The History Department continues to submit quality proposals and syllabi. The proposals for the courses below are developed and documented very effectively. The syllabi are presented effectively, and each course is aligned well with the proposal. There is a clear and sufficient focus on studying and understanding human interaction with socio-behavioral perspectives, theory, and research grounding the material and student work in each course. We note that we are approving only the specific course present here and not all courses that use the course numbers HST 305.

HST 305: Studies in Latin American History - Topic Food (mandatory review)

HST 377: Sport in US History (new)
