College/School: Mary Lou Fulton Teacher College  Department/School: Teacher Preparation

Prefix: TEL  Number: 331  Title: Language and Literacy Method K - 8  Units: 3

Course description: Prospective educators will apply research-based strategies for delivering differentiated literacy instruction, assessment, intervention and remediation. Content will focus on autonomous (science of reading) and ideological (social practices of reading) models that incorporate culturally and linguistically responsive and sustaining practices for literacy. In addition educators will apply the elements of systematic phonics-based instruction and address the unique learning needs of students with dyslexia and other reading challenges.

Is this a cross-listed course?  No  If yes, please identify course(s):

Is this a shared course?  No  If so, list all academic units offering this course:

Note: For courses that are crosslisted and/or shared, a letter of support from the chair/director of each department that offers the course is required for each designation requested. By submitting this letter of support, the chair/director agrees to ensure that all faculty teaching the course are aware of the General Studies designation(s) and will teach the course in a manner that meets the criteria for each approved designation.

Is this a permanent-numbered course with topics?  No

If yes, each topic requires an individual submission, separate from other topics.

Requested designation:  L  Mandatory Review: yes

Note: a separate proposal is required for each designation.

Eligibility: Permanent numbered courses must have completed the university’s review and approval process. For the rules governing approval of omnibus courses, contact Phyllis.Lucie@asu.edu.

Submission deadlines dates are as follow:
For Fall 2020 Effective Date: October 10, 2019  For Spring 2021 Effective Date: March 5, 2020

Area proposed course will serve:
A single course may be proposed for more than one core or awareness area. A course may satisfy a core area requirement and more than one awareness area requirements concurrently, but may not satisfy requirements in two core areas simultaneously, even if approved for those areas. With departmental consent, an approved General Studies course may be counted toward both the General Studies requirement and the major program of study. It is the responsibility of the chair/director to ensure that all faculty teaching the course are aware of the General Studies designation(s) and adhere to the above guidelines.

Checklists for general studies designations:
Complete and attach the appropriate checklist

Literacy and Critical Inquiry core courses (L)
Mathematics core courses (MA)
Computer/statistics/quantitative applications core courses (CS)
Humanities, Arts and Design core courses (HU)
Social-Behavioral Sciences core courses (SB)
Natural Sciences core courses (SQ/SG)
Cultural Diversity in the United States courses (C)
Global Awareness courses (G)
Historical Awareness courses (H)

A complete proposal should include:
Signed course proposal cover form
Criteria checklist for General Studies designation being requested
Course catalog description
Sample syllabus for the course
Copy of table of contents from the textbook and list of required readings/books

It is respectfully requested that proposals are submitted electronically with all files compiled into one PDF.

Rationale and Objectives

Literacy is here defined broadly as communicative competence—that is, competence in written and oral discourse. Critical inquiry involves the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence. Any field of university study may require unique critical skills that have little to do with language in the usual sense (words), but the analysis of written and spoken evidence pervades university study and everyday life. Thus, the General Studies requirements assume that all undergraduates should develop the ability to reason critically and communicate using the medium of language.

The requirement in Literacy and Critical Inquiry presumes, first, that training in literacy and critical inquiry must be sustained beyond traditional First Year English in order to create a habitual skill in every student; and, second, that the skill levels become more advanced, as well as more secure, as the student learns challenging subject matter. Thus, two courses beyond First Year English are required in order for students to meet the Literacy and Critical Inquiry requirement.

Most lower-level [L] courses are devoted primarily to the further development of critical skills in reading, writing, listening, speaking, or analysis of discourse. Upper-division [L] courses generally are courses in a particular discipline into which writing and critical thinking have been fully integrated as means of learning the content and, in most cases, demonstrating that it has been learned.

Notes:

1. ENG 101, 107 or ENG 105 must be prerequisites
2. Honors theses, XXX 493 meet [L] requirements
3. The list of criteria that must be satisfied for designation as a Literacy and Critical Inquiry [L] course is presented on the following page. This list will help you determine whether the current version of your course meets all of these requirements. If you decide to apply, please attach a current syllabus, or handouts, or other documentation that will provide sufficient information for the General Studies Council to make an informed decision regarding the status of your proposal.

| X | □ | |

1. Please describe the way(s) in which this criterion is addressed in the course design.

- Core Assignment 1: Portfolio of Effective Literacy Strategies and Assessments. Parts A - D of this multi-component assignment requires analyzing and interpreting the classroom content, matching appropriate methods and assessment to learners, and ending with a reflection that analyzes the process of interpreting and evaluating evidence.

