For Fall 2016 Effective Date: October 1, 2015

For Spring 2017 Effective Date: March 10, 2016

(Required)

Area(s) proposed course will serve:

A single course may be proposed for more than one core or awareness area. A course may satisfy a core area requirement and more than one awareness area requirements concurrently, but may not satisfy requirements in two core areas simultaneously, even if approved for those areas. With departmental consent, an approved General Studies course may be counted toward both the General Studies requirement and the major program of study.

Checklists for general studies designations:

Complete and attach the appropriate checklist

- Literacy and Critical Inquiry core courses (L)
- Mathematics core courses (MA)
- Computer/statistics/quantitative applications core courses (CS)
- Humanities, Arts and Design core courses (HU)
- Social-Behavioral Sciences core courses (SB)
- Natural Sciences core courses (SQ/SG)
- Cultural Diversity in the United States courses (C)
- Global Awareness courses (G)
- Historical Awareness courses (H)

A complete proposal should include:

- Signed course proposal cover form
- Criteria checklist for General Studies designation(s) being requested
- Course catalog description
- Sample syllabus for the course
- Copy of table of contents from the textbook and list of required readings/books

It is respectfully requested that proposals are submitted electronically with all files compiled into one PDF. Contact information:

Arizona State University Criteria Checklist for

SOCIAL-BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES [SB]

Rationale and Objectives

Social-behavioral sciences use distinctive scientific methods of inquiry and generate empirical knowledge about human behavior, within society and across cultural groups. Courses in this area address the challenge of understanding the diverse natures of individuals and cultural groups who live together in a complex and evolving world.

In both private and public sectors, people rely on social scientific findings to consider and assess the social consequences of both large-scale and group economic, technological, scientific, political, ecological and cultural change. Social scientists' observations about human interactions with the broader society and their unique perspectives on human events make an important contribution to civic dialogue.

Courses proposed for a General Studies designation in the Social-Behavioral Sciences area must demonstrate emphases on: (1) social scientific theories, perspectives and principles, (2) the use of social-behavioral methods to acquire knowledge about cultural or social events and processes, and (3) the impact of social scientific understanding on the world.

Revised April 2014

Course Description:

This course introduces you to twentieth century Chican@ history by focusing on the history of the Mexican-origin population within the context of the southwest and Arizona. We are uniquely situated, residing (whether permanently or temporarily) in a state central to the controversy over immigration, to consider questions pertaining to people of Mexican descent. In doing so, we will pay special attention to the "making" of the Mexican American community in the United States, especially in relationship to labor. I draw from E.P. Thompson's (1963) The Making of the English Working Class, such that one does not assume the subject is already fully constituted, but instead traces the making of the subject. In so doing, we will discuss the history of people of Mexican descent within a broader transnational system of global capital accumulation, with power and differentiation being important in the simultaneous integration of labor from Mexico and from within Arizona. We will explore key theoretical frameworks and concepts used in the field of Chican@ studies to frame and theorize about Chican@ history.

The course is reading-intensive so please be prepared to keep up with the readings. There will be 2-3 objective tests (multiple choice; true/false) and one research assignment due during the course of the 7 ¹/₂ week session; you may also be asked to participate in forums. I will grant one extra credit option as well.

Course Objectives:

- Contribute to a broad understanding of cultural diversity in the United States by the indepth study of Chicana/os in twentieth century United States.
- Develop a broad base of knowledge about key social science-based paradigms in the study of Chicana/os in twentieth century United States.
- Develop critical thinking skills about the economic, social, and political history of Chicana/os in twentieth century United States.

Learning Objectives:

At the completion of this course students will be able to:

- Demonstrate knowledge of various sociologically-based theoretical concepts, ideas, and frameworks utilized in the study of Mexican descent people (Chicana/os) in twentieth century United States.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the economic, social, and cultural issues and contributions of Chicana/os during the twentieth century.
- Demonstrate knowledge of key legislation shaping the experiences of Chicana/os in the U.S.

Course Requirements Online Course

This is an online course and therefore there will not be any face-to-face class sessions. All assignments and course interactions will utilize internet technologies.

How to Communicate with me:

Please directly email me at: Gloria.cuadraz@asu.edu and put on the Subject line: HST 419-QUESTION. I receive hundreds of emails on a given day and some will inevitably be directed to junk mail so please follow the instructions below in the event you do not hear from me within 24 hours. I will do my best to answer emails between Monday-Friday but please do not expect me to answer emails on weekends. I will also do my best to respond to you asap but if you have NOT heard a response from me within 24 hours, then email me again and add a RED exclamation point to the email.

Course Grading

Grades and Grading Scale

Assignment of letter grades is based on a percentage of points earned. The letter grade will correspond with the following percentages achieved. All course requirements must be completed before a grade is assigned.

Grading Scale:

Or adding Scale.
A + = 97 - 100	A = 93-96	A- = 90-92
B + = 87 - 89	B = 83-86	B - = 80 - 82
C+ - 77 – 79	C = 70-76
D = 60-69	$\mathbf{E} = 59$ or below

*Instructor reserves the right to change or modify syllabus throughout the course of the semester.

Email and Internet

You must have an active ASU e-mail account and access to the Internet. All instructor correspondence will be sent to your ASU e-mail account. Please plan on checking your ASU email account regularly for course related messages.

