Student Academic Achievement - Important Abilities

The  and the  symbols denote projects which offer you the opportunity to enhance your abilities in these two very important areas. Whether you are going on to a university or moving immediately into the workforce, remember; these abilities will give you an edge that can help you succeed.

Communication and Critical Thinking are currently being integrated into a wide variety of Estrella Mountain courses. By integrating these abilities into a variety of courses offered at the college, students benefit twice. They learn course content and they develop these important abilities to enhance student success in academic and professional pursuits. At Estrella Mountain, Communication and Critical Thinking are defined as follows:

Communication

A student who effectively communicates:

1. Responds to an audience.
2. Demonstrates a clear sense of purpose.
3. Organizes information.
4. Delivers information using appropriate language.

Critical Thinking

A student who thinks critically, processes, synthesizes, and applies information to solve problems by:

1. Identifying the problem.
2. Developing and implementing strategies.
3. Evaluating information.
4. Reaching conclusions.
5. Responding to the problem.

Class Attendance and Participation Policy:

You are expected to attend class on time for each scheduled class session. Each student is responsible for obtaining information and assignments given during a missed class meeting prior to the next class meeting. Consult the schedule of classes for information regarding major assignments.

Absences in excess of the number of times the class meets per week may result in withdrawal from the course with a W (withdrawal passing) or Y (withdrawal failing) per college policy.

If, due to circumstances beyond your control, you acquire excessive absences, you may request permission from the instructor to remain in the course by scheduling an appointment to discuss a way to make up for those absences. Failure to do so will result in either course withdrawal or grade reduction.

Class participation is defined as attending class each class meeting and actively participating in classroom and online discussions, interactive group activities, and other class activities. Class participation is an essential part of your final grade.

Students are expected to arrange non-emergency medical appointments, travel, etc. during those times of the day and week which do not conflict with class meetings. Such absences are not considered excused in college. Consult the current college catalog for more information regarding excused absences.

All assignments which must be submitted online must follow the submission requirements detailed in that assignment.

- Do not email assignments to your instructor as they will not be accepted for credit.
- Do not submit assignments to the Digital Drop Box.

Please refer to the E-Learning page and Blackboard tutorials for technology assistance. These resources are found at <http://www.maricopa.edu/blackboard/Movies/menu.htm>

You are encouraged to review these tutorials as needed throughout the semester. Your instructor is not the technology support staff. Students need to be proactive in ensuring they are skilled in Blackboard's processes in order to complete all assignments on time. Technology excuses ("my computer did not send the file" or "my printer ran out of ink" or "my file got erased by my cat") for late or incomplete assignments will not be accepted.

Assignment Policy

A focal component of this class is research, analysis, and evaluation. An essential skill for success in life, the academy, and the workplace are effective communication both orally and written. In this class you will write papers and examinations totaling over 7000 words.

One expectation of academic endeavor is to investigate and delve into materials beyond what is provided in the textbooks and in class necessitating students to extend their inquiry to be successful. This extension includes consultation of scholarly materials available in online, bookstore, and library resources. A student will need to spend approximately 2½ hours reading, studying and writing for every 1 hour spent in the classroom. Thus, a 3 credit-hour class requires a student to spend at least 7½ hours per week engaged in reading, writing and study in addition to the class meeting hours.

All readings and assignments must be completed prior to the date listed on the schedule of classes. All assignments submitted in the course must be word processed and follow the technology policy above. A clear writing style and correct grammar, mechanics, and spelling are expected. Points will be deducted for unclear and/or incorrect writing. Note the course rubric for written assignments.

To receive full points written assignments must conform to the following manuscript characteristics:

- black type on 8½ by 11 inch white paper
- double spaced
- 1 inch margins top, bottom and sides
- word processed in standard (without ornamentation) 12 point font (Helvetica or Times)
- stapled in the upper left hand corner prior to class (no unstapled, paper-clipped, folder, or report covered submissions will be accepted)

- the first page bears the student's name, course number and section, and date in the upper left hand corner
- all subsequent pages bear the student's last name followed by the page number in the upper right hand corner of the page.
- assignments should conform to standard English mechanics and spelling

Assignment specifics and submission policies are available under the "Assignments" section of your Blackboard Course menu. All assignments must be submitted on or before the due date with in class assignments submitted at the beginning of the class. Late assignments will be reduced the equivalent of one letter grade for every day late.

There are no provisions in the course for make-up or extra credit work.

General Percentages of points in the course by category:

Assignments and Quizzes	20%		200 points
Class Participation	10%		100 points
Examinations (2)	30%	3000 words min.	300 points
Analytical Papers (3)	30%	3000 words min.	300 points
Reaction Papers (2)	10%	1000 words min	100 points
Total		7000 words min	1000 points

Assignment and Course Grading Scale

You may figure your grade on a day-to-day basis if you wish. Simply take a percentage of the total points awarded and the total points possible. The percentage converts into a letter grade in the following manner:

90% - 100%	1000 - 900 points	A
80% - 89%	899 - 800 points	B
70% - 79%	799 - 700 points	C
60% - 69%	699 - 600 points	D
0% - 59%	599 - 0 points	F

Academic Integrity Policy

All students assume as part of their obligation to the college the responsibility to exhibit in their academic performance the qualities of honesty and integrity. All forms of student dishonesty are subject to disciplinary action to include an automatic "0" for the entire assignment and often failure for the entire course.

Academic misconduct includes but is not limited to misconduct associated with the classroom, laboratory, or clinical learning process. Some examples of academic misconduct are cheating, plagiarism, and excessive absences. For more information, refer to the current College Catalog.
