Arizona State University Criteria Checklist for

HUMANITIES, ARTS AND DESIGN [HU]

Rationale and Objectives

The humanities disciplines are concerned with questions of human existence and meaning, the nature of thinking and knowing, with moral and aesthetic experience. The humanities develop values of all kinds by making the human mind more supple, critical, and expansive. They are concerned with the study of the textual and artistic traditions of diverse cultures, including traditions in literature, philosophy, religion, ethics, history, and aesthetics. In sum, these disciplines explore the range of human thought and its application to the past and present human environment. They deepen awareness of the diversity of the human heritage and its traditions and histories and they may also promote the application of this knowledge to contemporary societies.

The study of the arts and design, like the humanities, deepens the student’s awareness of the diversity of human societies and cultures. The arts have as their primary purpose the creation and study of objects, installations, performances and other means of expressing or conveying aesthetic concepts and ideas. Design study concerns itself with material objects, images and spaces, their historical development, and their significance in society and culture. Disciplines in the arts and design employ modes of thought and communication that are often nonverbal, which means that courses in these areas tend to focus on objects, images, and structures and/or on the practical techniques and historical development of artistic and design traditions. The past and present accomplishments of artists and designers help form the student’s ability to perceive aesthetic qualities of art work and design.

The Humanities, Arts and Design are an important part of the General Studies Program, for they provide an opportunity for students to study intellectual and imaginative traditions and to observe and/or learn the production of art work and design. The knowledge acquired in courses fulfilling the Humanities, Arts and Design requirement may encourage students to investigate their own personal philosophies or beliefs and to understand better their own social experience. In sum, the Humanities, Arts and Design core area enables students to broaden and deepen their consideration of the variety of human experience.

Description: This course provides students with a broad introduction to the civilization of ancient Rome, from the foundation of the city-state (traditional date 753 BCE) through the fall of the Western Roman Empire in CE 476. The course covers the history, art, architecture, politics, religion, and social life of ancient Rome.

Student Learning Outcomes: At the conclusion of this course, students will be able to:
- Characterize Roman civilization from about 753 BCE, the traditional date of the founding of the city of Rome, through CE 476, the date of the fall of the Western Roman Empire
- Outline the major periods of Roman history, the major Latin literary genres, authors, and works, and the major Roman forms of art and architecture, as well as their artists
- Explain the influence Roman civilization has had on the West, including in today’s world, and the differences between Roman civilization and our own
- Describe and criticize Roman civilization, including reckoning with the larger questions and debates about Roman civilization
- Take an analytical approach to Roman civilization, its art, and its literature
- Address Roman interactions with other states in the ancient Mediterranean, including Greece, and in Europe, including “barbarian” cultures like the Saxons and Goths
- Trace the development and transformations of Roman civilization over the course of over 1000 years from 753 BCE through CE 476

Course Requirements
The final grade for this course will be determined as follows:

2 midterms (multiple-choice, true/false, short-answer questions) 20% each
1 final exam (multiple-choice, true/false, essay) 30%
Attendance and participation/in-class quizzes (TurningPoint) 30%

Midterms: About 1/3 and 2/3 of the way through the semester, we will have a midterm exam. The dates are TBA. Questions will be multiple-choice, true/false, or short-answer. Midterms are not cumulative (you will not be asked direct questions on previous material), with the understanding that you may need to remember that previous material to answer some questions.

Final Exam: At the end of the semester (date TBA). Questions will be multiple-choice or short-answer on the material since the last midterm, with the addition of an essay question that will cover the material for the entire semester.

Attendance and participation: You must have a TurningPoint account for this class (used with a clicker, an app on your smartphone, or your laptop via an internet connection). These will be used to take attendance and to answer questions posed to students during the lecture (on the reading for the day and the lecture material).
The grading scale for the course will be as follows:

A+: 100 (A+’s are only given for natural 100s, before the addition of any extra credit that may be offered)
A: 93-99
A-: 90-92
B+: 87-89
B: 83-86
B-: 80-82
C+: 77-79
C: 70-76
D: 60-69
E: below 60

Required materials
The textbooks for this course are available at the university bookstore. You may also purchase them online (probably for much cheaper), check them out of the library, etc.

