Requested designation: Literacy and Critical Inquiry–L

Note: a separate proposal is required for each designation requested

Eligibility:

Permanent numbered courses must have completed the university's review and approval process.

For the rules governing approval of omnibus courses, contact the General Studies Program Office at (480) 965-0739.

Area(s) Proposed Course Will Serve:

A single course may be proposed for more than one core or awareness area. A course may satisfy a core area requirement and more than one awareness area requirements concurrently, but may not satisfy requirements in two core areas simultaneously, even if approved for those areas. With departmental consent, an approved General Studies course may be counted toward both the General Studies requirement and the major program of study.

Checklists for General Studies Designations:

Complete and attach the appropriate checklist

- Literacy and Critical Inquiry core courses (L)
- Mathematics core courses (MA)
- Computer/statistics/quantitative applications core courses (CS)
- Humanities, Fine Arts and Design core courses (H/F)
- Social and Behavioral Sciences core courses (SB)
- Natural Sciences core courses (NS/SG)
- Global Awareness courses (G)
- Historical Awareness courses (H)
- Cultural Diversity in the United States courses (C)

A Complete Proposal Should Include:

- Signed General Studies Program Course Proposal Cover Form
- Criteria Checklist for the area
- Course Syllabus
- Table of Contents from the textbook, and/or lists of course materials

Arizona State University Criteria Checklist for

LITERACY AND CRITICAL INQUIRY - [L]

Rationale and Objectives

Literacy is here defined broadly as communicative competence in written and oral discourse. Critical inquiry involves the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence. Any field of university study may require unique critical skills which have little to do with language in the usual sense (words), but the analysis of spoken and written evidence pervades university study and everyday life. Thus, the General Studies requirements assume that all undergraduates should develop the ability to reason critically and communicate using the medium of language.

The requirement in Literacy and Critical Inquiry presupposes, first, that training in literacy and critical inquiry must be sustained beyond traditional First Year English in order to create a habitual skill in every student; and, second, that the skills become more expert, as well as more secure, as the student learns challenging subject matter. Thus, the Literacy and Critical Inquiry requirement stipulates two courses beyond First Year English.

Most lower-level [L] courses are devoted primarily to the further development of critical skills in reading, writing, listening, speaking, or analysis of discourse. Upper-division [L] courses generally are courses in a particular discipline into which writing and critical thinking have been fully integrated as means of learning the content and, in most cases, demonstrating that it has been learned.

Students must complete six credit hours from courses designated as [L], at least three credit hours of which must be chosen from approved upper-division courses, preferably in their major. Students must have completed ENG 101, 107, or 105 to take an [L] course.

Notes:

1. ENG 101, 107 or ENG 105 must be prerequisites
2. Honors theses, XXX 493 meet [L] requirements
3. The list of criteria that must be satisfied for designation as a Literacy and Critical Inquiry [L] course is presented on the following page. This list will help you determine whether the current version of your course meets all of these requirements. If you decide to apply, please attach a current syllabus, or handouts, or other documentation that will provide sufficient information for the General Studies Council to make an informed decision regarding the status of your proposal.

ASU-[L] CRITERIA

To qualify for [L] designation, the course design must place a major emphasis on completing critical discourse—As evidenced by the following criteria:

</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Criterion 1: At least 50 percent of the grade in the course should depend upon writing, including prepared essays, speeches, or in-class essay examinations. Group projects are acceptable only if each student gathers, interprets, and evaluates evidence, and prepares a summary report.

| Course Syllabus |

1. Please describe the assignments that are considered in the computation of course grades—and indicate the proportion of the final grade that is determined by each assignment.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process—and label this information "C-1".

Criterion 2: The composition tasks involve the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence.

| Course Syllabus, text TOC |

1. Please describe the way(s) in which this criterion is addressed in the course design.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process—and label this information "C-2".

   C-2

Criterion 3: The syllabus should include a minimum of two substantial writing or speaking tasks, other than or in addition to in-class essay exams.

| Course Syllabus |

1. Please provide relatively detailed descriptions of two or more substantial writing or speaking tasks that are included in the course requirements.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process—and label this information "C-3".

