Course description:

Requested designation: Global Awareness-G
Note: a separate proposal is required for each designation requested

Eligibility:
Permanent numbered courses must have completed the university's review and approval process.
For the rules governing approval of omnibus courses, contact Phyllis.Lucic@asu.edu or Lauren.Leo@asu.edu.

Submission deadlines dates are as follows:
For Fall 2015 Effective Date: October 9, 2014
For Spring 2016 Effective Date: March 19, 2015

Area(s) proposed course will serve:
A single course may be proposed for more than one core or awareness area. A course may satisfy a core area requirement and more than one awareness area requirements concurrently, but may not satisfy requirements in two core areas simultaneously, even if approved for those areas. With departmental consent, an approved General Studies course may be counted toward both the General Studies requirement and the major program of study.

Arizona State University Criteria Checklist for

GLOBAL AWARENESS [G]

Rationale and Objectives

Human organizations and relationships have evolved from being family and village centered to modern global interdependence. The greatest challenge in the nuclear age is developing and maintaining a global perspective which fosters international cooperation. While the modern world is comprised of politically independent states, people must transcend nationalism and recognize the significant interdependence among peoples of the world. The exposure of students to different cultural systems provides the background of thought necessary to developing a global perspective.

Cultural learning is present in many disciplines. Exposure to perspectives on art, business, engineering, music, and the natural and social sciences that lead to an understanding of the contemporary world supports the view that intercultural interaction has become a daily necessity. The complexity of American society forces people to balance regional and national goals with global concerns. Many of the most serious problems are world issues and require solutions which exhibit mutuality and reciprocity. No longer are hunger, ecology, health care delivery, language planning, information exchanges, economic and social developments, law, technology transfer, philosophy, and the arts solely national concerns; they affect all the people of the world. Survival may be dependent on the ability to generate global solutions to some of the most pressing problems.

The word university, from universitas, implies that knowledge comes from many sources and is not restricted to local, regional, or national perspectives. The Global Awareness Area recognizes the need for an understanding of the values, elements, and social processes of cultures other than the culture of the United States. Learning which recognizes the nature of others cultures and the relationship of America’s cultural system to generic human goals and welfare will help create the multicultural and global perspective necessary for effective interaction in the human community.

Courses which meet the requirement in global awareness are of one or more of the following types: (1) in-depth area studies which are concerned with an examination of culture-specific elements of a region of the world, country, or culture group, (2) the study of contemporary non-English language courses that have a significant cultural component, (3) comparative cultural studies with an emphasis on non-U.S. areas, and (4) in-depth studies of non-U.S. centered cultural interrelationships of global scope such as the global interdependence produced by problems of world ecology, multinational corporations, migration, and the threat of nuclear war.

1. Studies must be composed of subject matter that addresses or leads to an understanding of the contemporary world outside the U.S.

2. The course must match at least one of the following descriptions: (check all which may apply):
   a. In-depth area studies which are concerned with an examination of culture-specific elements of a region, country or culture group. The area or culture studied must be non-U.S. and the study must contribute to an understanding of the contemporary world.

   b. The course is a language course for a contemporary non-English language, and has a significant cultural component.

   c. The course is a comparative cultural study in which most, i.e., more than half, of the material is devoted to non-U.S. areas.

   d. The course is a study of the cultural significance of a non-U.S.-centered global issue. The course examines the role of its target issue within each culture and the interrelatedness of various global cultures on that issue. It looks at the cultural significance of its issue in various cultures outside the U.S., both examining the issue’s place within each culture and the effects of that issue on world cultures.”

| 2a. In-depth area studies which are concerned with an examination of culture-specific elements of a region, country or culture group. The area or culture studied must be non-US and the study must contribute to an understanding of the contemporary world. | Since every few years a war erupts in Israel, war is a meaningful aspect of contemporary Israeli culture both nationally and personally. This national and personal impact is reflected in Israeli film. The main focus of the course is to explore the relationship between Israelis and wars through the media of film. | Students are asked throughout the course to explore and reflect upon elements of Israeli film that are very specific to Israeli culture. For example, since all Israelis are required by law to serve in the army (men and women), all Israelis relate personally to films about Israeli wars. Since each film is about a specific war, there is an expectation by Israelis that the feature film will reflect reality. In reference to Waltz with Bashir (an animated movie), students are asked to discuss the film’s purpose in seeking the truth and are asked if the director/main character managed to do so. See page 10. In the film "Beaufort" the three main actors did not serve full time in the army, or not at all. This fact appeared in any discussion about the film and the willingness of Israelis to go and watch the movie. Students are asked to reflect upon the relevance of this in understanding contemporary Israeli culture. See page 9 for the film Beaufort discussion question.
HEB 349 Israeli Wars in Israeli Movies, an iCourse in English:

From its first day of independence, the State of Israel has been in a state of war with its Arab neighbors. Every few years, the fighting erupted into an open war. At the beginning of the country's history, there was a consensus that the wars were forced on the Israelis, and therefore, the heavy toll on human life was unavoidable. Since 1967’s Six Day War and the political change in 1977, Israeli society is split in attitude toward war and its impact on the Jewish society of Israel. The absolute belief in the political and military leaders, who led Israel to initiate military operations, was shaken and new political agendas entered the political arena. To this divided society, the first and second Intifadas occurred with the waves of terrorism. These events added fire to the heated debates in Israel.