This course uses Blackboard for the facilitation of communications between faculty and students, submission of assignments, and posting of grades. The My ASU/Blackboard Course Site can be accessed at http://my.asu.edu. If the My ASU portal is down, students can connect directly to Blackboard by going to http://myasucourses.asu.edu

Campus Network or Blackboard Outage

When access to Blackboard is not available for an extended period of time (greater than one entire evening - 6pm till 11pm) you can reasonably expect that a NEW due date for assignments will be scheduled. Please do not panic if and when this occurs. I need you to trust that I will be flexible in such a situation. You can be guaranteed that if such a situation is affecting you, it is also affecting my ability to teach and communicate with you, to post, to grade, etc. So please, let's all practice patience!

Attendance/Participation

Preparation for class means reading the assigned readings & reviewing all information required for that week. Attendance in an online course means logging into the Blackboard and on a daily basis (M-F) and participating in the all of activities posted for the course.

Studying and Preparation Time

The course requires you to spend time preparing and completing assignments. A three-credit course requires 135 hours of student work. Therefore expect to spend approximately 9 hours a week preparing for and actively participating in this course.

Late or Missed Assignments

All assignments must be finished and turned in by the DEADLINE DATE noted on the syllabus and/or module. In the event illness or a family emergency causes a delay, a doctor's note and/or supporting evidence (obituary; letter) are required in order for me to re-launch a quiz just for you or to be allowed to submit something after the deadline. Excuses such as, "I just forgot" or "my laptop was stolen" or "I had to work an extra shift" are not adequate reasons.

Submitting Assignments

All assignments, unless otherwise announced by the instructor, MUST be submitted via Blackboard. Each assignment will have a designated place to submit the assignment. Do NOT send your assignment directly to my email.

Forums

- 1) Each assigned post for the respective forums must be submitted by the due date designated in the Weekly Course Schedule.
- 2) All posts must use appropriate grammar and punctuation. Typos are not acceptable either so please review your writing assignments carefully before you submit them. There is an automatic deduction of 2 points for failure to proofread and edit your work.

"Drop" and "Add" dates

If you feel it is necessary to withdraw from the course, please see http://students.asu.edu/drop-add for full details on the types of withdrawals that are available and their procedures.

Subject to change notice

All material, assignments, and deadlines are subject to change with prior notice. It is your responsibility to stay in touch with your instructor, review the course site regularly, or communicate with other students, to adjust as needed if assignments or due dates change.

Academic Integrity

ASU expects and requires all its students to act with honesty and integrity, and respect the rights of others in carrying out all academic assignments. For more information on academic integrity, including the policy and appeal procedures, please visit http://provost.asu.edu/academicintegrity and the Student Conduct Statement below.

Students with Disabilities

The University is committed to providing quality education to all students regardless of ability. Determining appropriate disability accommodations is a collaborative process. You as a student must register with Disability Services and provide documentation of your disability. The course instructor must provide information regarding a course's content, methods, and essential components. The combination of this information will be used by Disability Resource Center to determine appropriate accommodations for a particular student in a particular course.

For more information, please reference the Disability Resource Center: http://ds.umn.edu/students/Enrolled/responsibilities.html. https://eoss.asu.edu/drc

Classroom Etiquette

Students are entitled to receive instruction free from interference by other members of the class. If a student is disruptive, an instructor may ask the student to stop the disruptive behavior and warn the student that such disruptive behavior can result in withdrawal from the course. An instructor may withdraw a student from a course when the student's behavior disrupts the educational process under USI 201-10 http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/ssm/ssm201-10.html).

As the instructor I can define what constitutes appropriate classroom behavior. Given the content of this course, it stands to reason that students will disagree with each other. However, we need to learn how to make arguments to support our position and maintain a cordial atmosphere and use tact in expressing differences of opinion. The instructor will deal with inappropriate discussion immediately, and students will be notified privately that their behavior and interaction in the class was inappropriate. Student access to the course Send Email feature may be limited or removed if an instructor feels that students are sending inappropriate electronic messages to other students in the course. While the instructor or ASU cannot control what you post on social media, such as Facebook, Twitter, or Tumblr (except those sanctioned by ASU) please think before you post something about a classmate or colleague that can violate privacy or can be hurtful.

Guidelines for Dealing with Disruptive Students

Disruptive student guideline can be found at, http://usenate.asu.edu/problems/disruptive Student Code of Conduct and Student Disciplinary Procedures

http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/usi/usi104-01.html is the web address for the full text of the Student Code of Conduct and Student Disciplinary Procedures.

Title IX

Title IX is a federal law that provides that no person be excluded on the basis of sex from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity. Both Title IX and university policy make clear that sexual violence and harassment based on sex is prohibited. An individual who believes they have been subjected to sexual violence or harassed on the basis of sex can seek support, including counseling and academic support, from the university. If you or someone you know has been harassed on the basis of sex or sexually assaulted, you can find information and resources at https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu/faqs.

As a mandated reporter, I am obligated to report any information I become aware of regarding alleged acts of sexual discrimination, including sexual violence and dating violence. ASU Counseling Services, https://eoss.asu.edu/counseling, is available if you wish discuss any concerns confidentially and privately.

Course/Instructor Evaluation

The course/instructor evaluation for this course will be conducted online 7-10 days before the last official day of classes of each semester or summer session. Your response(s) to the course/instructor are anonymous and will not be returned to your instructor until after grades have been submitted. The use of a course/instructor evaluation is an important process that allows our college to (1) help faculty improve their instruction, (2) help administrators evaluate instructional quality, (3) ensure high standards of teaching, and (4) ultimately improve instruction and student learning over time. Completion of the evaluation is not required for you to pass this class and will not affect your grade, but your cooperation and participation in this process is critical. About two weeks before the class finishes, watch for an e-mail with "ASU Course/Instructor Evaluation" in the subject heading. The email will be sent to your official ASU e-mail address, so make sure ASU has your current email address on file. You can check this online at the following URL: http://www.asu.edu/epoupdate/