Course Overview

This particular course, unlike some other college courses you may have taken, isn’t about the simple conveyance of facts to fill your head. BIS 343 moves beyond that, and will provide you with questions, self assessments, discussion topics, challenging quizzes, and assignments that encourage your development as a careful, constructively critical, integrative thinker and communicator. The course will help guide you deeper, into more comprehensive thinking about yourself, about the nature of organizational behavior and the social sciences at work, and about the multifaceted nature of social processes in different contexts.
Course Description

Drawing on the organizational behavior literature, this course examines the interdisciplinary nature of social processes and human interaction across a number of different organizational contexts.

Course Objectives

An in-depth look at social processes in organizations
- Acquire knowledge of the interdisciplinary field of organizational behavior by integrating insights from cognitive and social psychology, and sociology, as well as behavioral and social perspectives on communication, leadership & management.
- Demonstrate a clear understanding of personal qualities, values, and skills associated with effective social processes associated with individuals and small groups.

Factors influencing social processes
- Identify internal influences associated with personality, values / perceptions, and motivation.
- Explore individual differences in interpersonal organizational behavior, demonstrate self-awareness with respect to internal influences such as self-concept, personality, motivation, and intelligence.
- Explore individual differences with respect to the our perceptions / mental models, context, and social influences.

Principles of organizational behavior
- Discuss the basic elements of individual and organizational learning and performance, including psychological contracts and behavioral factors associated with organizational learning and performance assessment.
- Analyze behaviors associated with dyadic and small group social processes in organizations, including personal growth, group dynamics, team problem solving, and conflict / conflict resolution.
- Describe social processes associated with fostering an environment of creativity and group innovation.
- Understand the behavioral and social aspects of power and influence across a number of different contexts
- Assess individual strengths and opportunities for improvement with respect to assessing and managing human performance issues
- Understand group negotiation styles and approaches from a social process / human relations perspective.

Literacy and critical inquiry
- The vast majority of your grade in this course will depend upon writing, including multiple substantial writing tasks (Discussion Topics and Papers) arranged so that the students will get timely feedback from the instructor on each assignment in time to help them do better on subsequent assignments.
- Papers and Discussion Topics require the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence.
Text Books / Course Readings

The following textbook and materials are required for the course:

- Course Website – You’ll find all of the other required readings available online under the Readings links posted under the Course Home and Learning Modules 1 – 7 navigation tabs.

Grading Policy / Assignment Weighting

Students in this course will be required to complete short writing assignments in conjunction with activities in the textbook and online readings, perform limited library/internet research, participate in online discussion topics, and take a series of quizzes on the reading materials.

Assignments are generally due Sunday nights at 11:59 p.m. AZ time. Remember, however, that I may not be as available on the weekends so do enough early in the week to see if you have questions. Please note that while most assignments are due on Sundays (at 11:59pm), some assignments / due dates near the beginning / end of the course may be on a different day of the week (depending on semester schedule based on the ASU academic calendar). Be sure to keep an eye on the Weekly Learning Modules introductory information for actual due dates.

All assignments will be graded within a week of the due dates. Individual and group feedback will be provided.

Also, while due dates are firm, you are generally in control of your schedule beyond that. So, for instance, if you know you need more time to read something, start earlier. Or, for example, you know you have a wedding coming up and you will be gone on a due date, plan ahead to get the work done early and submit it before you go. All assignments are visible from day one, so while this is NOT a self-paced class, you can build in your own wiggle room if you plan ahead. (Generally, if you plan ahead to spend at least as much time as you would coming to campus and sitting in a face-to-face class, plus homework, you should be fine!)

Late Policy

Due to amount of work required for this course, no late work will be accepted for credit except when the student has contacted the instructor prior to the assignment deadline with extraordinary circumstances and appropriate documentation. If you think you will have trouble meeting the assignment deadlines for this course, you would be well advised to drop the course and take it when you have more time to devote to your studies.

There is sufficient time to do each assignment and you know about them all in advance so can plan ahead and basically start immediately on the next assignment once you’ve completed the previous one. As mentioned above, if you know you have a busy week coming up, start early or work ahead a bit.

Illness and/or catastrophes: The late work policy applies to students who are ill or who are having personal problems. These students are encouraged to face adverse conditions and survive. The key here is to get an early start and do not procrastinate! However, students facing catastrophic illness or events are advised to make an appointment with the instructor, and develop a special plan of action.

