

Learn English

at Arizona State University

International students choose to study English for many reasons — some want to advance their careers, others seek to enroll in a university degree program, and many just want to experience life in America. We believe the program you choose should have a community that gives you the support you need and the opportunities that will help you achieve your goals. Global Launch at ASU offers all that and more.

Academic preparation services

Global Launch at Arizona State University offers more than just English. Through innovative programs, you will gain confidence to communicate in social, business and academic settings, conduct top-quality research, and use world-class technologies to reach your academic or career goals.

Programs and services

Intensive English Program (IEP)

Intensive English language program for any learner at any age to improve or become fluent in the English language. Offers TOEFL waiver for “conditionally admitted”, university-bound students.

Customized IEP

Provides the benefits of the intensive English language program with additional customized activities and curriculum to meet partner needs.

ASU-USA Pathways

For international students who want to begin their ASU undergraduate degree while receiving English-language support. Offered for business, arts and sciences degree-seeking students.

Study in America (ASU credit + English)

Provides non-degree seeking IEP students the opportunity to take ASU courses while studying English at Global Launch.

International Graduate Preparation Program - Business (IGP)

Applicants to ASU who meet the academic requirements for graduate degree programs in business but do not meet the English proficiency level may enroll in the IGP instead of taking the TOEFL or IELTS exams.

Specialized group programs

English language programs or services developed in partnership with subject area experts and partners. Includes digital and/or in-person platforms to enhance learning in any industry or field of study.

Digital English courses

Online English language learning products ranging from basic to advanced proficiency. Courses include business English, test preparation, university preparation, and general English language learning.

Teacher training

Provides digital and/or in-person training and certification in teaching English as a second language (TESOL).
