Arizona State University Criteria Checklist for

HUMANITIES, ARTS AND DESIGN [HU]

Rationale and Objectives

The humanities disciplines are concerned with questions of human existence and meaning, the nature of thinking and knowing, with moral and aesthetic experience. The humanities develop values of all kinds by making the human mind more supple, critical, and expansive. They are concerned with the study of the textual and artistic traditions of diverse cultures, including traditions in literature, philosophy, religion, ethics, history, and aesthetics. In sum, these disciplines explore the range of human thought and its application to the past and present human environment. They deepen awareness of the diversity of the human heritage and its traditions and histories and they may also promote the application of this knowledge to contemporary societies.

The study of the arts and design, like the humanities, deepens the student’s awareness of the diversity of human societies and cultures. The arts have as their primary purpose the creation and study of objects, installations, performances and other means of expressing or conveying aesthetic concepts and ideas. Design study concerns itself with material objects, images and spaces, their historical development, and their significance in society and culture. Disciplines in the arts and design employ modes of thought and communication that are often nonverbal, which means that courses in these areas tend to focus on objects, images, and structures and/or on the practical techniques and historical development of artistic and design traditions. The past and present accomplishments of artists and designers help form the student’s ability to perceive aesthetic qualities of art work and design.

The Humanities, Arts and Design are an important part of the General Studies Program, for they provide an opportunity for students to study intellectual and imaginative traditions and to observe and/or learn the production of art work and design. The knowledge acquired in courses fulfilling the Humanities, Arts and Design requirement may encourage students to investigate their own personal philosophies or beliefs and to understand better their own social experience. In sum, the Humanities, Arts and Design core area enables students to broaden and deepen their consideration of the variety of human experience.

AIS 480 - Actualizing Decolonization

Course description: Provides an in-depth investigation of the theory and concepts of colonization, decolonization, and Indigenous peoples in America, with brief comparisons with global Indigenous peoples and experiences. Covers classic scholarly works on colonization and decolonization to understand the frameworks in which colonization and decolonization develops, expands, and impacts Indigenous peoples. Through that theoretical understanding, examines and formulates ways in which decolonization can impact and be integrated into Indigenous lives and communities. Students shift from theory to praxis by writing and presenting on an informal grant proposal for a decolonizing project that can be implemented in an Indigenous or non-Indigenous community.

Course Description and Course Objectives
This course grounds students in the theory and concepts of colonization, decolonization and Indigenous peoples in America, with brief comparisons with global Indigenous peoples and experiences. Through that theoretical understanding, we will examine and formulate ways in which decolonization can impact and be integrated into Indigenous lives and communities.

Students will:
• know and understand an overview of the historical political relationship between Indigenous peoples in America and U.S. Federal government
• Define and understand the origins, processes and ramifications of imperialism, colonization, and decolonization
• Analyze the social, economic and political impact of Colonization on Indigenous peoples in America, with brief comparisons with global Indigenous peoples and experiences
• Explore and Analyze the social, economic and political impact of Decolonization
• know and understand the issues facing Indigenous populations and organizations as a result of colonization and globalization
• Understand and demonstrate Decolonization from theory to praxis

Student Learning Outcomes
From this course students will effectively:
• Critically analyze, identify, and evaluate media and readings from a variety of texts
• Demonstrate their knowledge and critical reading and thinking skills through class discussion, written reviews and presentations.
• Orally demonstrate an understanding of the course content through small-group and classroom discussions
• Formulate and develop a decolonization project and presentation in an informal grant proposal

For Graduate Credit:
TBA

Grades
I will be using the + / - grading system. My grading scale is as follows:

- A+ = 1000-970
- B+ = 899-870
- C+ = 799-770
- D = 699-600
- A = 969-940
- B = 869-840
- C = 769-700
- E = 599-0
- A- = 939-900
- B- = 839-800

Assignments below total points - 1000pts

- 5 – Thesis Reviews – A 250 word (max.) review of a specific article. The focus must be on stating the author’s thesis and supporting evidence for the article. Five reviews are required in the first 5 weeks. However, if readings are not being done, they will be assigned the full semester. (100 pts)

- 3 – 3-5 page written analysis of the readings. Students will write a critical review of a book or 3-4 articles. I am looking for different areas of discussion: Identifying and analyzing the author’s thesis, How book relates to or illustrates issues discussed in class and other books/articles we have read. (300 pts total)

- 10 page (min) paper/project. Develop a project for the purpose of decolonization within a community or educational, political, economic, or social environment. The paper should be in an informal grant proposal form. (200 pts)

- Letter of Intent. For grant proposal – project description, budget, focus. (100pts)

- Presentation 15-18 minute presentation of the project. Explain how it is a decolonizing project, specific funding requests, and organization of the project/program. (100 pts).

- Participation – throughout the semester (200 pts)

- For Graduate Students – 1) Either the Project or a Literature Review covering the additional literature and literature in student’s research area. 2) Student can either present on literature or lead a class discussion. (300pts)

Late Papers and Assignments. Submit papers to SafeAssign. All papers should be placed in SafeAssign in Blackboard, no emailed papers. The Final paper should be printed and handed in and submitted to SafeAssign. Turn in all papers and assignment to Safe Assignments on Blackboard. When you download your paper or assignment – if you do no see the online confirmation, I do not have it.