One means of expression is through the cinema. In this course we will watch, analyze, and discuss selected movies on the Israeli wars and terrorism in the streets of Israel. Through these movies, produced by Israelis, we’ll try to understand the mood and attitude of the Israelis toward war, enemies, and political and military leaders.

Course Overview:

From the first day of independence, the State of Israel has been in a state of war with Arab countries. Every few years it erupts into an active war. In the early years of the State of Israel, there was a consensus that the wars were forced on the Israelis, and therefore, the heavy toll on human’s life was unavoidable. After 1967’s Six Day War and the political change in 1977, the Israeli society became split in their position toward war, its impact on the Jewish society of Israel, and the situation where more than 2 million Arabs are under military Israeli rule in the occupied territories. In addition, the absolute belief in the political and military leaders, which lead Israel to initiate military operations, was shaken, and new agendas entered the political arena. The first and second Intifada brought waves of terrorism in Israel to this divided society. These events added fire to already heated debates in Israel.

One way to express opinions, illustrate values, and create public debate is through movies. In this course we will watch, analyze, and discuss selected Israeli movies on the Israeli wars and terrorism in the streets of Israel. We will explore changes in the mood, presentations, and attitude of the Israelis toward war, enemies, and the political and military leaders, from the first Israeli war, to the present day.

Course Prerequisites:

ENG 101 or 107
Course Objectives

- To understand the historical background of the State of Israel
- To understand the historical background of the Israeli wars with Arab countries
- To be familiar with Israeli movies centered on the Israeli wars and terrorism
- To critically examine social and political changes that happened in Israel from its independence to the present day.
- To encourage students to critically analyze perceptions of war, security, and fear, as seen in the Israeli movies.
- To teach students to contextualize their interpretation of the films in a wider social, cultural, aesthetic, and historical contexts, in which the films have been made.
- To provide the students with conceptual tools to evaluate and engage with a range of primary and secondary sources, with film material, and critical analyses.
- To develop students’ critical thinking and awareness in regard to current affairs in the world, as well as in their own life and the US.

Resources

This is the list of Israeli movies that are part of the course and will be available on Blackboard.

1. Hill 24 Doesn’t Answer (1955), director: Thorold Dickinson
2. Himmo King of Jerusalem (1987), director: Amos Guttmman
4. Halfon Hill Doesn’t Answer (1976), director Assi Dayan
10. Waltz with Bashir (2008), director: Ari Folman
Course assignments:

Quiz
For every movie there is a short online quiz. Answer the questions in short sentences.
I recommend you go over the questions before watching the movies.

Write:
There are comprehensive questions that go along with each movie and reading.

Discussion Board:
At the end of each movie, you need to reflect in one or two posting, as instructed.
1. For each movie, choose one scene that impressed you and you think is meaningful to the movie.
   Describe the scene and explain your choice.
2. Related to a question, if assigned to the movie.
   I encourage you to read other students’ posting and respond to them. This will enable us to have a dialogue that will make the course more interesting and beneficial.

Unit paper:
At the end of each unit, there is a given subject that you are required to write about. The subject represents issues raised in the units’ readings and movies, but also present in previous units’ readings and movies so don’t forget to relate to them as well. For the units’ paper, additional sources are required.

Course Requirements

This is an online course and therefore there will not be any face-to-face class sessions. All assignments and course interactions will utilize internet technologies.

Computer Requirements:

This course requires that students have access to a computer that can access the internet. Students will need to have access to, and be able to use, the following software packages:

- A web browser (Internet Explorer or Mozilla Firefox)
- Adobe Acrobat Reader (free)
- Adobe Flash Player (free)
- Microsoft Word

It is the student responsible for having a reliable computer and internet connection throughout the course.
Email and Internet

The students must have an active ASU e-mail account and access to the Internet. All lecturer correspondence will be sent to the students’ ASU e-mail account. Please plan on checking your ASU email account regularly for course related messages.

This course uses Blackboard for the facilitation of communications between faculty and students, submission of assignments, and posting of grades. The my ASU/Blackboard Course Site can be accessed at http://my.asu.edu

Campus Network or Blackboard Outage

When access to Blackboard is not available for an extended period of time (greater than one entire evening - 6pm till 11pm) the due date for assignments will be changed to the next day by midnight.

