear Sanjeev,

Thanks very much for the note and sorry for the lag in responding. FSE is supportive of these concentrations.

I would also note that as these move forward there are a few concentrations where there might be possibilities for us to include some FSE courses (if appropriate). Realize that conversation can be had in due course though if that were of interest I would look forward to discussing. Those concentrations are,

- MGM in Global Entrepreneurship (Thunderbird)
- MGM in Global Healthcare Delivery (School of Health Solutions)
- MGM in Global Digital Transformation (Thunderbird)

Thanks,

– Kyle

(NEW GRADUATE INITIATIVES)

PROPOSAL PROCEDURES CHECKLIST

Academic units should adhere to the following procedures when requesting new curricular initiatives (degrees, concentrations or certificates).

Obtain the required approval from the Office of the Provost to move the initiative forward for internal ASU governance reviews/approvals. Please see the academic strategic plan website at: <https://provost.asu.edu/curriculum-development>.

Submit any new courses that will be required for the new curricular program to the Curriculum ChangeMaker online course approval system for review and approval.

- Additional information can be found at the Provost's Office Curriculum Development website: Courses link
- For questions regarding proposing new courses, send an email to: courses@asu.edu

Prepare the applicable proposal template and operational appendix for the proposed initiative.

Obtain letters or memos of support or collaboration (if applicable).

- When resources (faculty or courses) from another academic unit will be utilized
- When other academic units may be impacted by the proposed program request
- if the program will have an online delivery option support will be required from the Provost's office and ASU Online. (Please complete the ASU Online Offering form in Curriculum ChangeMaker to begin this request.)

Obtain the internal reviews/approvals of the academic unit.

- Internal faculty governance review committee(s)
- academic unit head (e.g. Department Chair or School Director)
- academic unit Dean (will submit approved proposal to the curriculumplanning@asu.edu email account for further ASU internal governance reviews (as applicable, University Graduate Council, CAPC and Senate)

Additional Recommendations

All new graduate programs require specific processes and procedures to maintain a successful degree program. Below are items that the Graduate College strongly recommends that academic units establish after the program is approved for implementation.

Establish satisfactory academic progress policies, processes and guidelines – Check within the proposing academic unit and/or college to see if there are existing academic progress policies and processes in place. If none have been established, please go to http://graduate.asu.edu/faculty_staff/policies and scroll down to the academic progress review and remediation processes (for faculty and staff) section to locate the reference tool and samples for establishing these procedures.

Establish a Graduate Student Handbook for the new degree program – Students need to know the specific requirements and milestones they must meet throughout their degree program. A Graduate Student Handbook provided to students when they are admitted to the degree program and published on the website for the new degree gives students this information. Include in the handbook the unit/college satisfactory academic progress policies, current degree program requirements (outlined in the approved proposal) and provide a link to the Graduate Policies and Procedures website. Please go to http://graduate.asu.edu/faculty_staff/policies to access Graduate Policies and Procedures.
