International Accelerated Degree Programs

What is IADP?
Arizona State University works with leading international partner universities to offer International Accelerated Degree Programs. These exciting programs allow motivated students to earn undergraduate degrees from their home universities and complete one-year master’s degrees at ASU.

The 3+1+1 format
The most common format of IADP is 3+1+1. Students complete the first three years of an undergraduate program at their home universities, take advanced courses at ASU in the fourth year of study and remain at ASU for a fifth year to complete their master’s degrees. The GRE and GMAT are waived for all participants in this program.

Student eligibility
Students must meet the requirements of their home university and ASU. To qualify, students need proof that they’ve taken the required courses, a minimum GPA of 3.00 (4.00 = “A”), a qualifying English proficiency test score and financial guarantee (required for SEVIS I-20).

Learn more
Please go to graduate.asu.edu/iadp to read the complete list of programs and formats offered as well as the requirements and online application.

Earn your master’s degree at Arizona State University

Dates to remember
October 1: IADP application available online
March 1: Priority application due, be sure to submit:
1) a copy of passport photopage
2) a financial guarantee form
3) transcripts in the original language accompanied by an official English translation (minimum of five semesters of coursework)
May 1: Last day to submit English proficiency score

ASU Arizona State University

#1 in the U.S. for innovation
ASU ahead of Stanford and MIT

US News

2019