Submitting Assignments

All assignments, unless otherwise announced by the lecturer, MUST be submitted via Blackboard. Each assignment will have a designated place to submit the assignment.

Lecturer’s expectations:

This is a distance learning course but not a self-paced course. Assignments have regular due dates. Due to the structure of the course, students are responsible for completion of all coursework and posting them by the end of their due dates.

Assignments are due before 11.59 p.m. of its respective due date.

Late work – Work is considered late if it is not turned in by midnight (Arizona time) on the day it is due. Late work will NOT be accepted. The due dates for the assignments are clearly outlined and will be upheld. Please start early and don’t allow yourself to get behind. The students are responsible for keeping up in this course.

Announcements:

Students are responsible for reading all messages posted on the "Announcements" section of Blackboard. The "Announcements" section will contain messages to the class as a whole, instructions for assignments, and any updates to the schedule from the lecturer. Be sure to check the "Announcements" section regularly.
Grading Policy:

The overall grade for the course will be calculated on a point system. Course’s grade will be based on points accrued over the semester for several activities which are:

1. Quizzes 300 points 18%
2. Writing short essay answers about the movies and the readings 450 points 27%
3. Discussion Board 430 points 25%
4. Unit Papers 500 points 30%

Creating a meaningful thread to another student’s posting will add bonus points.

The course content is copyrighted material and students may not copy or download. (see ACD 304–06, “Commercial Note Taking Services” for more information).

Academic Integrity

Academic honesty is expected of all students in all examinations, papers, laboratory work, academic transactions and records. The possible sanctions include, but are not limited to, appropriate grade penalties, course failure (indicated on the transcript as a grade of E), course failure due to academic dishonesty (indicated on the transcript as a grade of XE), loss of registration privileges, disqualification and dismissal. For more information, see http://provost.asu.edu/academicintegrity.
Plagiarism
Plagiarism is stealing. Whenever you borrow a phrase, sentence, paragraph – even an idea stated in your own words – from any outside source (news writing, magazine, TV show, book) without giving credit to that source, you have plagiarized. Plagiarism is cheating yourself and someone else. The consequences are severe including failure for the assignment, probable failure for the course, disciplinary referral to the Dean and possible expulsion from the University. For more information, see the Writing Programs Guide at

Disability Accommodations
Qualified students with disabilities who will require disability accommodations in this class are encouraged to make their requests to me at the beginning of the semester either during office hours or by appointment. Note: Prior to receiving disability accommodations, verification of eligibility from the Disability Resource Center (DRC) is required. Disability information is confidential.

Establishing Eligibility for Disability Accommodations
Students who feel they will need disability accommodations in this class but have not registered with the Disability Resource Center (DRC) should contact DRC immediately. Their office is located on the first floor of the Matthews Center Building. DRC staff can also be reached at: 480-965-1234 (V), 480-965-9000 (TTY). For additional information visit: www.asu.edu/studentaffairs/ed/drc. Their hours are 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday.

Changes to Syllabus:
The lecturer reserves the right to change any part of the syllabus. If any changes are made a message will be posted in the “Announcements” section of Blackboard.

If you have any questions or hesitations, I encourage you to write to me and ask.
I wish us all an interesting and challenging course,

Unit 1: Introduction

WEEK 1

Write:
1. List all the wars Israel participated in since its establishment. (Dates, causes, against which countries, the outcome of each one, who was the Prime Minister and the Defense Minister at the time)
2. Based on the introduction you read, write:
   a. What do the movies represent to the society that produced them?
   b. The different historical stages of the State of Israel, from its establishment to the present day, as reflected in Israeli fiction movies. Create a historical review of the transformations the Israeli movies went through that represent the change in national focus and identity of each period.

Unit 2: The Hill as a Symbol

WEEK 2

Watch the movie: Hill 24 Doesn’t Answer

Quiz: on the movie

Write: How is the state of Israel conceived in the movie in present, at the time of the movie, and in the future?

Discussion Board
1. The movie wants to portrait the Israelis as having high moral, in contrast to their enemy. Where can we see this in the movie?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice

---

WEEK 3

Watch the movie: Beaufort, the movie and the interview with the director
Quiz: on the movie

Write: A command was given that when the convoy would arrive to the post, the soldiers should load it with unneeded equipment, to help speed up the evacuation. Liraz, the post commander, answers that all is necessary, and that if there is one thing that is not necessary, then the whole post is not necessary. What do you think of his argument?

Discussion Board:
1. Whenever the name of this movie, Beaufort, is mentioned among Israelis, it ends up with a discussion about the three main actors who did not serve in the army or did not complete their mandatory service. Do you think this is relevant?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice.