Disability Resources Issues: If you have a documented disability and wish to discuss academic accommodations, please contact me as soon as possible in the first week of class. (Technically, if one has a disability they’re supposed to explore arrangements before classes start in case it isn’t possible to adjust a particular class for a particular disability they can find out early. Still if you are not sure if you have a disability, touch base today and we’ll see.)

Other workload considerations: Finally, lateness due to national or religious holidays, for athletic events or work/internship events has never come up in my online classes and “absences” don’t make sense either. I suspect because it isn’t really a valid reason as the due dates are laid out from day one and folks can plan ahead (to turn something in before the holiday or sporting event, etc.)... part of why they want to take an online class!

Laying out assignments ahead is, again, by design so everybody has plenty of time to know what’s coming and when in order to give themselves more time on any one assignment if they personally think they need it or want to work ahead a bit to clear some time on their calendar. So if you know you have travel plans for fun, will be super busy at work one period of time or gone for business, or have restrictions or celebrations to attend for your family or religion on a certain day please simply plan ahead so you can turn your work in any time before that.

Policy on Incompletes

Please note that incompletes will be given only in very special circumstances. An incomplete will only be granted to a student who has only a minor portion of the work left undone at the end of the semester, as the result of special circumstances only. An incomplete will be granted for serious grounds and not when a student, through negligence or procrastination, fails to complete a major portion of the work for the course on time.

Assessment Guidelines

Following are my Assessment Guidelines for your perusal. Your grades will be assigned based on the principles there that relate to the quality and compliance with the detailed instructions laid out in each assignment.

I will post your points to the online Grade book. Then I will offer comprehensive feedback to the class on the Announcements page (my main way of communicating with the class) that speaks in general terms and offers examples of how people did...what tended to earn a better versus a less good grade, etc. so you can learn from what everyone did right (and wrong) on each assignment to apply to doing better on the next assignment.

You are expected to consider your points in the context of that feedback given and what was asked for in the instructions as a way of understanding your score. Through working with many online students I’ve learned that most prefer this method of feedback (once they get used to it) as it helps build community by letting them know how they fit in with the whole and how they might do better. It’s like the comments the teacher gives a face-to-face class after an assignment is done.

Thus, I may not provide individual feedback to students unless they ask for it after having first read the class feedback. Many educators consider this a more advanced form of feedback helping good thinkers (which you should be at this stage of your education) build still better critical thinking skills and skills in self-evaluation, or at least practice them before asking for more that would confirm or disconfirm. (And it discourages students from ignoring contextual feedback and focusing only on themselves.) So, I give plenty of feedback in these announcements. If you re-read what you turned in objectively (in light of the instructions, assessment guidelines, and feedback announcement) you should be able to recognize why you fell where you did on the continuum. (When I do give individual feedback, it is usually attached via hyperlink to your grade in the gradebook...keep an eye out for it.)

All that is said so you understand how the class works and what is expected of you.

Still, please know, you are always welcome to call or email me if you do need some individual feedback in a given case. It can take a little practice to build the skills I described above. So I encourage you to touch base with me if, after you’ve done as asked above, to email or call me, explain what piece of the feedback you think does or doesn't apply so you are specific about what piece you need further clarification on (as I can't read minds as much as I try).

If you ask for additional feedback it needs to be within 3-5 days of when I posted the announcement so that we talk about will benefit your next assignment & your assignment will be fresh in my head). Following is an assessment guidelines rubric that you should consider as you review your grades on any particular assignment.

Assessment Guidelines Rubric

Each assignment has a different focus with specific requests, but these general rules apply to each as I look for junior / senior-level work and good thinking and writing skills in all work. Divide the points you earned by what the assignment was worth to calculate your grade.

* Application and integration of disciplines is always welcome and is encouraged. That said, it isn't specifically required for each assignment so, when you see that item below, realize that I know—and you should too—from reading the assignment details—when it is required and when it isn't. :-) In some of our assignments, you will be able to substitute the word “frames” and such for disciplines.

