Course Description
HST 351 is a historical survey of the European Renaissance, the movement of cultural rediscovery and geographic expansion that stretched between 1350 and 1550. Using a combination of primary sources (Machiavelli, Cellini, Castiglione) and secondary historiography (Ferraro's Marriage Wars in Late Renaissance Venice, Lunenfeld's 1492: Discovery, Invasion, and Encounter, plus supplementary readers online), the course addresses such themes as the rise of the Italian city-states and their political and artistic culture; the persecution of witches; the beginnings of the scientific revolution, and female participation in it; and the start of European overseas expansion.

Meeting Literacy and Critical Inquiry Criteria
HST 351 meets the criteria for the General Studies “Literacy and Critical Inquiry” designation by (1) basing 90% of the grade on writing, including two in-class written examinations, two formal papers, and two short reading “responses”; (2) by having both the formal papers and reading responses involve the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of primary evidence – in this case, primary historical sources; (3) by having four writing tasks in addition to examinations – two papers and two responses; and (4) by having each of these four assignments due well in advance of the final examination (see syllabus – C-4), in order to permit instructor feedback and student improvement.
Proponent: Please complete the following section and attach appropriate documentation.

ASU - [L] CRITERIA

TO QUALIFY FOR [L] DESIGNATION, THE COURSE DESIGN MUST PLACE A MAJOR EMPHASIS ON COMPLETING CRITICAL DISCOURSE -- AS EVIDENCED BY THE FOLLOWING CRITERIA:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YES</th>
<th>NO</th>
<th>Identify Documentation Submitted</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>☑</td>
<td></td>
<td>Syllabus</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

CRITERION 1: At least 50 percent of the grade in the course should depend upon writing, including prepared essays, speeches, or in-class essay examinations. Group projects are acceptable only if each student gathers, interprets, and evaluates evidence, and prepares a summary report.

1. Please describe the assignments that are considered in the computation of course grades -- and indicate the proportion of the final grade that is determined by each assignment.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process -- and label this information "C-1".

CRITERION 2: The composition tasks involve the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence.

1. Please describe the way(s) in which this criterion is addressed in the course design.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process -- and label this information "C-2".

CRITERION 3: The syllabus should include a minimum of two substantial writing or speaking tasks, other than or in addition to in-class essay exams.

1. Please provide relatively detailed descriptions of two or more substantial writing or speaking tasks that are included in the course requirements.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process -- and label this information "C-3".
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CRITERION 4: These substantial writing or speaking assignments should be arranged so that the students will get timely feedback from the instructor on each assignment in time to help them do better on subsequent assignments. Intervention at earlier stages in the writing process is especially welcomed.</th>

1. Please describe the sequence of course assignments—and the nature of the feedback the current (or most recent) course instructor provides to help students do better on subsequent assignments.

2. Also:

   Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process—and label this information "C-4".

Course Description: The European Renaissance was a time of great change and diversity. It was an era of discovery, exploration, and expansion, not only in geography but also in politics, economics, religion, art and science. Throughout the semester, students will examine both primary and secondary sources in order to gain access to the world of both the great minds of the era and the common man/woman alike. Each week, we will unravel one aspect of this complex and dynamic period that transpired in the years between 1350 and 1550. Major themes of the course will include sexuality and marriage, state building and war craft, developments in artistic expression, courtly behavior, deviance and witchcraft, and the cultural ramifications of the exploration of the New World.

Attendance is mandatory and will be taken each session. Class time will be divided into lecture, primary source analysis and discussion, and occasional film clips. Please come prepared to discuss the assigned readings.

Like all works in progress, this syllabus is subject to change. I will communicate with you well in advance of any alterations.
Important Notes:

- Please do not arrive late to class; if you are regularly late, I will ask you to leave. If you must be late, choose a seat that will not disrupt the rest of the class.
- Turn off and put out of sight all electronic devices before coming to class (cell phones, ipods, etc.). No text messaging in class.
- If you choose to use a computer, it must only be for taking notes. If it comes to my attention that you are using your computer for other purposes, the entire class will be prohibited from bringing computers to class.
- Please be courteous of those around you and refrain from conversation with your neighbors. If you disrupt the class, I will ask you to leave. If you nap in class, I will ask you to leave.
- If you choose to contact me through email, for questions or concerns about the course, I do ask that you use a courteous tone. I also ask that you understand that I check my email once a day (usually in the morning) during the week, and sporadically during the weekend. Therefore you must plan accordingly and understand if my response is not immediate.

All assignments must be completed on the designated due date. No exceptions are made. I do not accept late papers, and do not offer “make up” exams. You must complete ALL assignments to pass the course; failure to fulfill an assignment results in an immediate “E.” I will not grant any incompletes for this course. Plagiarism and cheating will be taken very seriously. If I have discovered that you have been dishonest in any way you will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of university policy.

If you have any problems complying with these expectations it is imperative that you come visit me in office hours and discuss your options – or drop the class. You must let me know of any complications (personal or otherwise) that would impede your success in this course so that we may find a solution. Otherwise, you should note that ALL GRADES ARE FINAL AND NON-NEGOTIABLE.

Required Readings:
Joanne M. Ferraro, Marriage Wars in Late Renaissance Venice
Marvin Lunenfeld, 1492: Discovery. Invasion. Encounter
Machiavelli. The Prince
The Autobiography of Benvenuto Cellini
Baldassare Castiglione. The Book of the Courtier

In addition, there will be occasional on-line readings noted on the syllabus, and handouts distributed in class that you will be responsible to acquire.
