Community at ASU: Collaboration as a Driving Force

The advancement of ASU's New American University model requires a willingness to adapt, take risks and collaborate. Social Embeddedness is a commitment to partnerships and an accountability to the broader context in which we operate. Social Embeddedness is more than the sum of individual community engagement programs. To "assume fundamental responsibility for the economic, cultural and overall health of the communities it serves" as outlined in the ASU charter, requires a ubiquitous approach that permeates the university's culture.

About Social Embeddedness

ASU engages with people and issues in the community through mutually beneficial partnerships. See what makes our collaborative model unique.
