Course description:
This class is a continuation of practice and further development of essential listening, reading, speaking, and writing skills. Additionally, this class will help develop an understanding for commercial organizations and business in Spanish-speaking countries, business correspondence, terminology, and techniques in commercial transactions. Admission is either by placement or successful completion of Advanced Spanish Conversation and Grammar.

Requested designation: Humanities, Fine Arts and Design-HU

Note: a separate proposal is required for each designation requested

Eligibility:
Permanent numbered courses must have completed the university’s review and approval process.

For the rules governing approval of omnibus courses, contact the General Studies Program Office at (480) 965-0739.

Area(s) proposed course will serve:
A single course may be proposed for more than one core or awareness area. A course may satisfy a core area requirement and more than one awareness area requirements concurrently, but may not satisfy requirements in two core areas simultaneously, even if approved for those areas. With departmental consent, an approved General Studies course may be counted toward both the General Studies requirement and the major program of study.

Checklists for general studies designations:
Complete and attach the appropriate checklist
- Literacy and Critical Inquiry core courses (I)
- Mathematics core courses (MA)
- Computer/statistics/quantitative applications core courses (CS)
- Humanities, Fine Arts and Design core courses (HU)
- Social and Behavioral Sciences core courses (SB)
- Natural Sciences core courses (SO/SG)
- Global Awareness courses (G)
- Historical Awareness courses (H)
- Cultural Diversity in the United States courses (C)

A complete proposal should include:
- Signed General Studies Program Course Proposal Cover Form
- Criteria Checklist for the area
- Course Syllabus
- Table of Contents from the textbook, and/or lists of course materials

Rationale and Objectives

Literacy is here defined broadly as communicative competence in written and oral discourse. Critical inquiry involves the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence. Any field of university study may require unique critical skills which have little to do with language in the usual sense (words), but the analysis of spoken and written evidence pervades university study and everyday life. Thus, the General Studies requirements assume that all undergraduates should develop the ability to reason critically and communicate using the medium of language.

The requirement in Literacy and Critical Inquiry presumes, first, that training in literacy and critical inquiry must be sustained beyond traditional First Year English in order to create a habitual skill in every student; and, second, that the skills become more expert, as well as more secure, as the student learns challenging subject matter. Thus, the Literacy and Critical Inquiry requirement stipulates two courses beyond First Year English.

Most lower-level [L] courses are devoted primarily to the further development of critical skills in reading, writing, listening, speaking, or analysis of discourse. Upper-division [L] courses generally are courses in a particular discipline into which writing and critical thinking have been fully integrated as means of learning the content and, in most cases, demonstrating that it has been learned.

Students must complete six credit hours from courses designated as [L], at least three credit hours of which must be chosen from approved upper-division courses, preferably in their major. Students must have completed ENG 101, 107, or 105 to take an [L] course.

Notes:

1. ENG 101, 107 or ENG 105 must be prerequisites
2. Honors theses, XXX 493 meet [L] requirements
3. The list of criteria that must be satisfied for designation as a Literacy and Critical Inquiry [L] course is presented on the following page. This list will help you determine whether the current version of your course meets all of these requirements. If you decide to apply, please attach a current syllabus, or handouts, or other documentation that will provide sufficient information for the General Studies Council to make an informed decision regarding the status of your proposal.
Proposer: Please complete the following section and attach appropriate documentation.

CRITERION 1:
At least 50 percent of the grade in the course should depend upon writing, including prepared essays, speeches, or in-class essay examinations. Group projects are acceptable only if each student gathers, interprets, and evaluates evidence, and prepares a summary report.

1. Please describe the assignments that are considered in the computation of course grades--and indicate the proportion of the final grade that is determined by each assignment.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process--and label this information "C-1".

CRITERION 2:
The composition tasks involve the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence

1. Please describe the way(s) in which this criterion is addressed in the course design.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process--and label this information "C-2".

CRITERION 3:
The syllabus should include a minimum of two substantial writing or speaking tasks, other than or in addition to in-class essay exams

1. Please provide relatively detailed descriptions of two or more substantial writing or speaking tasks that are included in the course requirements.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process--and label this information "C-3".
CRITERION 4: These substantial writing or speaking assignments should be arranged so that the students will get timely feedback from the instructor on each assignment in time to help them do better on subsequent assignments. Intervention at earlier stages in the writing process is especially welcomed.

1. Please describe the sequence of course assignments--and the nature of the feedback the current (or most recent) course instructor provides to help students do better on subsequent assignments.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process--and label this information "C-4".