WEEK 4

Watch the movie: Hill Halfon Doesn’t Answer

Quiz on the movie

Write: Explain the name of the movie and how it is connected to the other two movies of the unit.

Discussion Board:
1. The movie Hill Halfon Doesn’t Answer is a satire. What are the satirical elements in the movie?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice.

Unit paper: How do the messages of the movies, Hill 24 Doesn’t Answer from 1955 & Beaufort from 2007, differ from one another? What does this say about the changes in the Israeli society and its culture of war? How do the films convey artistically (with metaphor, symbolism and imagery) these changes?

Unit 3: reality v. fiction

WEEK 5

Watch the movie: Kippur

Quiz on the movie

Write: The chaos of Yom Kippur War is the place where trauma is created, according to Gitai, the movie’s director. Explain what he believes stands behind the chaos, as it is presented in the article, and choose a scene from the movie to demonstrate the feeling he is talking about.
Discussion Board:
1. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice

WEEK 6

Watch the movie: Waltz with Bashir
Quiz on the movie

Write: What is the argument the article presents, and how is this expressed in Israeli movies about wars?

Discussion Board:
1. One of the main topics the movie deals with is memory, how memory works and how it fills in holes or covers bad memories. Maybe our memory “tricks” us? Forman, in order to find what happened and were exactly he was at the time of the massacre, start an illustrated journey to find his lost memory. Forman wants to clarify for himself and for the audience who is ethically responsible for the horrible event. Respond to Folman’s ethical questions: what does it mean not to want to remember? What does it mean not to want to see? What does it mean not to see in real time? Does Forman manage to convey to us, the audience, the truth about the Sabra & Shatila massacre and his part in it?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice

WEEK 7

Watch the movie: Time for Cherries
Quiz on the movie

Write: Yael Monk analyzes why the movies Beaufort, Waltz with Bashir, and Lebanon moved the Israeli audience and raised different polar reactions in different parts of the Israeli society. Summarize her arguments.

Discussion Board:
1. There are scenes where Miki is acting for the sake of the camera. What is the meaning of this, in the broader perspective of the movie?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice
Unit Paper: In the movies we watched so far, there is “the sense of abandonment that the soldiers experience” (Munk, The Privatization of War Memory, 99) analyze this with examples from the movies.

Unit 4: the legacy of death and the bereavement ritual

WEEK 8

Watch the movie: Siege
Quiz on the movie
Write: Analyze the relationship the protagonist has with her husband’s close friends. Bring scenes from the movie to demonstrate your analysis.

Discussion Board:
1. Does the same expectation from an Israeli war widow exist here in the US?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice

WEEK 9

Watch the movie: Himmo King of Jerusalem
Quiz on the movie
Write: what makes a hero a hero according to the movies Himmo King of Jerusalem and Hill 24 Doesn’t Answer?

Discussion Board:
1. What are the similarities and the differences between the movies Himmo King of Jerusalem and Hill 24 Doesn’t Answer?
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice
Unit paper: The book Himmo King of Jerusalem was written in 1966, a year before the Six Day War. Thirty-four years later, the movie Kippur was made and 41 years later the movie Beaufort was created. Putting the last two movies together, what are the philosophical developments, particularly in regard to war, you can see between the movie Himmo and the other two movies?

Unit 5: the Israeli siege mentality and the present and responsibilities of the parents in their children’s Israeli reality

WEEK 10

Watch the movie: The Troup

Quiz on the movie

Discussion Board:

1. The movie the Troup is shown every year on the public television in Israel during Independence Day. Can you explain why?

2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice

WEEK 11

Write: Explain the Israeli siege mentality and its consequences

WEEK 12

Unit Paper: As the wars continue, we see change in the attitude and trust toward the military commanders and the political world which send the soldiers to war. Describe this change and the implication of moral change it represents toward the Israeli wars.
Unit 6: the front and the home front

WEEK 13

Watch the movie: The Bubble

Quiz: on the movie

Discussion Board:

1. Explain the name of the movie and suggest one of your own.
2. Describe a chosen scene and explain your choice

WEEK 14

1. Summarize the values and attitudes expressed in the Israeli movies nowadays toward wars, military commanders, and politicians.
2. Choose an American war movie and analyze these same aspects in it.
3. Analyze by comparing and contrasting these aspects in the Israeli and American war movies, and the values that stand behind them.
   1 and 2 can be done in a table format. 3 must be an in an essay format.
4. Discuss the development of the historical tradition of Israeli films by genre, use of technologies, and how it changed historical perception vs. personal experience.

WEEK 15

Unit Paper: The symbolic element of Tel-Aviv versus Jerusalem, as well as the concept of center versus margins, with the tension between them, appears in the movies Himmo King of Jerusalem, Beaufort, and Kippur. Discuss these concepts and how they are presented in the movies.
