\section*{Barrett Academic Course Requirements}

Honors students must maintain high standards of academic performance and show progress toward completion of graduation requirements in their disciplinary majors and in Barrett.

In order to graduate from Barrett, students must complete the following, which includes 36 credit hours of honors course work:
1. HON 171 The Human Event and HON 272 The Human Event must be completed in sequence during a student's first two semesters in the college.
2. Thirty additional credit hours of honors course work must be earned with a grade of " \(C\) " \((2.00)\) or higher. This may include HON prefix classes, honors sections of classes, honors enrichment contracts or any automatic honors courses.
3. Included in the 36 credit hours of honors course work are at least 18 hours of upper-division or graduate-level honors credits for an earned grade of " C " (2.00) or higher, including six credit hours of honors course work outside the academic major.
4. Those admitted as upper-division transfer students (students who, after high school, completed 48 university credits by the time of planned enrollment in Barrett) must complete the three-credit-hour course HON 370 History of Ideas and 18 credit hours of upper-division honors course work, six credits of which must be outside the academic major. Upper-division transfer students are required to complete 21 hours of upper-division honor course work.
5. Students are required to complete an honors thesis or creative project for at least three credit hours, though some units may allow students to complete six credit hours of thesis or creative project work. These credit hours may be included in the 18 required hours of upper-division, honors course work. The honors thesis or creative project is launched with a prospectus due one academic year before the defense. Prior to enrolling for credit for a thesis or creative project work, students must complete a required preparatory workshop or course. The final copy of the honors thesis or creative project must be filed by the posted deadline during the student's graduation semester.
6. ASU graduation requirements in an academic major must be met.
7. Students must maintain a cumulative ASU GPA of 3.25 or higher.

Barrett course requirements may be met in a variety of ways. Only courses in which a student receives a grade of " \(C\) " (2.00) or higher may be used to meet Barrett requirements.

Those entering the college as lower-division students may take as many as 18 lower-division honors credits, which include HON 171 The Human Event and HON 272 The Human Event, and at least 18 upper-division credits (total honors credits must be 36). HON 171 and HON 272 are transdisciplinary seminars that acquaint students with ideas that form the foundation of a university education and emphasize critical thinking, discussion and writing.

Those who enter as upper-division students must take 21 upper-division honors credits, including HON 370 History of Ideas taught by an Honors Faculty Fellow. Junior-level seminar courses introduce students to critical thinking, discussion and writing in a topical area chosen by the instructor. All students are expected to complete this course during the first semester upon transferring.

Departmental honors-only courses are limited to honors students. Enrollment in these courses is limited. Compared to their nonhonors equivalents, these courses are designed to offer a richer, more complex intellectual experience appropriate to the discipline and the level of the course for all students enrolled. Other disciplinary honors courses group honors students in small cohorts to work on research projects of common interest.

Honors enrichment contracts are available in many departmental courses, allowing honors students to contract with the instructor of designated nonhonors courses to earn honors credit by pursuing enrichment activities, which include supplemental sessions with the instructor. Honors enrichment contracts must be filed by the student during the first four weeks of class and completed during the semester in which the course is offered. The enrichment contract form offers guidelines to aid students and faculty in developing appropriate contracts.

Courses reserved for students in Barrett and that always count for honors credit are those listed in the online ASU Class Search/Course Catalog as course numbers 492 Honors Directed Study, 493 Honors Thesis, and 497 Honors Colloquium; all classes with the HON prefix; and those with a departmental prefix that carry the honors designation.

The departmental courses with the numbers 492 and 493 are reserved for honors students completing their honors thesis or creative project. A student may enroll for these courses only with approval from the sponsoring academic department and the faculty member who serves as the student's thesis or creative project director. Course numbers listed in the online ASU schedule of classes as 493 fulfill the student's upper-division literacy and critical inquiry (L) General Studies requirement.

Specific courses carry automatic honors credit. These include graduate level courses, 500 level and above, taught in an in-person format automatically earn honors credit.

Bachelor of Applied Science Catalog Year: 2016-2017 \\ Advising Appointments: (602) 543-4444

Students must complete all course work in the major with a grade of "C" \((2.00)\) or better.
This program allows students who have earned an AAS from an accredited institution to transfer \(\mathbf{6 0}\) credit hours toward a BAS at ASU. Students transferring from a regionally accredited Arizona public community college can transfer up to 15 additional credit hours of general studies courses ( 75 credit hours total). Students pursuing the \(\mathbf{7 5}\) credit option may have more than 45 credit hours to complete in order to obtain their Bachelor of Applied Science upon transfer to ASU. Students should work with their academic advisor to ensure their courses will meet degree requirements.

\section*{UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS}

GENERAL STUDIES ( 35 hours minimum): All students enrolled in a baccalaureate degree program must successfully complete minimum of 35 semester hours of approved General Studies courses. Many General Studies courses are approved as satisfying more than one requirement. The following conditions govern the application of courses toward General Studies requirements:
1. A single course may be used to satisfy one core area and a maximum of two awareness area requirements.
2. A single course may be used to satisfy a maximum of two awareness area requirements.
3. A single course cannot be used to satisfy two core area requirements, even if it is approved for more than one core area.

