

Pat's Run 2017

See photos and video

Pat Tillman Veterans Center

We Believe in You and Want You Here

At the Pat Tillman Veterans Center at Arizona State University, we are committed to providing an empowering environment for student veterans, active duty military members, spouses and dependents to contribute to and benefit from. We believe all students in our community are capable of achieving success at ASU and long after graduation day. This is why we strongly encourage community members to seek leadership roles both on and off campus, start businesses, be adventurous, continue to serve, and remain open to new ideas and possibilities.

While you are out improving the world, our staff makes sure your education benefits are processed correctly, builds new connections for you to take advantage of and is always available if you need to chat.

College is fun. We also understand it can be challenging. No need to worry, though. We've got your back when it comes to transitioning to a large university environment, finding the appropriate academic assistance and making new friends. We're your teammates. And we're here to help you succeed.

Let ASU's veteran admission team answer all of your questions about how to get closer to your goals.

Search Undergraduate Degrees

Search Graduate Degrees

Apply to ASU

Request Info

Contact Us

Get Forms

ASU's Team 42

Arizona State University's Pat Tillman Veterans Center coordinated Team 42, a group of student veterans who participated in Pat's Run on April 22, 2017. Members of Team 42 ran in honor of an individual who reminds them of the spirit of Pat Tillman.

Watch this video to hear from some of the members of Team 42.

Transitioning to Civilian Life: Cliff Vellucci

After a successful career in the Marine Corps, Cliff Vellucci returned to higher education to earn an education degree at Arizona State University. Now, as an assistant principal in an elementary school in Phoenix, Cliff continues his lifelong commitment to serve his community.

Strong drive earns graduating veteran ESPN spot

Cory Kamerschak, a 28-year-old California Bay Area native, spent six years in the U.S. Air Force as a healthcare management technician and graduated in December 2016 with a master's in sports journalism from ASU. The driven graduate took a new job as a production assistant for ESPN. Read more here.

What being “military friendly” and one of the “best for vets” means at ASU

Why do Arizona State University and ASU Online consistently rank among the top universities for veterans? It's because at Arizona State University, we want veterans, active military members and their families to succeed here, achieve their goals and move on to the next chapter in their lives. We welcome and value the leadership skills and ability to meet challenges that you honed while serving. That's what being a "military friendly" university means to us: we are your new team, and we're here to support you, encourage you and have your back at every step. Join us!

Read more about ASU's commitment to veterans.

ASU student veterans unscripted

When you attend ASU as a veteran, you receive support through every step toward graduation. In their own words, student veterans share why they chose to be Sun Devils and what makes ASU so military friendly.

Arizona State University is proud to serve our military veterans and their dependents as they undertake the pursuit of their educational goals. The Pat Tillman Veterans Center honors the legacy of its namesake by providing a quality resource where our Sun Devil veterans can gather, find assistance, and receive the support necessary to ensure their success within the ASU community.

ASU President Michael Crow

#1 in the U.S. for innovation

U.S. News & World Report asked college presidents and leaders to rank the most innovative schools in the U.S. and ASU ranked #1.

Read more national and international rankings.

450+ degrees

undergraduate and graduate opportunities to succeed

Top-ranked degrees in engineering, business, journalism and more. Find a program that matches your interests and talents by exploring ASU's Degree Search.

ASU named among best in the country for veterans

Media outlets regularly review four-year colleges and universities and rank them on school services considered the most important by student veterans. Read more.

Pat Tillman Veterans Center

We know that there are a lot of steps between thinking about going to college and actually making it happen.

We get it. We've been there.

Getting you started at ASU, with all your benefits in place, is our number one priority.

Let us help you. Read through the next steps we've laid out for you and then ask questions.

Getting benefits started

Steps for newly admitted students

The Pat Tillman Veterans Center at ASU.

In honor of Pat Tillman

As a student at Arizona State University, Pat Tillman excelled in the classroom, earning his bachelor's degree in three and a half years, while also competing as a top-level safety for the Sun Devil football team. His thirst for knowledge and ideas formed his personal ideal of leadership. We are profoundly proud of Pat Tillman — student, athlete, soldier and leader. Read more.

Veteran Recruitment Specialist

Pat Tillman Veterans Centers

Downtown Phoenix campus

University Center Building, Room 130

602-496-0152

480-522-3058 Fax

Hours of Operation

Mon. – Fri.: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

Polytechnic campus

Administration Building

480-727-2702

480-522-3058 Fax

Hours of Operation

Mon. – Fri.: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m..

Military Advocate/Ombudsperson

Tempe campus

Memorial Union, Lower Level, Room 75

480-965-7723

480-522-3058 Fax

Hours of Operation

Mon. – Thur.: 8 a.m. – 7 p.m.

Fri.: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

West campus

University Center Building, Room 120

602-543-5040

480-522-3058 Fax

Hours of Operation

Mon. – Fri.: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m

VetSuccess on Campus

ASU at Havasu Military Student Support

Santiago Hall

928-854-9705

928-854-9709 Fax

Hours of Operation

Monday – Friday: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

ASU Online Military Student Support

Mario Matus

militaryonline@asu.edu

480-884-1906

480-522-3058 Fax

Arizona State University is a top ranked research university in the greater Phoenix metropolitan area.

Admission

Paying for College

Academics

Life at ASU

ASU is #1 in the U.S. for Innovation

Copyright & Trademark

Accessibility

Privacy

Jobs

Emergency

Contact ASU