- Core Assignment 2: Literacy Environment Inquiry. This assignment requires students to gather information about their own backgrounds and compare/contrast them with peers in Part A. In Part B, students are asked to interrogate their own biases in regards to course content topics when facilitating literacy development. Both components require critical inquiry by evaluating evidence gathered through course readings/media, and student discussion.

- Core Assignment 3: Mini-Case Study and Lesson Redesign. Students use multiple data sources including two reading assessments, an audio/video of a child reading a 2 – 3 minute passage, two writing samples and/or assessments, a reading behavior observation during whole-class instruction, and interview information from parent and teacher regarding literacy and behavior to rewrite a lesson to address the unique needs of the case study child. This assignment requires critical inquiry using provided evidence from the readings in the course.

- Pathway-Specific Assignment 1: EC/SPE/ EED Pathway - Phonics/ Word Study assignment requires students to gather information and interpret the evidence in order to assess and ascertain the developmental spelling stage of an individual or small group of K - 8 students. In addition, students will write two mini-lessons to teach a phonics skill in this developmental stage. EML Pathway - assignment requires students to complete read alouds with K -8 students who are multilingual. Students will reflect on this learning experience and write about it.

- Pathway-Specific Assignment 2: EC/SPE/ED Pathway - Integrated Literacy Instruction - Two Ways. Students design and write a lesson plan that includes a whole group and small group component and integrates reading, writing, listening, and speaking and create an alternative delivery, using technology, for one segment of the plan. Students also analyze two peers' alternative delivery using a rubric, and provide high-quality feedback for growth and development. EML Pathway - Guided Reading. Using data and other assessments, teacher candidates will plan and deliver a small-group guided reading lesson that models and teaches the use of a specific reading strategy/skill. Before conducting this lesson, teacher candidates will share their lesson plan with two peers and use this feedback to improve their lesson plan before conducting the lesson. After implementing the lesson, teacher candidates will do a final self-reflection of the lesson and their learning. These assignments require gathering and interpreting evidence and involve critical analysis of self and peers.

Assignments such as brief reaction papers, opinion pieces, reflections, discussion posts, and impromptu presentations are not considered substantial writing/speaking assignments.</td>

1. Please provide relatively detailed descriptions of two or more substantial writing or speaking tasks that are included in the course requirements. All assignments listed above (Core 1 - 3; Pathways 1-2) require substantial in-depth engagement in materials in both oral and written form. Module-specific brief writings, presentations or discussion posts are included in the syllabus, but they are not assigned points that lead to the course grade.

2. Also:

Please circle, underline, or otherwise mark the information presented in the most recent course syllabus (or other material you have submitted) that verifies this description of the grading process—and label this information "C-3".
1. Please describe the sequence of course assignments—and the nature of the feedback the current (or most recent) course instructor provides to help students do better on subsequent assignments.

Core Assignment 1: Portfolio of Effective Literacy Strategies and Assessments has multiple parts that are completed throughout the semester. Each component is given instructor feedback so students have the opportunity to improve previous parts. Core Assignment 2: Literacy Environment Inquiry serves as a pre/post assessment of opinion, biases and pedagogy. Students are graded on their own self-analysis.

Pathway-Specific Assignment 1 & 2 require students to apply class learning to a small portion of overall literacy instruction. Students will get feedback on this assignment prior to engaging in a more comprehensive literacy lesson in Pathway Specific Assignment 2. Both of these graded assignments will provide feedback that can be applied to Core Assignment 3.

Core Assignment 3: Mini-Case Study and Lesson Redesign is the primary summative assessment of all course materials/subjects. Students are required to apply their learning to a field case and write a lesson plan that reflects student needs. This assignment is completed in groups so that critical conversations can take place.

Catalog Description
Prospective educators will apply research-based strategies for delivering differentiated literacy instruction, assessment, intervention and remediation. Content will focus on autonomous (science of reading) and ideological (social practices of reading) models that incorporate culturally and linguistically responsive and sustaining practices for literacy. This course also addresses the unique learning needs of students with dyslexia and other reading challenges.

