This proposal template should be completed and submitted by the Dean's Office to the Office of the University Provost [<mailto:curriculumplanning@asu.edu>]. Implementation information: Degree Search is our official record of the academic catalog. Therefore, all academic programs which are active and have students enrolled are required to be listed on Degree Search. Upon request by the Dean's Office, an academic program can be removed from the undergraduate or graduate application; however, the program will remain in degree search with the notation "This program is no longer accepting applications," until the approved effective date of the disestablishment.

Requested effective date: 2020-21

Briefly describe the rationale for disestablishment:

The proposed disestablishment of the Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction (Autism Spectrum Disorders) is a partner to the establishment of the new concentration Master of Arts in Special Education (Autism Spectrum Disorders). The new concentration is more recognized in the field than the C&I degree, and we will close admission to the C&I concentration in coordination with the opening of the new concentration MA in Special Education (Autism Spectrum Disorders).

Impact on other existing programs:

May include availability of course content for students in other majors who may need it; other.
 There is no impact to other existing programs

Impact on current students:

Estimate number of students still enrolled; anticipated date of last graduates; arrangements for continuing students and students in articulated transfer pathways (e.g., MAPP, TAG).

There are approximately 65 active students in the MEd Curriculum and Instruction (Autism Spectrum Disorders) degree. It is anticipated the majority of current students will complete the program by December 2020. Students who are unable to complete the degree in the proscribed course sequence will have an opportunity to complete the degree program using courses from the MA Special Education (Autism Spectrum Disorders) degree to meet program requirements.

Applications:

What term should applications close? If this change should be made immediately upon approval, please indicate this. Please note that the program will remain on Degree Search until such a time that no students remain enrolled in the program.

Applications for the MEd Curriculum and Instruction (Autism Spectrum Disorders) (TEASDMED) program should close for fall 2019 and after. New applicants will enroll in the MA Special Education (Autism Spectrum Disorders) degree program.

Current applicants:

Describe actions that will be taken regarding admitted students or students who have applied to this program? If current applicants should be moved to a new program, please indicate the plan code of that program.

Applicants may move to the MA Special Education (Autism Spectrum Disorders) if it is the applicant's preference. Students admitted to the MEd Curriculum and Instruction will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

Additional information:

Provide any relevant information not required above that will assist in evaluating the proposal.
