

General Studies Council – November 30, 2017

Social-Behavioral Sciences Subcommittee:

Michael Mokwa, Chair

Katherine Antonucci

P.F. Lengel

Perla Vargas

APPROVED

From ASU:

ASB 333 Frauds, Myths and Mysteries - approve. Course includes components of advancing knowledge of human interaction, relationship and past events. This is done demonstrated through the archeological science and pseudoarcheological interpretation. Course contains all aspects needed for SB.

ASB 455 Practicum for Social Sciences – approved. Course demonstrates a focus on observing human interactions and research methods, includes ethical dilemmas in human research, covers data analysis. Advances human understanding through social science research.

RESUBMIT

From ASU:

CHS 100 Foundations of Health and Well-Being – Unclear what students are reading/viewing within the modules. Please resubmit with a reading list.

JUS 352 Global Politics of Human Rights – resubmit. Components of the course most likely contain SB components, however the actual proposal was lacking in detail. Specific evidence from course should be provided rather than “entire course, every week.”