Course Overview
In this educator core course, prospective educators gain a foundation in effective literacy practices through both autonomous (science of reading) and ideological (social practices of reading) models. Literacy is defined as “the ability to identify, understand, interpret, create, compute, and communicate using visual, auditory, and digital materials in any context” (International Literacy Association (ILA), 2017, p. 18). Culturally and linguistically responsive and sustaining practices are employed to teach and assess students in multiple areas of literacy for all students, with a specific focus on those with reading challenges such as dyslexia. Given the changing nature of literacy in modern society, K - 8 students need to develop print-centric skills and digital skills. This course will address pedagogical knowledge and skills for all preK - 8 educators with differentiation in content based on professional educator pathways.

TEL 331 is designed to be student-centered and provide for learning across delivery domains. Prospective preK-8 educators have core modules relevant to all and pathway modules (early childhood, elementary education, educating multilingual learners, and special education) to deepen their pedagogical knowledge and skills, with the purpose of providing effective literacy instruction in their context. Personalized learning will require students to develop time management, problem solving, and social skills all required in our changing workforce. Instructors will facilitate small groups of students and coach students in developing the key skills needed to be successful educators of the future. The following diagram illustrates the building blocks on which the course is built.
The following diagram illustrates the building blocks on which the course is built.

Course Objectives
- Teach concepts of language and literacy for student understanding through developmental, tiered instruction, and systematic support for a diverse range of students.
- Learning experiences to identify and apply the principles of creating literacy engagement for all students, grades K-8.
- Opportunities for students to know and implement culturally and linguistically responsive teaching and sustaining teaching practices in literacy instruction.
- Apply literacy-specific assessments to meet the individual needs of all K-8 students.
- Make instructional decisions based on assessment of students' needs and background knowledge.
- Examine literacy instruction in the classroom including how that instruction is extended to involve families and communities.

Enrollment Requirements
None

Course Format
This class will be conducted as an online learning course, including but not limited to common readings, common videos, observations and conversations students have in their communities, structured conversations among students in the course, reflective activities such as logs/journals, and formal analyses.

EML - Guided Reading. Preservice teachers will build on what they learned from conducting their first literacy lesson by designing and implementing a Guided Reading lesson, with a small group of readers in their placement classroom. Using data and other assessments, teacher candidates will plan and deliver a small-group guided reading lesson that models and teaches the use of a specific reading strategy/skill. Before conducting this lesson, teacher candidates will share their lesson plan with two peers and use this feedback to improve their lesson plan before conducting the lesson. After implementing the lesson, teacher candidates will do a final self-reflection of the lesson and their learning.

COURSE/INSTRUCTOR EVALUATION

Course/instructor evaluations are conducted online during the 14 days prior to the last official day of classes each session. Watch for an email to your official ASU email address, with "ASU Course/Instructor Evaluation" in the subject heading. Please be certain to complete the evaluation for your assigned instructor/academic associate.

Completion of the evaluation is not required for you to pass this class and will not affect your grade, but your cooperation and participation in this process is important and appreciated. The evaluations are used to: (1) help faculty improve their instruction; (2) help administrators evaluate instructional quality; (3) ensure high standards of teaching; and (4) ultimately improve instruction and student learning over time.

Responses to the course/instructor evaluation are anonymous and will not be returned to your instructor until after grades have been submitted. You can check this online at the following URL: http://www.asu.edu/emailssignup.

UNIVERSITY/MARY LOU FULTON TEACHERS COLLEGE POLICIES

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY/PLAGIARISM

Students are expected to act with honesty and adhere to the university’s Student Academic Integrity Policy. Failure to do so may result in sanctions, such as grade penalties, suspension, or expulsion from the university. Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, such actions as cheating; plagiarizing; fabricating or falsifying information; or assisting with such activities.

SELF-PLAGIARISM

Self-plagiarism is defined as the reuse of one's identical or nearly identical section or subsection of work without prior permission granted by the course professor of record and any coauthor with whom a prior work may have been written, and without explicit acknowledgement (e.g., a citation of the original work). Self-plagiarism is strictly prohibited and will be treated as a violation of the university's Student Academic Integrity Policy. Please see the Academic Integrity/Plagiarism section for more information.

Copyright Notice

Copyright law may protect some course materials available through the Learning Management System. This material is only for use of students enrolled in the specific course(s) and must be used in accordance with the United States Copyright Act, Title 17 of the U.S. Code. Protected materials on the course site may not be retained on the student’s computer or other electronic storage device for longer than the duration of the specific class for which they are assigned, nor further disseminated by the student to any other persons. Furthermore, a student must refrain from uploading to any course site, discussion board, or website used by the course instructor or other course forum, material that is not the student’s original work, unless first complying with all applicable copyright laws; faculty members reserve the right to delete materials on the grounds of suspected copyright infringement.

