Requested effective date: 2019-2020

Select the catalog year for which students can begin applying into this program with the new name.

Note:

1. Name changes can only be implemented so as to be effective for a fall semester.
2. All existing and continuing students will be moved to the new name.
3. Students who complete the degree requirements prior to the fall effective date graduate under the old name.

Briefly describe the proposed change and rationale for the change:

ASU's Del E. Webb School of Construction, part of the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering, is changing its BS degree program name to Construction Management and Technology. The addition of Technology to the degree name keeps pace with the increasing technological advancements in the field. The curriculum has changed to keep pace with the evolving construction industry, that has seen a growth in technologies such as building information modeling and augmented reality, software for controlling projects, and sustainable construction materials. The most recent changes have added required courses to the BS in Construction Technology, Project Controls, and Sustainable Construction. This change also positions the Del E. Webb School of Construction well for the direction the industry is going with automation, robotics, and machine learning.

Discuss the impact of this change on current students and/or enrollment:

All students will be notified in advance that the summer before the fall effective term of the rename will be the last time they can graduate with the old name.