Papers and assignments are late after 11:59pm on the due date as long as student attends class. Late papers are accepted up to 7 days past their due date. NO LATER. Each day they are late, 10% will be deducted from total possible points.
5-308 Student Code of Conduct.
Prohibits “all forms of student academic dishonesty, including but not limited to, cheating, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty and plagiarism.” Sanctions include, failing grade of assignment, course, and/or expulsion or suspension from the university. Any student caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a failing grade or an XE grade in this course.

As stated in the Student Academic Integrity Policy, “Plagiarism means using another's words, ideas, materials or work without properly acknowledging and documenting the source. Students are responsible for knowing the rules governing the use of another's work or materials and for acknowledging and documenting the source appropriately.”

You are responsible for knowing the Student Code of Conduct and Student Academic Integrity Policy.

Academic Integrity http://provost.asu.edu/academicintegrity

Expectations of Students
- Come to class prepared. It is your responsibility to know which assignments and readings are due and to come to class having read or completed written assignments. (please see Late Policy)
- Turn in assignments on time. Do not get in the habit of turning in assignments late or not at all. I have seen an increase of late or missing assignments. It is your responsibility as a student to turn in assignments on time. Do not let this become a habit you take into the workplace.
- Ask for help. If you are having academic difficulty, ask for help early. Do not wait until the end of semester, by that time it may be too late to take care of the issues or prevent a failing grade.

Classroom Etiquette
- Cell Phones. I do not allow or tolerate the use of cell phones during class. Turn off cell phone or ringer during class. If you are expecting an emergency call, turn your phone to non-ring/vibrate and take your call outside the classroom with minimal disruption. I do not allow ANY text messaging in class. If you are caught text messaging in class, you will be asked to leave class for that day. Should the problem continue the professor will consider it disruptive and withdraw you from the course.
- Laptops. I allow the use of computers in class for note-taking or to look up readings pertaining to class. While in class disable the wi-fi capability. Laptops, or phones should not be used to surfing the web, checking Facebook status (or the like) or email, play a game, or IM. Such uses of a laptop are distracting to you and classmates around you. If you or your classmates often seem distracted by what is on your screen, I will ask you to put the computer away and if it continues you will be asked to leave class for that day. Should the problem persists the professor will consider it disruptive and withdraw you from the course.

- Recording. Recording will only be permitted for justified reasons and with explicit written permission from the instructor. Any unauthorized recording or duplication of course materials including but not limited to lectures and handouts without the expressed written consent of the instructor is prohibited. These materials are protected by copyright under Arizona Common Law. If you wish to duplicate materials or tape record for your own use, you must obtain permission from the instructor and dispose of the copy and/or recording at the end of the course.

- Although I encourage classroom discussion, remarks and statements that I find offensive and those I perceive to be offensive to other students, such as those that denigrate or dehumanize others will NOT be tolerated.

Attendance. Attendance is required. We meet only once a week which is the equivalent to 2.5 classes. Therefore, missing more than two weeks will negatively impact your grade. It is your responsibility to keep up with readings and papers. In case of an emergency absence, let the professor know as soon as possible, by phone, email, or in-person. In case of death in family, please inform the Student Advocacy Office (965-6547, Student Services Bldg. 263), they will inform all your professors of your absence. I understand ceremonies take place throughout the semester, please let me know ahead of time, if possible. Inform me of any absences due to ceremonies so we may arrange when papers turned in with a minimal penalty.

Disability Accommodations: Qualified students with disabilities who will require disability accommodations in this class are encouraged to make their requests to me at the beginning of the semester either during office hours or by appointment. Note: Prior to receiving disability accommodations, verification of eligibility from the Disability Resource Center (DRC) is required. Disability information is confidential.

Establishing Eligibility for Disability Accommodations: Students who feel they will need disability accommodations in this class but have not registered with the Disability Resource Center (DRC) should contact DRC immediately. Their office is located on the first floor of the University Center Building, Suite 160. DRC staff can also be reached at: 602-496-4321 (V), 602-496-0378 (TTY), and at: DPCDisability-Q@asu.edu. Their hours are 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday. Eligibility and documentation policies can be viewed at: http://campus.asu.edu/downtown/drc.

Incompletes. I do not give incompletes, unless unusual or emergency circumstances mitigate. An incomplete is only given if student has completed 2/3 of semester’s work or in emergency circumstances after student has had discussions with professor. I have found that incompletes impede student progress and create more difficulties during completion. If left incomplete, student’s grade becomes an E after a calendar year. Therefore, if any difficulties arise, please come talk to me as soon as possible.
I reserve the right to administer pop quizzes if I feel the readings are not being completed.

This syllabus is not written in stone; therefore, I reserve the right to change assignments and topics.

still exists between the artist and his subject. Instead of being irritated by what writers say, and accusing them of trying to create disturbances which they only describe and announce, it would be better to listen more attentively and take their warnings more seriously. Do I not have the right, after so many disastrous and useless colonial wars, to think that this book could have been useful to the colonizer as well as to the colonized?