ACCOMMODATION FOR RELIGIOUS PRACTICES

Students who need to be absent from class due to the observance of a religious holiday or participate in required religious functions must notify the faculty member in writing as far in advance of the holiday/obligation as possible. Students will need to identify the specific holiday or obligatory function to the faculty member. Students will not be penalized for missing class due to religious obligations/holiday observance. The student should contact the class instructor to make arrangements for making up tests/assignments within a reasonable time.

http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd304-04.html

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Students are expected to attend and participate in course meetings and activities. If individual circumstances arise, advance communication with the instructor is expected, if at all possible. Attendance and participation points are earned for in class activities. Make-up work may be allowed at the discretion of the instructor for special circumstances.
CELL PHONE POLICY

Students are expected to adhere to responsible use of technology and academic integrity policies. Please silence your phone and refrain from use that affects other students in the class. Please silence your phone and refrain from use that affects other students in the class.

ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION

Acceptable use of university computers, internet and electronic communications can be found in the Student Code of Conduct (http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/usi/usi104-01.html) and in the University’s Computer, Internet, and Electronic Communications Policy (http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd125.html).

GRADE APPEALS

The official ASU grade record resides in My ASU, not on the course site. At the culmination of each course, you should verify your current student record and final course grades through My ASU. If you see a discrepancy between the grade posted on the course site and in My ASU, please notify your instructor immediately so that the discrepancy can be addressed in your official record.

The professional responsibility for assigning grades is vested in the instructor of the course, and requires the careful application of professional judgment. A student wishing to appeal a grade must first meet with the instructor who assigned the grade to try to resolve the dispute. The process for grade appeals is set forth for the undergraduate and graduate programs are available at https://education.asu.edu/student-forms-policies

HANDLING DISRUPTIVE, THREATENING, OR VIOLENT INDIVIDUALS ON CAMPUS

Students, faculty, staff, and other individuals do not have an unqualified right of access to university grounds, property, or services. Interfering with the peaceful conduct of university-related business or activities or remaining on campus grounds after a request to leave may be considered a crime.

All incidents and allegations of violent or threatening conduct by an ASU student (whether on- or off-campus) must be reported to the ASU Police Department (ASU PD) and the Office of the Dean of Students. If either office determines that the behavior poses or has posed a serious threat to personal safety or to the welfare of the campus, the student will not be permitted to return to campus or reside in any ASU residence hall until an appropriate threat assessment has been completed and, if necessary, conditions for return are imposed. ASU PD, the Office of the Dean of Students, and other appropriate offices will coordinate the assessment in light of the relevant circumstances. http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/ssm/ssm104-02.html.

PROHIBITION AGAINST DISCRIMINATION, HASSARMENT, AND RETALIATION

Arizona State University is committed to providing an environment free of discrimination, harassment, or retaliation for the entire university community, including all students, faculty members, staff employees, and guests. ASU expressly prohibits discrimination, harassment, and retaliation by employees, students, contractors, or agents of the university based on any protected status: race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, and genetic information. Inappropriate conduct need not rise to the level of a violation of federal or state law to constitute a violation of this policy and to warrant disciplinary action/sanctions. All individuals identified in the Applicability section of this policy are responsible for participating in and assisting with creating and maintaining an environment at ASU free from all forms of prohibited discrimination, including harassment and retaliation. All individuals identified in the Applicability section of this policy are required to cooperate with any investigation of allegations of violations of this policy. Providing false or misleading information or failure to cooperate may result in disciplinary action. https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html

LATE AND MISSING ASSIGNMENTS
Instructors expect assignments to be completed and submitted on time. The instructor should be notified of special circumstances, in advance. Late assignments may incur a late penalty of up to 10% per day late. All assignments are expected to be completed and turned in.

Military Personnel Statement
A student who is a member of the National Guard, Reserve, or other U.S. Armed Forces branch and is unable to complete classes because of military activation may request a complete or partial administrative unrestricted withdrawal or incomplete depending on the timing of the activation. For further information, please visit ASU’s policy on Military Activation of Students.

Missed Classes Due to University-Sanctioned Activities
Students who participate in university-sanctioned activities that require classes to be missed, shall be given opportunities to make up examinations and other graded in-class work. However, absence from class or examinations due to university-sanctioned activities does not relieve students from responsibility for any part of the course work required during the period of the absence. The provost of the university or designee shall determine, for the purposes of this policy, whether a particular event qualifies as a university-sanctioned activity. Students should inform their instructors early in the semester of required class absences. Instructors should attempt to provide opportunities for equivalent work, either before or after the class absence, in accordance with any academic unit or college requirements, which may apply. For further information, please visit ASU’s policy on Missed Classes Due to University-Sanctioned Activities.

