What's a Biologist
Biologists study everything from tiny organisms to whole ecosystems. Let's take a closer look at what biologists do and how you can become a biologist.

Bird Finder Tool
Test drive our Bird Finder tool based on our virtual bird aviary of the southwest. A great way to learn about birds in your own backyard. Image of Northern Cardinal above by Robert Shantz.

Sooty Selection
Discuss ideas of natural selection, play a selection-based game, and take a trip through time to see how scientists of the past figured out just how a trait is passed from a parent to its offspring.

Do I only use 10% of my brain?
Answer >>

See More Top Questions

Be part of Ask A Biologist
by volunteering, or simply sending us feedback on the site. Scientists, teachers, writers, illustrators, and translators are all important to the program. If you are interested in helping with the website we have a Volunteer page to get the process started.

Donate

---

An academic unit of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Ask A Biologist funded in part by the National Science Foundation and NSDL

Copyright & Trademark | Accessibility | Privacy | Emergency | Contact ASU

Permissions | Participation | Donate | Site map

Arizona State University | Tempe, AZ 85281

Contact Ask a Biologist