SES 141 Energy in Everyday Life

The SG/SQ subcommittee reviewed the course, SES 141: Energy in Everyday Life, for the SQ General Studies requirement. SES 194, a course with the same title and basic content, was previously approved for SQ credit in Fall 2013 and has been offered in every subsequent semester. This version, SES 141, is specifically designed for the ProMod Sustainability degree program (Fall C) and for i-course and o-course delivery (Spring B).

A review of the syllabus, lab outlines, and SQ application showed that the course clearly fulfills the SQ Critical Criteria (I.A.-I.H) and multiple Additional Criteria (II.A, II.B; III.A, III.B).