A = Excellent = Exceptional Paper
- All items requested in the assignment details are included, exceptionally outlined
- Comprehensive grasp of subject matter is demonstrated
- In-depth understanding of relevant concepts issues related to topic addressed / assigned
- Profound analytical critique, synthesis, & evaluation of information
- Insight in thought and contribution of something new
- Thorough explanation of the connection and/or application of disciplines *
- A clear, concise, and fluent style highlighting a well-written & logically structured essay.
- A virtually flawless mastery of all aspects of grammar, structure, spelling, & style
- Standard format of # of pages, margins, fonts, space, cover page, etc.
- Timely submission and academic integrity

B = Good = Above Average Paper
- All items are included: meets all requirements
- Good grasp of subject matter is demonstrated
- Basic understanding of relevant concepts & issues related to topic addressed
- Incorporates the connection between disciplines or the application thereof *
- Some in-depth analytical critique, synthesis, & evaluation of information
- A clear, concise, and fluent style highlighting a well-written & logically structured essay.
- A good grasp of grammar, structure, spelling, & style
- Standard format of # of pages, margins, fonts, space, cover page, etc.
- Timely submission and academic integrity

C = Satisfactory = Competent Paper
- All items are not included: one key area weak or missing
- Basic grasp of subject matter is demonstrated
- Some understanding of relevant concepts & issues related to topic addressed
- Adequate attempt for analytical critique, more reporting than analyzing
- Minimal attempt to discuss/apply disciplines *
- Essay with an acceptable style and structure
- Basics of grammar, structure, and spelling
- Standard format of # of pages, margins, fonts, space, cover page, etc.
- Timely submission and academic integrity
D = Poor = Marginally Acceptable Paper
- All items are not included: more than one key item missing or very weak
- Confusion of subject matter is demonstrated
- Understanding of relevant concepts & issues related to topic addressed is weak
- Just reporting events
- Just mentions the connection between, or application of, disciplines *
- A basic grasp of grammar, structure, spelling, & style
- Standard format of # of pages, margins, fonts, space, cover page, etc.
- Timely submission and academic integrity

E = Failing = An Unacceptable Paper
- All items are not included
- A basic lack of understanding of the subject matter
- No attempt to go beyond description
- No mention of the application or integration of disciplines *
- Written expression is disorganized and poorly expressed
- Serious errors in grammar, sentence structure, and spelling
- Timely submission & Academic integrity questionable
- Standard format not followed

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity is important. Carefully read the material on the Course Website (Learning Module 1). Should you intentionally or accidentally fail to be in integrity, you will fail the class.

Citing Style for Assignments

Other potentially useful info: See these cites for APA citation style. APA is easy and what I personally prefer. If you don’t know it, see http://www.wisc.edu/writing/Handbook/DocAPACitations_Def.html and for help with just about any sort of citation you need to do for several styles (including APA) http://www.lib.duke.edu/libguide/cite/works_cited.htm. See all these for help. They also help refresh your memory on how to do your bibliography.

Purdue University Writing Lab, look through lots of handouts and materials there...see information on research and documenting sources, paraphrasing, etc. http://owl.english.purdue.edu/

Be prepared that I may ask you to provide/bring in your sources for various reasons throughout the semester. Don’t worry, normally I’m just curious to learn more in case I might want to incorporate the source in class or some other non-worrisome reason. Another reason might be I have a plagiarism-related concern, or the like (so suddenly “losing” a source soon after doing the assignment will only add suspicion and will not make things go away.)
Assignment Formatting / Submission Tips
Please follow these instructions carefully:

- Write all of your assignments in Microsoft Word. If you are using Microsoft Word 2010 or any other word processor (such as Word Perfect), be sure to save your file as a Rich Text File (.rtf) before you submit it to the course website. Saving as a rich text file (.rtf) is generally always a good bet when in doubt.
- Always be sure to spell-check and proofread your work.
- Always back up your work – and do it regularly to an external drive or flash drive. You should always have your work saved in at least two places.
- Use the class naming convention for files of YourName_AssignmentName for each assignment).

Required Format: Core assignments must be typed / word-processed (11 point font / 1.5 line spacing / 1 inch margins). When you are responding to specific questions / prompts, please include the questions / prompts before your responses (you can copy and paste them from the course website).

Put the assignment number/name on the top left, and your name on the top right, of the first page. Follow the assignment submission instructions carefully and save each file as a Microsoft Word document (or rich text file) with the appropriate file name / extension (according to the instructions for each assignment). Failure to follow formatting and submission instructions will cost you points!