Student Conduct and Professional Behavior
Appropriate behavior is defined by the instructor and includes all in-person and electronic communication in the course. It is expected that students exhibit professional behavior in all settings, including clinical placements and working with other students. If at any time a student’s behavior does not meet the standards delineated in the class syllabus, Mary Lou Fulton Satisfactory Academic Progress and Professional Conduct Policy, or university policies, the instructor may refer the student for academic probation or to the ASU Dean of Students.

If at any time your behavior is ‘unprofessional’, the instructor may refer the student to the Office of Student Services (OSS) for the development of a Professional Improvement Plan (PIP). https://education.asu.edu/student-forms-policies.

Title IX
Title IX is a federal law that provides that no person be excluded on the basis of sex from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity. Both Title IX and university policy make clear that sexual violence and harassment based on sex are prohibited. An individual who believes that he or she has been subjected to sexual violence or harassed on the basis of sex can seek support, including counseling and academic support, from the university. If you or someone you know has been harassed on the basis of sex or has been sexually assaulted, you can find information and resources at Sexual Violence Awareness and Response.

As a mandated reporter, I am obligated to report any information I become aware of regarding alleged acts of sexual discrimination, including sexual violence and dating violence. ASU Counseling Services is available if you wish to discuss any concerns confidentially and privately.

University Services

Disability Accommodations for Students
Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College is committed to student success and ensures an inclusive learning environment for all students. Students with disabilities or disabling health conditions who need accommodations are required to document their condition with the Disability Resource Center. The Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College encourages admitted students with disabilities or disabling health conditions who believe that they may need an accommodation to register with the DRC prior to enrolling in the program. That way, all reasonable accommodations... can be in place at the beginning of the program. Students who are registered with DRC will be key participants in establishing reasonable and appropriate accommodations with course instructors.

SI (Supplemental Instruction)

SI seeks to help students process material presented in class through group facilitated discussion led by a trained peer (SI Leader) who has already successfully completed the course. More information will be available on Canvas under the SI Study Group. Students can receive tutoring for various courses through University Academic Success Programs (UASP). For additional information see https://tutoring.asu.edu/student-services/studygroups.

Technological Services and Support

The Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College encourages students to make use of technological services available through ASU to make their learning experience more efficient. Students with personal laptop computers or netbooks can connect wirelessly to the Internet and to printing services on all four campuses and some school sites. The following support services are available to support student-computing needs.

Student Purchases:

Discounted pricing for students purchasing laptop or desktop computers is available at through the ASU bookstore or online. https://www.bkstr.com/arizonastatestore

ASU Campus Classroom Connectivity:

In-class use of laptops is encouraged by the Mary Lou Fulton Teachers College. In cases where students need to make presentations during class, most classrooms have the capability of allowing laptops to connect to classroom projectors. Mac laptops may require an adaptor. For collaborative work, social networking tools are provided to ASU students through a Google partnership, including Google docs, spreadsheets, presentations, forms, and sites.

Hardware and Software Support:

ASU 1:1 Technology Studios provide support to students on all four campuses for hardware, software, operating systems, security, networking, etc. https://uto.asu.edu/services/campus-it-resources/techstudio

Tutoring

Tutoring is available on all ASU campuses and Online for a variety of courses in small groups on a walk-in/drop-in basis. Appointments are not taken. For a full list of sites and courses, visit https://tutoring.asu.edu.

MyApps provides free software tools including free virus scan software, online applications, and information about discounted software for purchase.

Writing Centers

One Center, Many Places: The Writing Center, located on all four ASU campuses and online, offers free tutoring for all enrolled students. All writers—all ASU undergraduate or graduate students—can benefit from visiting the Writing Center to:

- explore, plan, and develop ideas;
- organize and structure a paper;
- integrate and cite sources; and
- write, revise, edit, and proofread.

For more information about ASU’s Writing Centers, including how to make an appointment, please visit our website at https://tutoring.asu.edu/student-services/writing-centers.

This syllabus is subject to change at the discretion of the instructor and/or college. Every effort will be made to avoid changes to the syllabus or course schedule, but the possibility exists that unforeseen events will make modifications necessary. If so, changes will be communicated via ASU email and/or the course site.
Continued enrollment in this course assumes that you have read and understand the information outlined in the syllabus.