FIVE CORE AREAS (Literacy, Mathematical Studies, Humanities, Social-Behavioral Sciences, and Natural Sciences)
Literacy and Critical Inquiry (6 hours): Requires at least three hours of upper division

Mathematical Studies (6 hours): Requires one course from Mathematics (MA) category and one from Statistics, Quantitative Reasoning, or Computer Applications (CS) categories. The MA course must have a grade of "C" or better to meet the College's Mathematics Requirement.

Combined Humanities, Arts and Design (HU) and Social-Behavioral Sciences (SB) (15 hours): Must complete nine (9) hours in one core area, six (6) in the other; must include at least one upper division course. See catalog for details.

\end{tabular}

Natural Sciences (8 hours): Requires two natural science laboratory courses: Natural Science - Quantitative (SQ) or Natural Science - General (SG). Of these, at least four hours must be taken from the SQ category. See catalog for restrictions.

THREE AWARENESS AREAS (9 hours): Requires courses representing all 3 of the awareness areas: Cultural Diversity (C), Global Awareness (G), Historical Awareness (H).

FT Fast Track Options: Return to 4 Year Plan
A student must speak with an advisor in order to be added to a fast track plan.
In order to complete a fast track degree plan, you must take courses during the summer. This may impact your financial aid. Financial aid is available to those who apply and qualify, and students may receive funds to help cover costs for each semester of enrollment. The amount of financial aid that a student is eligible for varies depending on prior education experience and other individual factors. Learn more about summer financial aid and additional ways to cover summer costs.

- All students pursuing a B.S. or B.S.P. degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at https://clas.asu.edu/advising-and-academic-services/science-and-society. At least one of the two courses must be upper division. Students must earn a \(C\) or better in the courses, and no more than one of the two can also be used to simultaneously fill a requirement of the major, minor or related area. Science and Society courses cannot also be used to fill the general studies \(\mathrm{HU}, \mathrm{SB}, \mathrm{SQ}\) or SG requirements.
- The object of the degree is to prepare students to sit for the exams to gain certification as an actuary. One of the optional certifications that individuals may pursue is completion of the VEE requirements from Society of Actuaries or Casualty Actuarial Society. This certification requires additional experience not covered in the maximum allowed for the degree. However, students may decide to take these additional courses in their 15 hours of elective credit. ASU courses that meet VEE requirements include:
- ECN 211 and ECN 212 - sequence requirement for Economics
- FIN 300 - requirement for Corporate Finance (prerequisites: ACC 231 and ACC 241)
- ACT 435 - requirement for Applied Statistical Methods (Prerequisites: STP 420 and MAT 342 or MAT 343)

- All students pursuing a B.S. or B.S.P. degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at https://clas.asu.edu/advising-and-academic-services/science-and-society. At least one of the two courses must be upper division. Students must earn a C or better in the courses, and no more than one of the two can also be used to simultaneously fill a requirement of the major, minor or related area. Science and Society courses cannot also be used to fill the general studies HU, SB, SQ or SG requirements.

- An SAT, ACT, Accuplacer, IELTS, or TOEFL score determines placement into first-year composition courses
- ASU Mathematics Placement Test score determines placement in mathematics course
- ASU 101 or College-specific equivalent First Year Seminar required of all freshman students
- HST elective that also meets Historical Awareness (H) strongly recommended
- Some General Studies requirements can overlap with major courses, leaving more room for electives. Consult an academic advisor to select the best courses for your personal plan of study.

Upper Division Approved integrated study courses; determined by advisor.
- All students pursuing a B.S. or B.S.P. degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at https://clas.asu.edu/advising-and-academic-services/science-and-society. At least one of the two courses must be upper division. Students must earn a C or better in the courses, and no more than one of the two can also be used to simultaneously fill a requirement of the major, minor or related area. Science and Society courses cannot also be used to fill the general studies HU, SB, SQ or SG requirements.

- This degree program is intended for students who are already fairly competent in the language selected to study. The language selected by the student must be one offered by the School of International Letters and Cultures. Please see an academic advisor in SILC for approval of the language as well as the program of study which is tailored for individual students. Because of the nature of the degree program, students taking Romanian and Portuguese should be at least at the 313 level by the end of Term 1, and students taking Greek should be at least at the 301 level by the end of Term 1. Students in all other languages should be at the 201 level by the end of term 1.

- All students pursuing a B.S. or B.S.P. degree in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must complete two courses from the Science and Society list found at https://clas.asu.edu/advising-and-academic-services/science-and-society. At least one of the two courses must be upper division. Students must earn a \(C\) or better in the courses, and no more than one of the two can also be used to simultaneously fill a requirement of the major, minor or related area. Science and Society courses cannot also be used to fill the general studies HU, SB, SQ or SG requirements.

