Requested Designation

L - Literacy and Critical Inquiry

L: Literacy and Critical Inquiry

Rationale and Objectives

Literacy is here defined broadly as communicative competence--that is, competence in written and oral discourse. Critical inquiry involves the gathering, interpretation, and evaluation of evidence. Any field of university study may require unique critical skills that have little to do with language in the usual sense (words), but the analysis of written and spoken evidence pervades university study and everyday life. Thus, the General Studies requirements assume that all undergraduates should develop the ability to reason critically and communicate using the medium of language.

The requirement in Literacy and Critical Inquiry presumes, first, that training in literacy and critical inquiry must be sustained beyond traditional First Year English in order to create a habitual skill in every student; and, second, that the skill levels become more advanced, as well as more secure, as the student learns challenging subject matter. Thus, two courses beyond First Year English are required in order for students to meet the Literacy and Critical Inquiry requirement. Most lower-level "L" courses are devoted primarily to the further development of critical skills in reading, writing, listening, speaking, or analysis of discourse. Upper-division "L" courses generally are courses in a particular discipline into which writing and critical thinking have been fully integrated as means of learning the content and, in most cases, demonstrating that it has been learned.

[Revised October 2020]

Please note:

1. ENG 101, 105, or 107 must be prerequisites to this course. ENG 102, 105, or 108 are acceptable as alternatives.
2. Honors Thesis courses (493 omnibus) meet "L" requirements.

3. The list of criteria that must be satisfied for designation as a Literacy and Critical Inquiry "L" course is presented below. It will help you determine whether the current version of your course meets all of these requirements. If you decide to apply, please attach a current syllabus, handouts, or other documentation that will provide sufficient information for the General Studies Council to make an informed decision regarding the status of your proposal.

To qualify for the "L" designation, the course design must place a major emphasis on completing critical discourse -- as evidenced by the following criteria:

"L" Criterion 1

Per policy, students must have completed ENG 101, 105, or 107 to take an "L" course. This means the course must have, at minimum, ENG 101, 105, or 107 (or ENG 102, 105, or 108) as a prerequisite.

The "L" designation may not be requested for omnibus special topics, as the course-level prerequisites required for "L" consideration are not possible at the class/topic level.

Please confirm that the course has the appropriate prerequisites, or that a proposal to change the prerequisites has been submitted in Quali CM.

Yes

At least 50 percent of the grade in the course should depend upon writing assignments (see Criterion 3). Group projects are acceptable only if each student gathers, interprets, and evaluates evidence, and prepares a summary report. In-class essay exams may not be used for the "L" designation.

Describe the assignments that are considered for Literacy in the computation of course grades -- and indicate the proportion of the final grade that is determined by each assignment. Do not say see attachment or syllabus, or your application may automatically be denied for being incomplete.

ENG 379 Syllabus-Marked in Syllabus

Students turn in writing in three ways: reading reflections, workshop responses, and travel essays.

The writing assignments should involve gathering, interpreting, and evaluating evidence. They should reflect critical inquiry, extending beyond opinion and/or reflection. Please include detailed assignment descriptions in the syllabus to substantiate this criterion.

Provide a detailed description of how the assignments gather, interpret, and evaluate evidence demonstrating critical inquiry and not opinion and/or reflection. Do not say see attachment or syllabus, or your application may automatically be denied for being incomplete.

ENG 379 Syllabus-marked in syllabus.

Students conduct extensive research on place in order to write about history, politics, culture, and environment of place. They then compose travel narratives that include explanation, description, and narration

The syllabus should include a minimum of two writing and/or speaking assignments that are substantial in depth, quality, and quantity. Consider at least 5 pages, double spaced, per assignment for an in-depth critical analysis and 10-15 minutes for a presentation (per person if a group project). Substantial writing assignments entail sustained in-depth engagement with the material. Examples include research papers, reports, articles, essays, or speeches that reflect critical inquiry and evaluation. Assignments such as brief reaction papers, opinion pieces, reflections, discussion posts, and impromptu presentations are not considered substantial writing/speaking assignments.

Please include detailed assignment descriptions in the syllabus to substantiate this criterion.

Provide a detailed description of the two or more substantial writing or speaking tasks based on a minimum of 5 pages, double spaced, per assignment for an in-depth critical analysis, and 10-15 minutes for a presentation (per person if a group project). Do not say see attachment or syllabus, or your application may automatically be denied for being incomplete.

ENG 379 Syllabus-marked in syllabus.

The students submit a 2500 word polished travel essay that includes research, reflection, narration, and description.

These substantial writing or speaking assignments should be arranged so that the students will get timely feedback from the instructor on each assignment in time to help them do better on subsequent assignments. Intervention at earlier stages in the writing process is especially welcomed.

Describe the sequence of course assignments -- and the nature of the feedback the current (or most recent) course instructor provides to help students do better on subsequent assignments.

ENG 379 Syllabus-marked in syllabus.

The students get feedback on their writing each week for five weeks throughout the semester.

Attach a sample syllabus for this course or topic, including the list of any required readings.

Resubmit

Thank you for the submission. Some revisions are required. There appears to be only one assignment of sustained in-depth engagement, two are required (criterion 4). Please clarify how the 'reading' and 'workshop' assignments involve gathering, interpreting, and evaluating evidence (criterion 3).
