

E2 Camp

E2 engages first-year students in the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering in activities that introduce them to ASU and Fulton Schools culture.

The goals of E2 are:

- To identify as a part of the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering community.
- To build a sense of camaraderie among students.
- To provide opportunities for students to practice teamwork skills and introduce them to a culture of teamwork.
- To cultivate leadership within current students.

Your involvement in E2 is an exciting way to jump-start your success in the Ira A. Fulton Schools of Engineering. You will meet other students, faculty, and staff and learn skills that are important to your success as a Fulton student through a variety of fun and interactive activities. Upperclassmen, faculty, and staff serve as resources to students during E2.

Registration is OPEN!
