Course information:
Copy and paste current course information from Class Search/Course Catalog.

College/School: College of Liberal Arts and Sciences
Department: School of Social Transformation
Prefix: WST
Number: 380
Title: Race, Gender, and Class
Units: 3

Is this a cross-listed course? No
Is this a shared course? Yes

Note: For courses that are crosslisted and/or shared, a letter of support from the chair/director of each department that offers the course is required for each designation requested. By submitting this letter of support, the chair/director agrees to ensure that all faculty teaching the course are aware of the General Studies designation(s) and will teach the course in a manner that meets the criteria for each approved designation.

Is this a permanent numbered course with topics? No

Area(s) proposed course will serve:
A single course may be proposed for more than one core or awareness area. A course may satisfy a core area requirement and more than one awareness area requirements concurrently, but may not satisfy requirements in two core areas simultaneously, even if approved for those areas. With departmental consent, an approved General Studies course may be counted toward both the General Studies requirement and the major program of study.

Checklists for general studies designations:
Complete and attach the appropriate checklist
- Literacy and Critical Inquiry core courses (L)
- Mathematics core courses (MA)
- Computer/statistics/quantitative applications core courses (CS)
- Humanities, Arts and Design core courses (HU)
- Social-Behavioral Sciences core courses (SB)
- Natural Sciences core courses (SQ/SG)
- Cultural Diversity in the United States courses (C)
- Global Awareness courses (G)
- Historical Awareness courses (H)

A complete proposal should include:
- Signed course proposal cover form
- Criteria checklist for General Studies designation(s) being requested
- Course catalog description
- Sample syllabus for the course
- Copy of table of contents from the textbook and list of required readings/books

It is respectfully requested that proposals are submitted electronically with all files compiled into one PDF.

Arizona State University Criteria Checklist for

CULTURAL DIVERSITY IN THE UNITED STATES [C]

Rationale and Objectives

The contemporary "culture" of the United States involves the complex interplay of many different cultures that exist side by side in various states of harmony and conflict. The history of the United States involves the experiences not only of different groups of European immigrants and their descendants but also of diverse groups, including, but not limited to, American Indians, Latinos, African Americans, and Asian Americans--all of whom played significant roles in the development of contemporary culture and together shape the future of the United States. At the same time, the recognition that gender, class, and religious differences cut across all distinctions of race and ethnicity offers an even richer variety of perspectives from which to view ourselves. Awareness of our cultural diversity and its multiple sources can illuminate our collective past, present, and future and can help us to achieve greater mutual understanding and respect.

The objective of the Cultural Diversity requirement is to promote awareness and appreciation of cultural diversity within the contemporary United States through the study of the cultural, social, or scientific contributions of women and minority groups, examination of their experiences in the U.S., or exploration of successful or unsuccessful interactions between and among cultural groups.

WST 380: RACE, CLASS, AND GENDER

Instructor: Dr. L. Anderson

Course Overview

Welcome to WST 380, Race, Class, and Gender. This seven-unit course will explore identity categories (e.g. gender, race, ethnicity, economic class, nationality, religion, and sexual orientation) through feminist and critical race studies frameworks. In brief, this means that we will be examining how multiple identity categories combine to shape our access to, and experiences within, various social spaces.

Please note sometimes we will address sensitive issues in this course. If you come across a topic that you are concerned about, please contact me so we can discuss options for an alternative assignment. However, I do ask that students attempt to respectfully engage with as much of the course material as possible. Remember: in order to excel in college you are not required to agree with the perspectives presented in a reading or lecture; rather, your grades are determined by your understanding and application of the academic theories used within a particular field of study.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course:

- Students will understand how multiple identity categories combine to shape experiences
- Students will be able to articulate the concept of intersectionality
- Students will understand structural inequality
- Students will understand how women of diverse backgrounds have experienced, resisted, and confronted sexism, racism, classism, and homophobia.

Course Topics, Schedule, & Grading

Course Readings:

All required readings and videos are posted under each weekly unit on the course Blackboard page. There is not a required textbook for this course.

Assignments:

DISCUSSION BOARDS: Your “original” posts must be 300+ words in length and you must utilize your course readings and videos in order to earn full credit. Be sure to cite the materials you use! Additionally, you must also post a 100+ word reply to one of your peers.
A full credit “reply” post is more substantial than “I agree...”; the goal of reply posts is to add to the discussion.

REFLECTION/RESPONSE PAPERS: The specific instructions for these two assignments are provided under the appropriate weekly unit tab. The objective of each short paper is to utilize course readings and materials in crafting a substantial academic analysis of a specific issue. In keeping with college-level writing expectations, all papers must be typed, double spaced, in 12 point Times New Roman font, with 1” margins. If you need assistance with editing, I highly recommend making an appointment with ASU’s writing lab (it’s free!)

MEDIA DISCUSSION BOARD/PRESENTATION: Your assignment for the post this week is to find something that promotes social change, addressing gender, race, sexuality and/or class. It can be something in the media (a tv show, film, music video, artist, magazine, etc.,) a community organization or even an individual. Please discuss what you have picked AND how it addresses change- please put into a visual presentation (powerpoint, video, etc.). [Online students post as a discussion board; in person students will present in class]

QUIZZES/ EXAMS: These are timed and are made up of both multiple choice and true/false questions. Further instruction for each will be posted on blackboard

UNIT 3
Intersectionality

In Unit Three we attempt to understand how race, class, and gender all interact with one another (as opposed to operating as individual variables within a person's life). This concept is known as "intersectionality." We want to look at how systems of inequality mutually constitute and reinforce each other, and how using multiple axes of analysis change our understanding of inequality.

