Curriculum and Academic Programs Committee (CAPC)

Curriculum ChangeMaker provides a method of electronically submitting and routing curricular proposals. Using this system, faculty, staff, and administrators at Arizona State University can create, route, evaluate, and approve new courses, course modifications and deletions, course fees, and topics within ASU. The system also provides a way to track where a proposal is in the approval process and to access proposals from any ASU unit. If you are unfamiliar with Curriculum ChangeMaker, watch this overview video of the system.