- Jo-Ann Shelton, As The Romans Did: A Sourcebook in Roman Social History, ISBN 13-987-0-19-508974-5. (Two copies of this book will also be on reserve in Hayden Library.)
- All other readings can be found in the “Daily Folders” section on the Blackboard page.
- You can purchase a clicker/Turning Point license at the ASU bookstore or online. You may use the TurningPoint app on your smartphone or the website responseware.com instead of purchasing a physical clicker.

Course Caveats

It is essential that you do the reading. Lectures often will not touch upon every point in the reading, but I consider you responsible for the material in both the lectures and the readings and I will ask you questions about both on TurningPoint daily quizzes and exams.

It is also essential that you attend lecture. It is not possible to get higher than a C in this course without attending lecture. All students must have TurningPoint accounts and bring their connected devices to lecture each time. While up to three missed lectures will be forgiven, expect more to lower your grade.

If you run into technical issues with your clicker, you are responsible for contacting UTO or Turning Point to fix them. One way to tell if there are issues is to check your grade on Blackboard regularly and make sure your clicker is registering grades or attendance on that site.
Other Caveats: Threatening Behavior and Course Subject Matter

Disruptive or threatening behavior towards the instructor or fellow students on the course Blackboard site, via email, or in person will not be tolerated. See http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/ssm/ssm104-02.html for more information.

It is very important that students remember that the purpose of this course is to study another culture, primarily through its language. The ancient Romans are one of the foundation societies of Western culture, and many aspects of their language and society may seem familiar to us today; however, many aspects of Latin language and Roman culture are also alien and might even be considered offensive in today’s society. If you find some of the course content offensive, please feel free to discuss it with me, my supervisor in Classics (Mike.Tueller@asu.edu), or the director of SILC (Nina.Berman@asu.edu). All of us may be contacted in person or by email.

Title IX

Title IX is a federal law that provides that no person be excluded on the basis of sex from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity. Both Title IX and university policy make clear that sexual violence and harassment based on sex is prohibited. An individual who believes they have been subjected to sexual violence or harassed on the basis of sex can seek support, including counseling and academic support, from the university. If you or someone you know has been harassed on the basis of sex or sexually assaulted, you can find information and resources at (https://sexualviolenceprevention.asu.edu/faqs).

As a mandated reporter, I am obligated to report any information I become aware of regarding alleged acts of sexual discrimination, including sexual violence and dating violence. ASU Counseling Services, https://eoss.asu.edu/counseling, is available if you wish discuss any concerns confidentially and privately.

Intellectual Property and Changes to the Syllabus

All lectures, assignments, and any other course material are my intellectual property and are under copyright. Students may not distribute any course materials – notes, tests, assignments, etc. For ASU’s policy, see http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd304-06.html.

The syllabus is subject to change if the instructor deems that to be appropriate.

Accommodations and Academic Dishonesty

Students who need any accommodation for the course for reasons of religion or disability should contact me as soon as possible. You may find the university policy on religious accommodations here: http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd304-04.html.

Students who must miss a course deadline because of an official university-sponsored event or activity must alert me as soon as possible to make the appropriate provisions. You can find the
The ancient Romans lived by a code of honor, and so will we. Assignments for this course (exams and TurningPoint work) are to be entirely your own work and no one else's. I consider using a classmate's TurningPoint account to submit answers on their behalf to be academic dishonesty. Submission of an assignment is equivalent to a statement that this is your own work; if cheating is discovered, the penalty is a zero on that assignment. This may result in failure of the course as well, and a student who fails the course on grounds of cheating will be awarded the grade XE (failure because of academic dishonesty), which will provide a permanent record on your transcript of your academic dishonesty. If you are at all unclear on what comprises academic dishonesty, see me or visit http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/studentacint.html.

Schedule of Topics and Readings

These assignments can also be found in the "Daily Folders" page on Blackboard, including any readings not in the textbooks. Readings are due the date under which they are listed (not the next day). Readings marked with a * are available on Blackboard.
