

Business and Finance

HOTLINE

for Ethics and Compliance

Audit

877-SUN-DEVL
877-786-3385

Services | Audit | ASU Hotline

ASU Hotline

The ASU Hotline is not a 911 or emergency service. If this is an Emergency call 911. If this is a mental health emergency, please call EMPACT at 480-921-1006

Do not use this site to report events presenting an immediate threat to life or property. Reports submitted through this service may not receive an immediate response.

The Hotline should not be used to report interpersonal disputes, departmental conflicts requiring resolution, or communication difficulties between employees and supervisors that do not pertain to allegations of criminal activity or violations of University policy. The Office of Human Resources, the Office of Equity and Inclusion, and the Employee Assistance Office are the best resources to address these types of concerns. Immediate threats to public safety should be reported to the ASU Police Department, not the Hotline.

The ASU Hotline and The Network are overseen by ASU Audit and Advisory Services.

President Crow on reporting inappropriate conduct

President Crow on campus safety

Do what is right | Report your concerns | Poster

Raising concerns about safety and/or non-compliance with laws, regulations, and policies applicable to ASU is a service to the university and to the community. ASU must comply with a wide variety of laws, regulations, and policies to protect everyone. The personal safety of our students, faculty, staff and guests is at the forefront of our effort to provide you with an independent outside resource where your concerns can be reported and acted on. In addition to your personal safety, areas of compliance include: financial transactions, contractual agreements, IT system and network security, NCAA rules, environmental health and safety, research administration, and equal opportunity. Our continuous goal is a safe and ethical learning environment. The following are some examples of actionable concerns:

- I'm concerned that someone is considering a violent act.
- I'm afraid someone may have a weapon on campus.
- I fear for my personal safety or the safety of someone else.
- I'm worried about a transaction or situation in my office.
- I know of, or I suspect, fraud or abuse.
- I suspect someone of computer hacking.
- I'm concerned my team is not compliant with NCAA rules.
- My classroom lab is unregistered or unsafe.
- I witnessed discrimination.
- I spoke up, nothing happened.

If you have exhausted your options for reporting your concerns to the appropriate ASU office or other established channels of communication, or the nature of your concerns are highly sensitive and best kept confidential, report your concerns while remaining anonymous and without fear of retaliation to the ASU Hotline.

Visit this page for additional emergency and safety resources and information.

ASU Business & Finance

Office of the Executive Vice President,
Treasurer and Chief Financial Officer

News

Page contact

Site map

ASU is #1 in the U.S. for Innovation