---

UNIT 4
Popular Representations of Difference and Inequality

In this unit, we are taking what we have learned about identities and applying it to a discussion of media and representation. While we will primarily be focusing on popular culture, keep in mind that "representation" happens in spaces as varied as public policy documents, classroom textbooks, and everyday conversations-- just to name a few.

NATION AND INTERSECTIONALITY

This week we begin to consider how nation is also defined by the intersections of gender, race, class, religion, and other social locations. For example, post-9/11, there is more attention to religious difference more specifically and more questions about immigration more broadly. People use coded language to talk about race, sexuality, gender, and who "belongs" or "doesn't belong."

Maysoon Zayid, TED talk, "I've got 99 problems... palsy is just one"

UNIT 6

COALITION BUILDING

Why it is important to build coalitions? How do coalitions work, and why they are not always permanent or full of agreement? How we can make structural change through coalitions?

Jordan, June. "Report from the Bahamas, 1982," Meridians 3 (2003) 2: 6-16 (this will take you to download the PDF)
UNIT 7 Wrapping It Up/ Social Change

We end our exploration of social categories and identity by considering the ways in which individuals have agency to resist and redefine these social processes. The videos and lecture for Unit Seven focus on contemporary responses to social inequality and highlight a number of ways in which it can be achieved.

A NOTE ABOUT FINAL GRADES: These point brackets are firm. Please don’t ask me to bump your final grade up because you are “almost there”, “graduating”, etc. It’s not fair for me to make an exception for a single person within a class of 50-100 students.

Grading Procedure

Grades reflect your performance on assignments and adherence to deadlines. Graded assignments will be available within one week of the due date. You have one week to contest your grade after it is posted. Please do not wait to ask about grades until the end of the semester.

Communicating With the Instructor

This course uses a discussion board called "Hallway Conversations" for general questions about the course. Prior to posting a question, please check the syllabus, announcements, and existing posts. If you do not find an answer, post your question. You are encouraged to respond to the questions of your classmates.

Please email me directly with any personal matters, questions or any other concerns. You can expect a response within 48 hours.

Email and Internet

ASU email is an official means of communication among students, faculty, and staff. Students are expected to read and act upon email in a timely fashion. Students bear the responsibility of missed messages and should check their ASU-assigned email regularly.
All instructor correspondence will be sent to your ASU email account.

Course Time Commitment

This three-credit course requires approximately 135 hours of work.

Late or Missed Assignments

No late assignments are accepted. Published assignment due dates (Arizona Mountain Standard time) are firm. Please follow the appropriate University policies to request an accommodation for religious practices or to accommodate a missed assignment due to University-sanctioned activities.

Submitting Assignments

All assignments, unless otherwise announced, MUST be submitted to the designated area of Blackboard

Drop and Add Dates/Withdrawals

This course adheres to a compressed schedule and may be part of a sequenced program, therefore, there is a limited timeline to drop or add the course. Consult with your advisor and notify your instructor to add or drop this course. If you are considering a withdrawal, review the following ASU policies: Withdrawal from Classes, Medical/Compassionate Withdrawal, and a Grade of Incomplete.

Grade Appeals

Grade disputes must first be addressed by discussing the situation with the instructor. If the dispute is not resolved with the instructor, the student may appeal to the department chair per the University Policy for Student Appeal Procedures on Grades.

Student Conduct and Academic Integrity

ASU expects and requires its students to act with honesty, integrity, and respect. Required behavior standards are listed in the Student Code of Conduct and Student Disciplinary Procedures, Computer, Internet, and Electronic Communications policy, ASU Student Academic Integrity Policy, and outlined by the Office of Student Rights & Responsibilities. Anyone in violation of these policies is subject to sanctions.

Students are entitled to receive instruction free from interference by other members of the class. An instructor may withdraw a student from the course when the student’s behavior disrupts the educational process per Instructor Withdrawal of a Student for Disruptive Classroom Behavior.

Appropriate online behavior (also known as netiquette) is defined by the instructor and includes keeping course discussion posts focused on the assigned topics. Students must maintain a cordial atmosphere and use tact in expressing differences of opinion. Inappropriate discussion board posts may be deleted by the instructor.
The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities accepts incident reports from students, faculty, staff, or other persons who believe that a student or a student organization may have violated the Student Code of Conduct.

Prohibition of Commercial Note Taking Services

In accordance with ACD 304-06 Commercial Note Taking Services, written permission must be secured from the official instructor of the class in order to sell the instructor's oral communication in the form of notes. Notes must have the notetaker's name as well as the instructor's name, the course number, and the date.

Course Evaluation

Students are encouraged to complete the course evaluation. The feedback provides valuable information to the instructor and the college and is used to improve student learning. Students are notified when the online evaluation form is available.

Syllabus Disclaimer

The syllabus is a statement of intent and serves as an implicit agreement between the instructor and the student. Every effort will be made to avoid changing the course schedule but the possibility exists that unforeseen events will make syllabus changes necessary. Please remember to check your ASU email and the course site often.

Accessibility Statement

In compliance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 504, and the Americans with Disabilities Act as amended (ADAAA) of 2008, professional disability specialists and support staff at the Disability Resource Center (DRC) facilitate a comprehensive range of academic support services and accommodations for qualified students with disabilities.

Qualified students with disabilities may be eligible to receive academic support services and accommodations. Eligibility is based on qualifying disability documentation and assessment of individual need. Students who believe they have a current and essential need for disability accommodations are responsible for requesting accommodations and providing qualifying documentation to the DRC. Every effort is made to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities.

Qualified students who wish to request an accommodation for a disability should contact the DRC by going to https://eoss.asu.edu/drc, calling (480) 965-1234 or emailing DRC@asu.edu. To speak with a specific office, please use the following information:
