Equity & Inclusion

ASU promotes equal opportunity through affirmative action in employment and educational programs and activities. Discrimination is prohibited on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, citizenship, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability and qualified veteran status.

Equal employment opportunity includes, but is not limited to, recruitment, hiring, promotion, termination, compensation, benefits, transfers, university-sponsored training, education, tuition assistance, and social and recreational programs.

ASU's Office of Equity & Inclusion supports and fosters a culture of inclusiveness. We promote and assist with equal opportunity and diversity initiatives. We also provide university leadership and hiring officials with clear and accessible employment data, timely and effective consultation, high-impact training, and rigorous review of employment-related policies and procedures. For more information, visit ACD 401: Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation.

Affirmative Action

Office staff

Arizona State University is committed to providing equal opportunity through affirmative action. The university provides equal opportunity without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, citizenship, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, age, disability and veteran status. Affirmative Action is directed toward women, minority persons, veterans and persons with disabilities.

ASU has an active Affirmative Action Plan (AAP) for veterans and individuals with disabilities. The AAP is available upon request to all applicants and employees.