\section*{Notes:}
- Please keep in mind that the applicability of a specific transfer course toward an ASU degree program depends on the requirements of the department, division, college or school in which you are enrolled at ASU. Transfer agreements that guarantee the completion of university level requirements do not necessarily meet college and major requirements. Please consult with an advisor for more information.

\section*{Curriculum Check Sheet}

Note: ASU does not regard the AAS-to-BAS as a traditional transfer degree, so special provisions apply:
a) The AAS degree holder (the student) will be admitted only to the BAS program specified, e.g. health sciences. Only those students with a regionally accredited AAS from an approved (articulated) health/health technology program are eligible for this degree.
b) The institution from which the student received his/her AAS degree must be regionally accredited. A foreign institution must be approved and recognized as a postsecondary institution by the Ministry of Education or other governmental authorities.
c) All courses applied toward completion of the AAS must have been completed with a grade of "C" or higher. ASU will not accept courses with a grade of "D".
d) A block of up to 60 credit hours will be accepted for transfer with the completed AAS from an approved (articulated) health/health technology program. Students must confirm with the institution granting the AAS that it has an articulation agreement with ASU in place for the BAS in health science.
e) A minimum of 60 credit hours for the BAS degree must be completed at ASU. If the AAS degree is earned with fewer than 60 credit hours, the student must complete additional credit hours at ASU, so that the total credit hours of the AAS and BAS degrees are at least 120.
f) After admission to ASU, if a student wishes to transfer out of the BAS program into another program at ASU, the agreement to accept a block of up to 60 transfer credit hours from the AAS degree shall be void and no longer in effect. The student's transcript will be evaluated course-by-course and only transferrable courses will be accepted.

\section*{BAS Graduation Requirements Summary:}

This program allows students who have earned an Associate of Applied Science from a regionally accredited institution to transfer 60 or 75 credit hours toward a Bachelor of Applied Science at ASU. Students may opt to complete additional general studies coursework at a community college to be eligible to transfer up to 75 credits towards the BAS.Total hours: 120 minimumASU hours: 30 minimum4-year institution hours: 45-60 minimumUpper division hours: 45 minimum

\section*{AAS Requirements}

ASU does not regard the AAS-to-BAS as a traditional transfer degree, so special provisions apply:
1) The AAS degree holder (the student) will be admitted only to the BAS program specified. Only those students with a regionally accredited AAS from an approved health-related program are eligible for this degree.
2) The institution from which the student received an AAS degree must be regionally accredited. A foreign institution must be approved and recognized as a post-secondary institution by the Ministry of Education or other governmental authorities.
3) All courses applied toward completion of the AAS must have been completed with a grade of \(C\) or higher. ASU will not accept courses with a grade of D.
4) This program allows students who have earned an Associate of Applied Science from institution to transfer 60 or 75 credit hours toward a Bachelor of Applied Science at ASU. Students transferring from a regionally accredited Arizona public community college can transfer up to 15 additional credit hours of general studies courses ( 75 credit hours total). Students pursuing the 75 credit option may have more than 45 credit hours to complete their BAS upon transfer to ASU. Students should work with their academic advisor to ensure their courses will meet degree requirements.
5) If the AAS degree is earned with fewer than 60 credit hours, the student must complete additional credit hours at ASU, so that the total credit hours of the AAS and BAS degrees are at least 120.
6) After admission to ASU, if a student wishes to transfer out of the BAS program into another program at ASU, the agreement to accept a block of up to 60 transfer credit hours from the AAS degree shall be void and no longer in effect. The student's transcript will be evaluated course-by-course and only transferrable courses will be accepted.
7) To be eligible for the 60/60 degree completion pathway for AAS to BAS, the AAS degree program must include following general studies requirements completed with a C or better:
- First Year Composition (6 hours)
- Humanities (3 hours)
- \(\quad\) Social & Behavioral Sciences (3 hours)
- Natural Sciences (4 hours)

All courses used for General Studies within the AAS must satisfy AGEC (Arizona General Education Curriculum) criteria (or an equivalent articulated general studies transfer pattern) with the exception of mathematics.

- BS Students must select one of the following challenge area tracks:
Energy, Materials, and Technology (SOS 324)
Economics of Sustainability (SOS 325)
Sustainable Ecosystems (SOS 326)
- Students must declare a track by the end of Term 4
- Students must complete the required track course for their chosen track no later than Term 5
- Students must also complete any additional three track courses for a total of 12 credit hours of track courses by the end of Term 5. Select from SOS 320, SOS 321, SOS 322, SOS 323, SOS 324, SOS 325, SOS 326, SOS 327, SOS 328, or SOS 465.
- Students must complete two track elective courses from their chosen track. At least on track elective must be upper division.

Example: If the Economics of Sustainability Track is chosen, students must complete SOS 325 and any three additional track courses by the end of Term 5 .