CATALOG DESCRIPTION:
This course is a continuation of practice and further development of essential listening, reading, speaking, and writing skills. Additionally, this course will help develop an understanding for commercial organizations and business in Spanish-speaking countries, business correspondence, terminology, and techniques in commercial transactions. Admission is either by placement or successful completion of Advanced Spanish Conversation and Grammar

GENERAL STUDIES DESIGNATIONS: SPA 319 L

PREREQUISITE: SPA 314 or 316 or instructor approval.

TEXT REQUIRED:

Course Overview:
Spanish for Business and International Trade will enhance your ability to function effectively in an increasingly important commercial language locally, in the United States, and abroad. This course will provide you with a solid foundation in the vocabulary and discourse used in Spanish when dealing with different types of companies (legal constitution); management; banking and accounting; property, plant and equipment; the modern business office; human resources; goods and services, marketing, finance, foreign market entry, and import-export. The course will also develop your geographic literacy and cultural understanding of the Spanish-speaking world, as these are central to being able to conduct business successfully in Spanish. The course, to be conducted primarily in Spanish, will also include some translating and interpreting activities, cross-cultural communication skills frequently used in the world of business and of special importance for managers and leaders who must make informed decisions.

COURSES OBJECTIVES:
Spanish for Business and International Trade seeks:
• To develop your ability to conduct business in Spanish successfully. As such, it is a course in language for special purposes. Within the context of the development of greater cross-cultural awareness, it will develop the following language skills for business purposes: speaking, listening comprehension, reading, writing, and translation/interpretation

• To give students a solid foundation in business vocabulary through exercises and cases with a communicative approach and the practice of business terminology
• To familiarize students with basic business concepts presented by an overview of commerce in a global economy and by the discussion of the establishment of a business firm and its subsequent development
• To integrate students' knowledge of business with the geographic context of the Spanish-speaking countries
• To integrate the above-mentioned business and geographic contexts with the cultural context which deals with the social and business-related cultural patterns of the Hispanic world.
• To learn the particular communication styles, appropriate for the business professional and commercial correspondences.

Activities/Assessments:

CRITERION 1
Oral Final Project: There will be an oral individual presentation on week 15. In the oral presentation the student will do a research about a Hispanic country. The research will focus on the following areas:

1) Economic information about the country. The economic information will not be a list of facts and figures about the country, but instead, will be a short summary of the country’s economic position in the world including advantages and disadvantages of doing business with/in it. Additional guidelines and information about what to include in this section will be explored in class.

2) A problematic or important area(s) for doing business in the country (e.g., human rights, Indigenous issues, women in the work force, the process of democratization. The problematic aspect(s) you focus on can be your choice, but must be approved by the teacher. This section will be the main focus of your presentation and will be explored in detail in your oral presentation.

The student will have a reading and writing assignment each week. These readings are to be completed so that he/she could complete the assignments and activities by the due date.

CRITERION 2
Business Cases: During the semester the student will do (3) business cases using the vocabulary and discourse used in Spanish when dealing with different types of companies (legal constitution); management; banking and accounting; property, plant and equipment; the modern business office; human resources; goods and services, marketing, finance, foreign market entry, and import-export.crosscultural differences.

CRITERION 3
Business letters and documents translation: Students will write three (3) and one (1) résumé (CV) during the semester. These writing assignments will require that students learn the particular communication styles appropriate for professional and commercial correspondence. The instructor will provide the student some English documents and business letters and the student should translate into Spanish using the terms and concepts review in the course.

CRITERION 4

Executive Research Summary: You will create a document that will serve as an executive summary of the information. This will take the form of a short paper, maximum 8 to 10 pages. In addition, you must provide an outline of your most important information to your instructor the day before your presentation. The information in the executive summary should include all the information you present orally as well as update the information in the text (e.g., currency, exchange rate, industries, demographics, transportation, communications, etc.). A bibliography must also be included in the executive summary. Also remember that this is one document together and is produced in the same type font. Make sure it is well written!

Listening and writing activity: They will be telephones a dialogue where the student is requires to complete a writing activity before and after the dialogue.

Self Checks: Since the main objective of this course is to provide a solid foundation in commercial Spanish vocabulary and culture, there will be short chapter quizzes, covering vocabulary and culture.

Quizzes, Midterm & Final Exam: will cover the content of chapters studied on the textbook and cases activities provided by the instructor. The dates for the quizzes, Midterm and Final Exam are listed on your schedule. There are no make-up quizzes, or presentation after the scheduled day, so be sure to notify your instructor of a conflict or emergency before the test.

- GRADING:
